PREFACE.

Believing the Masonic Fraternity have long wanted, and would liberally patronize, a complete and practical collection of Music for the various public and private Ceremonies and Festivals of the Order, the compiler of the following pages has been for several years collecting material for such a work, and now presents, as the result of his labors, The Masonic Harp, in the hope that it will be found adapted to the purpose. That the work is faultless, he does not for a moment suppose, but that it is many steps in advance of any heretofore published for the purpose, he fully believes. His desire has been to furnish a complete collection of appropriate Odes, Hymns, &c., for all ordinary Masonic Occasions, and if he has failed in his effort, he will still have the satisfaction of knowing that "it was in his heart" to present a good work.

With very few exceptions, the tunes in the Harp are those which have become established favorites, and are widely known and admired. It was for this reason they were selected. In arranging them for Masonic use, much care has been taken to give the Melody and Bass as they are most universally known, and with this view, not one note of either has been knowingly changed.

Believing that the Craft stood in need of a much larger variety of Odes and Hymns of a devotional character, the compiler has "adapted" more than one hundred such, from various authors, and hopes they will prove acceptable.

The insertion of a complete "Masonic Burial Service," and also a "Burial Service for the Orders of Knighthood," will be found not only convenient for such occasions, but will add much to the interest and general effect of such services.

Many of the Hymns and Odes marked "Opening" will answer equally as well for "Closing," and vice versa; and many of those marked for a particular degree, are nearly or quite as appropriate for some other degrees. The Chorister (and every Masonic Body should have one) will take this fact into consideration when making his selections.

Most of the Tunes have several sets of verses appropriate for them, upon the same and facing pages, which will ordinarily afford a sufficient variety for the various occasions; but, if necessary, the use of two books by each singer, (as in Church Choirs,) will add a ten or even twenty fold greater range for selection, and must prove amply sufficient for all practical purposes.

The Compiler acknowledges his great obligations to Mr. Samuel M. Downs, of this place, for his assistance in arranging Music for The Harp, and for his original compositions, which give additional value to the work; and also to Bros. Rob. Morris, J. B. Taylor, Cornelius Moore, and others, for their kind permission to use many of their excellent compositions.

With the hope that the use of the Hymns and Odes contained in it, will add to the interest and effect of the beautiful ceremonies of the Fraternity, and meet their approval, The Masonic Harp is now presented.

INDEX OF FIRST LINES.

Accept, Great Builder of the skies 10	Brothers, sing with voice united 105
Adieu, a heart-warm, fond adieu 102	Brother, thou art gone to rest 72
Advance, each new brother 108	Brother, rest from sin and sorrow 89
Ah! when shall we three meet like them 17	By Babel's streams we sit and weep 36
Almighty Father! heavenly king. 23, 45, 10	Cease, ye mourners, cease to languish 66, 71
Almighty Father! God of love 19
Almighty Father! gracious Lord 32	Christian warriors, to the pealing 160 Clime! beneath whose genial sun 91
Almighty ruler of the skies
All hail! the great mysterious Art 37	Come, all ye gentle springs that move 16, 24
All hail! the great Immanuel's name 40	Come, brothers, ere to-night we part. 10, 12
All hail! blest Craft 125	Come, brothers of the plumb and31, 45
All hail to the morning 80, 82, 84	Come, brothers accepted, come join 86
All hail the twenty-fourth of June 47	Come, brethren of the craft
All men are equal in their birth 41	Come, craftsmen, assembled 83, 87
Another six days work is done 10	Come, let us join in cheerful song 44
Another hand is beekoning us 37	Come, Masters of the Art, unite 35
Angels! roll the rock away	Come, and with generous skill77, 79
An hour with you	Come, thou incarnate Word 77
A place in the circle for me 125	Come, thou Almighty King 78
Arise, and blow thy trumpet, fame 56	Come, let us have (Catch) 101
As, bowed by sudden storms 144	Come, let us prepare 122
As from this place we go24, 29	Come, sing this round 131
As distant lands beyond the sea 37	Come, sound his praise abroad 50
As morning breeze in balmy spring 49	Companion, thou hast gone 144
Assembled in this place once more 20	Companions, we have met
Away from every worldly care 17	Convened we're met 57
Be thou exalted, O our God 9	Dangers of every form11, 14, 16, 21
Be thou, O God, exalted high 10	Death, like an overflowing stream 25
Behold! how pleasant and how good. 33, 42	Divine Urania, virgin pure! 57
	E'er this vast world was made 75
Behold! in the East our new Master 85, 88
Bear him home, his bed is made 91
Bless, O my soul, the living God 9
Blest is the man whose tender care 22
Blest is the man who stands in awe 24	Far from the world's cold strife12, 15, 16 Father, we come with filial fear 20
Blest is the man whose generous heart. 39
Blest are the sons of peace
Blest be the tie that binds
Blest is the hour when eares depart 92
Brothers with placeure let us next	Father of the human race
Brothers, with pleasure let us part 14
Brothers, ere to-night we part 62
Brothers, faithful and deserving 67	Few are thy days, and full of woe37, 43 For a season called to part
Brothers, as we part this night 72	101 11001110111111111111111111111111111
Brothers, we meet again 100	Friends, the parting hour has come 90

INDEX OF FIRST LINES.

	How precious is the book divine35, 40
From East to West, o'er land and sea. 9, 25	How glorious is the gift of faith 37
From North to South, from East to West 15	How sweet, how heavenly is the sight. 47
From busy scenes we now retreat 17	How charming is this place 54
From all that dwell below the skies 17	How great is the pleasure 136
Full and Harmonious	How sweet, how calm this Sabbath 33, 35
Gently, Lord, oh! gently lead us 66	How pleasant tis to see
	How sweet, when shades of even96, 99
Genius of Masonry, descend	Holy and reverend is thy Name 41
Give thanks to God most high 59
Glad hearts to thee we bring 74	Troil of the same of the same
Glory to God on high	Holy Lord, lend now thine ear 64
God of our fathers! by whose hand 32	Humbly at thine altar kneeling 71
God of our fathers! hear 74	If misfortune should o'ertake us 69
God bless the worthy band 75	I'm very fond of a social song 137
God bless our native land 79	In hist'ry we're told 110
Good night, good night, and peace 101	In pensive mood, at close of day 29
Good night, now to all 128	I sing the Mason's glory 106
Grant us, kind Heaven, what we request 22	Jehovah, God! thy gracious power38, 41
Grant us, great God, thy powerful aid 18	Joy to the world, the Lord is come 38
Great God of nations, now to thee 9	Joy! the Sacred Law is found 62
Great Architect of heaven, &c10, 31, 33	Joyous, now each heart's emotion 109
	Kind Father! God of love and power 29
Great Architect, supreme, divine 144
Great Lord of earth, and seas, and skies 11
Great God, we sing thy mighty hand 15	Let us remember in our youth 15
Great God, to thee our closing song 15	Let Masons ever live in love 19
Great God, when from these scenes	Let there be Light! the first command. 24
Great God, behold before thy throne 29	Let God, the Father and the Son32, 42
Great God, wilt thou meet with us here. 17	Let Masonry from pole to pole45, 48
Great God, our King, to thee we raise 36	Let songs of endless praise
Great God, impart thy power 53	Let every creature join 59
Great source of light and love51, 54	Let there be Light-Th'Almighty spoke 73
Guide me, O thou great Jehovah 68	Let Masons' fame resound 75
Hail! Masonry, thou craft divine. 11, 13, 27	Let there be Light, said God 77
Hail, sacred Art! by Heaven designed. 23	Let the moral of Masonry 141
Hail Masonry! thou sacred Art 33	Life is a span - a fleeting hour 43
Hail, Mystic Light! whose holy flame. 57	Lo! what an entertaining sight32, 33, 35
	Lo! the day of rest declineth 68, 69, 71
Hail, Masonry divine
Hail, brother Masons, hail	Lord, keep us safe this night53, 54
Hail! hail, Royal Art 114	Lord, at this closing hour 53
Hail! triumphant Masoury 116	Lord of glory! king of power 60
Hail! hail the mystic tie 115	Lord, to thee our souls would raise 61
Hail, Columbia, happy land 115	Lord! subdue our selfish will 61
	Lord, before thy throne we bend 61
Hail, to the day! when assembled 124	Lord, we come before thee now 62
Hail! ye Craftsmen! join 127	Lord, what offering shall we bring 63
Hark! the Hiram sounds 131	Lord, may angels watch above us 66
Happy to meet, dear Brother 138	Mark Masters all appear 74
Help us to praise thee, Lord of light 11	Master Supreme! accept our praise15, 23
Here, gracious God, beneath thy feet 29	May our united hearts expand 32
Here, gracious God, behold a few 18	May the grace of gnardian angels 67
	Met again, met again 97
Here let the sacred rites descend 24
Hear my prayer, Jehovah, hear 61
Here all worldly cares forgetting 67	Meek and lowly, pure and holy104, 67
Here's a health for lads and lasses 121	My God, my King! thy wondrous praise 20
Here's a health to all good lasses 121	My soul, repeat his praise 51
Here's columns II and pillars V 143	Now let my soul, eternal King 11
Hear, Father! hear our prayer 133	Now we must close our labors here 31, 34, 43
Heavenly parent! ere we part 62	Now, brothers, we must part51, 52, 54
Heavenly Father! deign to bless us69, 71	Now, in gratitude abounding 66
High twelve has come! 119	Now we part! what sad emotion 67
How blest the sacred tie9, 15, 25	Now, while evening shades are failing 70

Now our festive joys are ending 71	Teach me the measure of my days 37
Now must close this friendly meeting 93	The peace which God alone reveals
Now we are met 136	The heavens declare thy glory, Lord 12
Non nobis Domine 103	The Groves were God's first temples 25
Offspring of Heaven! mankind's best 22	The rising God forsakes the tomb 25
Oh Charity! thou heavenly grace 39	The Lord unto thy prayer attend 37
Oh come, come away	The laws of Christian light 77
Oh God, we lift our hearts to thee 47	The wise men were but seven 136
Oh God, thy love we praise 58	The sacred spot to Masons dear 139
	There's a vision, once seen
Oh, influence sweet, from spheres above 35
O Lord, behold, before thy thronc14, 18	There is an hour of peaceful rest 92
O sing unto the Lord (Chant) 132	Think gently of the erring one 130
O say can you see 134	This is the day the Lord hath made 34
Oh! think not that life 87	This world is not so bad a world 45
O Thou! at whose great Name we bend 25	This world is poor from shore to shore 92
O Thou, who seest the sparrow's fall 25	Though Faith may feebly guide thee 130
O welcome, brother, to our band31, 35	Thou, whose Almighty word 76
Oh what a goodly heritage 47	Thou, who art God alone 75
Old friends shall never be forgot 31	Thou, from whom we never part 65
On thy bosom, mighty Lord 144	Through endless years, thou art the 41
Once more, O Lord, let grateful praise 11, 12	Thy name, Almighty Lord 50, 53, 54
Once more, before we part 52	Thus far the Lord has led me on11, 16
Of your hearts to take care 123	Tis Masonry unites mankind 18
Our life, how short, a groan, a sigh 21	To the Knight Templar's awful dome. 23
Our Order, like the Ark of yore 29	To Thee, O God, to Thee we bring 18
Onr Father, who in heaven art 32	To thy shrine, departed Lord 144
Our Father, who art in heaven 133	To Heaven's high Architect, all praise. 34
	To thee we look, thou Power supreme 35
Our social labors now we close 98
Parent of all, Omnipotent34, 42	To Him who rules, be homage paid 36
Part in peace! is day before us 68	To God, the Father, Son
Part in peace, with deep thanksgiving. 68	To Him who rules on high
Pour out thy spirit from on high14, 16	Unveil thy bosom, faithful tomb13, 21
Praise to God, immortal praise 62	Unto thee, Great God, belong61, 63
Praise ye Jehovah's name 77	We offer, Lord, an humble prayer 25
Praise the Grand Master 107	We meet in love, we part in peace31, 45
Precious in the sight of Heaven 154	We have met in peace together 89
Protected by Masonic power 55	We meet upon the level 140
Rest, holy pilgrim, rest I pray 19	What joy, when brethren dwell 13
Round the spot - Moriah's hill 144	When we, our wearied limbs to rest 21
Saviour, when in dust to thec 65	When earth's foundation first was laid 26
See from the Orient rise 79	When orient wisdom beamed serene 39
Should the chances of life 87	When darkness veiled the hopes of man 57
Should and acquaintance 30	When the morning paints the skies 61
Sing hallelujah to the Lord 92	When shall we three meet again 63
Slowly, in sadness and in tears 43	When the light of day is winging 71
Solemn strikes the fun'ral chime 60	When our last labor's o'er
Softly now the light of day63, 64	When from chaotic sleep 76
Softly fades the twilight ray	When the sun from the East 83
Softly, sadly bear him forth 155	When quite a young spark
	Where'er in this wide world we rove 28
Soon we part; the word once spoken 66
Soon we part; let kind affection 69	Whilst science yields a thousand lights 33
Spirit of peace, all meek and mild 22	While my Pedermer's peer 41
Spirit of power and might behold34, 42	While my Redeemer's near 53
Spirit of truth and love 79	Who wears the Square upon the breast 143
Strange darkness gathers round the soul 21	With all my powers of heart and13, 19 Within our Temple met again33, 39, 41, 43
Supreme Grand Master, most sublime . 20	Within our Temple met again . 33, 39, 41, 43
Supreme Grand Master! God of Power 22	Why do we mourn departing friends. 43
Suppliant, lo. we humbly bend60, 64	Wreathe the mourning badge around. 143
Sweet is the memory of the night 19	Ye happy few, who here extend 13, 23
Sweet is the dew on herb and flower 35	Ye gracious powers of choral song 13
Teach us. O Lord, our days to shun 17	Ye boundless realms of joy 59

MASONIC HARP.

2 Opening Encampment.

- 1 The peace which God alone reveals, And by his word of grace imparts, Which only the believer feels, Direct, and keep, and cheer our hearts.
- 2 And may the holy Three in One, The Father, Word, and Comforter, Pour an abundant blessing down On every soul assembled here.

3 Opening.

- 1 How blest the sacred tic, that binds In sweet communion kindred minds! How swift the heavenly course they run, Whose hearts, whose faith, whose hopes are one!
- 2 Together oft they seek the place Where Friendship smiles on every face; How high, how strong their raptures swell, There's none but kindred sonls can tell.
- 3 Nor shall the glowing flame expire, When dimly burns frail nature's fire; Then shall they meet in realms above—A heaven of joy, a heaven of love.

l Opening.

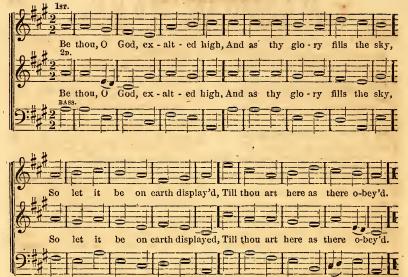

- 1 Bless, O my soul, the living God,
 Call home thy thoughts that rove abroad;
 Let all the powers within me join,
 In work and worship so divine.
- 2 Eternal are thy mercies, Lord; Eternal truth attends thy word; Thy praise shall sound from shore to shore, Till suns shall rise and set no more.

Opening.

- 1 From east to west, o'er land and sea, Where brothers meet, and friends agree, Let incense rise from hearts sincere, The dearest offering gathered here.
- 2 Our trust reposed in God alone, Who ne'er will contrite hearts disown; Our faith shall mark that holy light, Whose beams our dearest joys unite.

6 Opening.

Be thou exalted, O our God, Above the heavens, where angels dwell; Thy power on earth be known abroad, And land to land thy wonders tell.

8 Mark Master. Work.

- 1 Another six days work is done; Another Sabbath is begun; Return, my soul! enjoy thy rest! Improve the day thy God hath blessed.
- 2 In holy duties let the day— In holy pleasures pass away! How sweet a Sabbath thus to spend, In hope of one that ne'er shall end!

9 Closing Hymn.

- 1 Come, brothers, ere to-night we part, Join every voice and every heart; One solemn hymn to God we'll raise, One closing song of grateful praise.
- 2 Here, brothers, we may meet no more, But there is yet a happier shore; And there, released from toil and pain, Dear brothers, we shall meet again.

10 Mark Master. Closing.

- 1 Accept, Great Builder of the skies, Our heart-felt acts of sacrifice! Each brother found a living stone, While bending low before Thy throne.
- 2 While Craftsmen true their work prepare, With thoughts unstained, and holy care, May each be fitly formed, and placed Where LOVE DIVINE his hopes had traced.

11 Dedication Ode.*

- 1 Great Architect of heaven and earth, To whom all nature owes its birth; Thou spoke! and vast creation stood, Surveyed the work—pronounced it good.
- 2 Lord, can'st thou deign to own and bless
 This humble dome, this sacred place?
 Oh! let thy spirit's presence shine
 Within these walls—this house of thine.
- 3 'Twas reared in honor of thy name; Here kindle, Lord, the sacred flame: Oh! make it burn in every heart, And never from this place depart.
- 4 Lord, here the wants of all supply, And fit our souls to dwell on high; From service in this humble place, Raise us to praise thee face to face.

12 Royal Arch. Closing.

- 1 Almighty Father! heavenly King, Before whose Sacred Name we bend, Accept the praises which we sing, And to our humble prayer attend
- 2 Grant us, great God! thy powerful aid To guide us through this vale of tears; Oh let thy goodness be displayed, To soothe the mind, and calm our fears.
 - * Suitable also for opening or closing a Lodge

13 Initiation, or Raising.

- 1 Dangers of every form attend Your steps, as onward you proceed; No earthly power can now befriend, Or aid you in this time of need.
- 2 Confide your trust in him alone, Who rules all things above, below; Send your petitions to his throne, For he alone can help you now.

14 Dedication Masonic Hall.

1 Genius of Masonry, descend, And with thee bring thy spotless train; Constant our sacred rites attend, While we adore thy peaceful reign.

(Dedication to Freemasonry.)

2 Bring with thee Virtue, brightest maid;
 Bring Love, bring Truth, and Friendship here,
 3 Come, Brethren cheerful, join with me, To sing the praise of Masony.

While kind Relief will lend her aid, To smooth the wrinkled brow of care.

(Dedication to Virtue.)

3 Come Charity, with goodness crowned, Encircled in thy heavenly robe; Diffuse thy blessings all around, To every corner of the globe.

(Dedication to Universal Benevolence.)

4 To Heaven's high Architect all praise, All praise, all gratitude be given, Who deigned the human soul to raise, By mystic secrets sprung from heaven.

15 Closing Hymn.

- 1 Once more, O Lord, let grateful praise, From every heart to thee ascend; Thou art the guardian of our days, Our first, our best, and changeless friend.
- Hear, now, our parting hymn of praise, And bind our hearts in love divine;
 may we walk in wisdom's ways, And ever feel that we are thine.

16 Opening, or Closing.

- 1 Great Lord of earth, and seas, and skies! Thy wealth the needed world supplies; And safe beneath thy guardian arm, We live secured from every harm.
- 2 To thee we cheerful homage bring; In grateful hymns thy praises sing; On thee we ever will depend, Thou art our sure, our faithful friend.

17 Opening.

1 Help us to praise thee, Lord of light, Help us thy boundless love declare; And while we look to thee this night, Aid us, and hearken to our prayer.

2 Thy light upon our evening pour; Oh! may our souls no sunset see; But death to us an open door Of an eternal morning be.

18 Anniversary Ode.

1 Hail! Masonry, thou craft divine! Come, Brethren, let us cheerful join, To celebrate this happy day, And homage to our Master pay.

2 Next sing, my muse, our Warden's praise, With chorus loud, in tuneful lays; Oh! may these columns ne'er decay, Until the world dissolves away.

3 Come, Brethren cheerful, join with me, To sing the praise of Masonry; The noble, faithful, and the brave, Whose Art shall live beyond the grave.

19 Initiation, or Crafting.

1 Thus far the Lord has led me on; Thus far his power prolongs my days; And every evening shall make known Some fresh memorial of his grace.

2 Oh! may his love, with sweef control, Bind every passion of my soul; Bid every vain desire depart, And dwell forever in my heart.

20 Opening, or Closing.

1 Now let my soul, eternal King, To thee its grateful tribute bring; My knee with humble homage bow, My tongue perform its solemn vow.

2 Oh let my heart, oh let my song, Through endless years thy praise prolong; Let distant climes thy name adore, Till time and nature are no more.

21 Installation, or Dedication.

1 Almighty Ruler of the skies, Through all the earth thy name is spread, And thine eternal glories rise -Above the heavens thy hands have made.

2 To thee the voices of the young Their grateful notes of honor raise; And babes, with uninstructed tongue, Declare the wonders of thy praise.

3 Eternal God! celestial King!
Exalted be thy glorious name;
Let hosts in heaven thy praises sing,
And all on-earth thy love proclaim.

Initiation.

- 1 Far from the world's cold strife and pride, 1 Eternal source of every joy! Come join our peaceful, happy band; Come, stranger, we your feet will guide, Where truth and love shall hold command.
- 2 Although in untried paths you tread, And filled, perhaps, with anxious fear; A brother's faithful hand shall lead Where doubt and darkness disappear.
- 3 Here may you in our labors join, And prove yourself a brother true; All sordid, selfish cares resign, And keep our sacred truths in view.

24 Closing.

- 1 Come, brothers, ere to-night we part, Join every voice and every heart; One solemn hymn to God we'll raise, One closing song of grateful praise.
- 2 Here, brothers, we may meet no more, But there is yet a happier shore; And there, released from toil and pain, Dear brothers, we shall meet again.

· Opening.

- Well may thy praise our lips employ, While in thy temple we appear, Whose goodness crowns the circling year.
- 2 Wide as the wheels of nature roll, Thy hand supports and guides the whole! The sun is taught by thee to rise, And darkness when to veil the skies.
- 3 Seasons, and months, and weeks, and days, Demand successive songs of praise; And be the grateful homage paid, With morning light and evening shade.

26

Closing.

- 1 Once more, O Lord, let grateful praise, In songs of joy to thee ascend; Thon art the guardian of our days, Our first, our best and changeless friend.
- 2 Hear, now, our parting hymn of praise, And bind our hearts in love divine; O, may we walk in wlsdom's ways, And ever feel that we are thine.

27 Installation, or Dedication.

- 1 Ye happy few, who here extend In perfect lines, from east to west, With fervent zeal the Lodge defend, And lock its secrets in each breast.
- 2 Since ye are met upon the square,
 Bid love and friendship jointly reign;
 Be peace and harmony your care,
 Nor break the adamantine chain.
- 3 Behold the planets, how they move, Yet keep due order as they run; Then imitate the stars above, And shine resplendent as the sun.
- 4 Then let us celebrate the praise
 Of all who have enriched the art;
 Let gratitude our voices raise,
 And each true brother bear a part.

28

Opening.

- 1 Genius of Masonry descend, In mystic numbers while we sing; Enlarge our souls, the craft defend, And hither all thy influence bring.
- 2 Oh may our voice to Friendship move; Be Virtue ours in all its parts; Let Justice, Harmony, and Love, Come and possess our faithful hearts.

29 Anniversary.

- 1 Ye gracious powers of choral song, Attend; inspire your festive throng; Let harmless mirth, and frolic glee, Dance sportive at our jubilee.
- 2 We ask no sound of spear or shield, No trophies of the ensanguined field; Let Hope, let Faith, and Charity, Begin and end our jubilee.
- 3 Then call from east to west the world, The mystic banners are unfurled! And oh! departed ancients, see From heaven, and bless our jubilee!
- 4 Bc this the general, cordial toast, A'wish that never should be lost, That all the world may Masons be, And live and love in jubilce.

30 Opening.

With all my powers of heart and tongue, I'll praise my Maker in my song; Angels shall hear the notes I raise, Approve the song, and join the praise.

31 Opening.

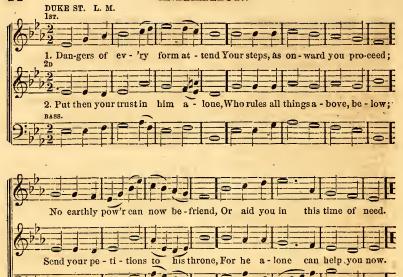

- 1 What joy, when brethren dwell combined, Inspiring unity of mind; 'Tis like the sacred unction shed, On Aaron's venerable head; When bathed in fragrance, doth respire His rev'rend beard and rich attire.
- 2 Like dews, which, trickling from the sky, In pearly drops on Hermon lie; Or balmy vapors, which distill On Zion's consecrated hill; For there the Lord his blessing placed, And these with life eternal graced.

32 Fellow Craft.

- 1 Hail, Masonry, thou Craft divine! Glory of earth, from heaven revealed; Which doth with jewels precious shine, From all but Masons' eyes concealed.
- 2 From scorching heat, from piercing cold, From beasts whose roar the forest rends, From the assaults of warriors bold, The Mason's art mankind defends.
- 3 Sweet fellowship, from envy free, Friendly converse of brotherhood, The Lodge's lasting cement be, Which has for ages firmly stood.

33 Funeral Hymn.

- 1 Unveil thy bosom, faithful tomb,
 Take this new treasure to thy trust,
 And give these sacred relics room
 To slumber in the silent dust.
- 2 Nor pain, nor grief, nor anxious fear, Invade thy bounds; no mortal woes Can reach the silent sleepers here, And Angels watch their soft repose.
- 3 So Jesus slept; God's dying Son, Passed through the grave, and blest the bed;
 - Rest here, dear Saint, 'till from his throne The morning break, and pierce the shade.
- 4 Break from thy throne, illustrious Morn; Attend, O Earth, his sovereign word; Restore thy trust, a glorious form; Let him ascend to meet his Lord.

35 Dedication, or Opening.

- 1 Pour out thy Spirit from on high; Lord! thine assembled servants bless; Graces and gifts to each supply, And clothe us with thy rightconsness.
- 2 Within this temple, where we stand To teach the truth as taught by Thee, In favor bless this chosen band, With Wisdom, Strength, and Unity.
- Fervor and Zeal, freely impart; Firmness, with meekness from above, That each may with a faithful heart, Here labor for the cause of Love.
- 4 And when our work is finished here, May we in Hope our charge resign: When thou, Grand Master, shalt appear, May we and all mankind be thine.

36 Opening, or Initiation.

1 Lord, while we here our work prepare, With thoughts unstained, and holy care, May each be fitly formed, and placed Where Love Divine his hopes had traced.

37

Closing.

- 1 Brothers, with pleasure let us part, Since we are of one mind and heart; No length of days, or distant place, Can ever break these bands of grace.
- 2 Parting with joy, we'll join and sing The wonders of our Lord and King; Our bodies distant may remove, But nothing shall divide our love.
- 3 A few more rolling days and years, Shall end our labors, toils, and fears; We soon shall reach that blissful shore, Where parting shall be known no more.

38 Opening.

- 1 O Lord, behold before thy throne, A band of brothers lowly bend; Thy face we seek, thy Name we own, And pray that thou wilt be our friend.
- 2 Grant us, we pray, a willing mind,
 To learn what thon would'st have us do,
 And how we may thy favor find,
 And love and serve each other too.

39 Opening, or Consecration.

- 1 How blest the sacred tie, that binds In sweet communion kindred minds! How swift the heavenly course they run, Whose hearts, whose faith, whose hopes are one.
- 2 Together oft they seek the place Where Masons meet with smiling face; How high, how strong their raptures swell, There's none but kindred souls can tell.
- 3 Nor shall the glowing flame expire, When dimly burns frail nature's fire; Then shall they meet in realms above, A heaven of joy, a heaven of love.

40 Closing.

- 1 Great God, we sing thy mighty hand; By that supported still we stand: The opening day thy mercy shows; Let mercy crown it till it close.
- 2 When death shall close our earthly songs, And seal in silence mortal tongues, Oh thou, in whom we put our trust, Receive us to thyself at last.

41 Initiation, or Raising.

- 1 Let us remember, in our youth, Before the evil days draw nigh, Our Great Creator and his Truth! Ere memory fail, and pleasure fly; Or sun, or moon, or planet's light Grow dark, or clouds return in gloom; Ere vital spark no more incite, When strength shall bow, and years consume.
- 2 Let us in youth remember Him!
 Who formed our frame, and spirits gave,
 Ere windows of the mind grow dim,
 Or door of speech obstructed wave;
 When voice of bird fresh terrors wake,
 And music's daughters charm no more,
 Or fear to rise, with trembling shake,
 Along the path we travel o'er.
- 3 In youth, to God let memory cling,
 Before desire shall fail, or wane,
 Or e'er be loosed life's silver string,
 Or bowl at fountain rent in twain;
 For man to his long home doth go,
 And mourners group around his urn;
 Our dust to dust again must flow,
 And spirits unto God return.

42 Hymn for Opening.

- 1 Master Supreme! accept our praise; Still bless this consecrated band; Parent of Light! illume our ways, And guide us by thy sovereign hand.
- 2 May Faith, Hope, Charity, divine, Here hold their undivided reign; Friendship and Harmony combine -To soothe our cares, to banish pain.
- 3 May Pity dwell within each breast, Relief attend the suffering poor; Thousands by this, our Lodge, be blest, Till worth, distress'd, shall want no more.

43 Initiation.

- 1 Far from the world's cold strife and pride, Come join our peaceful, happy band; Come, stranger, we your feet will guide, Where Truth and Love shall hold command.
- 2 Although in untried paths you tread, And filled, perhaps, with anxious fear, A brother's faithful hand shall lead, Where doubt and darkness disappear.
- 3 Then may you in our labors join, And prove yourself a brother true; All sordid, selfish cares resign, And keep our sacred truths in view.

44 Opening.

- 1 From North to South, from East to West, Advance the myriads of the blest; From every elime of earth they come, And find with us a common home.
- 2 In one immortal throng, we view Pagan and Christian, Greek and Jew; But all their doubt and darkness o'er, One only God! they here adore.

45 Opening.

Oh! God of grace, before thy throne, Thy suppliants bow, with holy fear; Those thou art pleased to call thine own, Invoke thy sacred presence here.

46 Closing.

- 1 Great God, to thee our closing song,
 With humble gratitude we raise;
 Oh let thy mercy tune our tongue,
 And fill our hearts with lively praise.
- 2 Let Faith and Hope our eyelids close; With sleep refresh our feeble frame; Safe in thy care may we repose, And wake with praises to thy name.

48 Initiation.

1 Far from the world's cold strife and pride, 1 Pour out thy Spirit from on high; Come join our peaceful, happy band; Come, stranger, we your feet will guide, Where Truth and Love shall hold command.

- 2 Although in untried paths you tread, And filled, perhaps, with anxious fear. A Brother's faithful hand shall lead Where doubt and darkness disappear.
- 3 Then may you in our labors join, And prove yourself a Brother true; All sordid, selfish cares resign, And keep our sacred truths in view.

49 Opening.

- 1 Come, all ye gentle springs that move And animate the human mind, And by your energy improve The social bond by which we're joined.
- 2 This happy lodge, of care devoid, And haggard malice always free, Shall by your aid be still employed In social love and harmony

50 Opening.

- Lord! thine assembled servants bless; Graces and gifts to each supply, And clothe us with thy righteousness.
- 2 Within this temple, where we stand To teach the Truth as taught by Thee. In favor bless this chosen band, With Wisdom, Strength, and Unity.
- 3 And when our work is finished here, May we in Hope our charge resign: When thou, Grand Master, shalt appear. May we and all mankind be thine.

51 Master Mason.

- 1 Dangers of every form attend Your steps, as onward you proceed; No earthly power can now befriend, Or aid you in this time of need.
- 2 Then put your trust in Him alone, Who rules all things above, below; Send your petitions to his throne, For he alone can help you now.

52

Opening.

- 1 Away from every worldly care, In this fraternal, loved retreat; We leave this troubled world afar, And wait and worship near thy seat.
- 2 Lord, in this temple of thy grace, We feel thy presence, and adore; We gaze upon thy lovely face, And learn the wonders of thy power.
- 3 Here let our faith in Thee abide; Forever firm thy justice stands; Not all the powers of earth beside, Can e'er dissolve the sacred bands.

53

Opening.

- 1 From busy scenes we now retreat,
 To hold converse, O God, with thee;
 While bowing low before Thy feet,
 Let this the "gate of heaven" be.
- 2 Teach us to know and love thy way, By thine unerring guidance led; And grant, to life's remotest day, Our willing feet thy paths may tread.

54 Masonic Hymn .- J. H. SHEPPARD.

- 1 Ah! when shall we three meet like them, Who last were at Jerusalem? For one lies low, alas! he's not, The green Accacia marks the spot.
- 2 Though poor he was, with kings he trod; Though great, he humbly kneit to God: Ah! when shall hope restore again, The broken link of friendship's chain.
- 3 Behold! where mourning beauty bent, In silence o'er his monument, And wildly spread, in sorrow there, The ringlets of her flowing hair.
- 4 The future sons of grief shall sigh, While standing round in mystic tie," And raise their hands, Alas! to heaven, In anguish that no hope is given.
- 5 From whence we come, or whither go, Ask me no more, nor seek to know, Till three shall meet, who formed like them, The Grand Lodge of Jerusalem.

55 Opening. Master Mason.

- 1 Great God! wilt thou meet with us here, And bless us in our works of love? Thy sacred name wé all revere, Oh! grant us blessings from above.
- 2 May each be found a living stone,
 For heavenly mansions, tried and squared;
 When all our earthly sands are run,

When all our earthly sands are run,
The scythe of time find us prepared.

3 By the strong grip of Judah's king,
May we be raised to realms of peace;
There constant songs of praises sing,
In that Grand Lodge of endless bliss.

56 Opening Encampment.

- 1 From all that dwell below the skies, Let the Creator's praise arise. Let the Redeemer's name be sung Through every land, by every tongue.
- 2 Eternal are thy mercies, Lord; Eternal truth attends thy word: Thy praise shall sound from shore to shore, Till suns shall rise and set no more.

57

Funeral.

- 1 Teach us, oh Lord, our days to sum,
 That we to wisdom may incline;
 What steps of life are yet to come,
 What gloomy steps of pain and sin!
- 2 'Tis ours to know that we must die, Oh teach us, Lord, how best to live; Thy love with greater power display, Thy grace in larger ineasure give.
- 3 One more we yield the ravening tomb,
 "Tis thy command, our Brother dies;
 Once more the pall of funeral gloom,
 Once more the tribute of our sighs.
- 4 Oh teach us, Lord, our days to sum, That we to wisdom may incline; What steps of life are yet to come, What gloomy steps of pain and sin!

58

Doxology.

Praise God, from whom all blessings flow Praise him, all creatures here below; Praise him above, ye heavenly host; Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

60 Hymn. For Various Occasions.

- 1 'Tis Masonry unites mankind, To gen'rous actions forms the soul; In friendly converse all conjoined, One spirit animates the whole.
- 2 Where'er aspiring domes arise, Wherever sacred altars stand; Those altars blaze unto the skies, Those domes proclaim the Mason's hand.
- 3 Sing, brethren, then, the eraft we love;—
 Best bond of social joy and mirth;—
 Until we meet in Lodge above,
 Proclaim its virtues o'er the earth.

61 Closing. Royal Arch.

- 1 O Lord, behold before thy throne, A band of Brothers lowly bend; Thy face we seek, thy Name we own, And pray that thou wilt be our friend.
- 2 Great God! we come with filial fear, To seek a blessing from thy throne; Our supplications kindly hear, Our humble songs be pleased to own.

62

Opening.

- 1 To Thee, O God! to Thee we bring The evening's grateful offering; From thee, the source of joy above, Flow everlasting streams of love.
- 2 Grant us, we pray, a willing mind, And how we may thy favor find; How learn what thou would'st have us do, And love and serve each other too.
- 3 Forgive our sins; our follies hide; On earth our wandering footsteps guide; Subdue our hearts, thy name to love, And bring us to thy courts above.

63

Opening.

- Here, gracious God, behold a few,
 Who would observe thy holy Word;
 O, may we find thy promise true,
 That they shall live who fear the Lord.
- 2 While thus in peace we close the day, To every faithful soul be near; And may we all rejoicing say, "Twas good for us to gather here.

64 Ode for Installation.

- 1 Let Masons ever live in love; Let harmony their blessings prove; And be the sacred Lodge the place, Where freedom smiles in every face.
- 2 Behold the world all in amaze, Each curious eye with transport gaze; They look, they like, they wish to be, What none can gain, except he's free.
- 3 Let Masons then, with watchful eye,
 Regard the works of Charity;
 Let Union, Love, and Friendship meet,
 And show that Wisdom's ways are sweet.

 4 Science may shoot its bright cold ray

65 Ode for Dedication.

- 1 Almighty Father! God of Love!
 Sacred, eternal King of kings!
 From thy celestial courts above,
 Send beams of grace on seraph's wings.
 O, may they, gilt with light divine,
 Shed on our hearts inspiring rays;
 While bending at this sacred shrine,
 We offer mystic songs of praise.
- 2 Faith! with divine and heavenward eye,
 Pointing to radiant realms of bliss,
 Shed here thy sweet benignity,
 And crown our works with happiness;
 Hope! too, with bosom void of fear,
 Still on thy steadfast anchor lean,
 O, shed thy balmy influence here,
 And fill our breasts with joy serene.
- 3 And thou, fair Charity! whose smile
 Can bid the heart forget its woe,
 Whose hand can misery's care beguile,
 And kindness' sweetest boon bestow,
 Here shed thy sweet, soul-soothing ray;
 Soften our hearts, thou Power divine!
 Bid the warm gem of pity play,
 With sparkling lustre, on our shrine.
- 4 Thou, who art throned 'midst dazzling light, And wrapped in brilliant robes of gold, Whose flowing locks of silvery white Thy age and honor both unfold:—Genius of Masonry! descend, And guide our steps by thy strict law; O, swiftly to our temple bend, And fill our breasts with solemn awe.

66 Sweet is the Memory.

- 1 Sweet is the memory of the night, When first we saw the secret light; Dear to our souls shall ever be The mysteries of Masonry.
- 2 Grateful to thee our hearts we bend, O Masonry, thou poor man's friend; Dark though the streams of life may flow, That still it rolls to thee we owe.
- 3 O, we have tried thee, tried thee long, When hope had fled, when hope was strong, Brighter than all our fancy dreamed, Thy true, unfading love has beamed.
- 4 Science may shoot its bright cold ray Across the pilgrim's painful way; Honor may plant the laurel there, For fortune to usurp and wear:
- 5 But vain their power to warm, O Art, The chill, that settles round the heart; Thou canst alone beguile the hours, And strew our rugged way with flowers.

67 Knight Templar.

- 1 Rest, holy pilgrim, rest, I pray, Dreary to Mecca's shrine thy way; O deign an hermit's hut to share, Nor proudly spurn his homely fare.
- 2 But say from whence thy sorrows flow, Impart each secret source of woe; For time, I see, and grief have spread A silver halo o'er thy head.
- 3 No ruffian lawless steps intrude To blast the joys of solitude; But peace and meditation dwell, Sweet inmates of the hermit's cell.
- 4 To quench thy thirst the rock shall flow, To feed thee sweetest fruits shall grow; Soft dreams shall nature's waste repair, Then deign an hermit's hut to share

68 Royal Arch. Opening.

- 1 With all my powers of heart and tongue, I'll praise my Maker in my song; Angels shall hear the notes I raise, Approve the song, and join the praise.
- 2 I'll sing thy Truth, and Merey, Lord; I'll sing the wonders of thy Word; Not all the works and Names below, So much thy power and glory show.

OPENING, OR CLOSING.

70

Opening.

- 1 Father, we come with filial fear, To seek a blessing from thy throne; Our supplications kindly hear, Our humble songs be pleased to own.
- 2 While here, direct our thoughts aright; Let heavenly Truth our minds impress; When in this temple we unite, The hour of worship deign to bless.

71

Opening.

- 1 Assembled in this place once more, O Lord, thy blessing we implore; O listen, while we sing and pray, Be with, and guide us, all our way.
- 2 Our fervent prayer to thee ascends; Oh shed thy grace on foes and friends; And when we in this place appear, Help us to worship in thy fear.
- 3 When we on earth shall meet no more, May we above to glory soar; And praise thee in more lofty strains, Where one eternal Sabbath reigns.

72

Closing.

1 Great God, when from these scenes withdrawn, And from thine earthly Sabbaths' light,

And from thine earthly Sabbaths' light May each tried spirit hail the dawn Of heaven's eternal Sabbath bright.

2 As one by one we all shall go, And leave our places vacant here; Admit us to that Lodge we know, Where never falls the parting tear.

73 Opening, or Closing.

- 1 Supreme Grand Master, most sublime, High throned in glory's radiant clime; Behold thy sons on bended knee, Convened, O God, to worship thee.
- 2 And as 'tis thine, with open ear, The suppliant voice of prayer to hear; Grant thou, O Lord, this one request, Let Masons be, in blessing, blest.
- 3 O give the craft, from pole to pole, The feeling heart, the pitying soul— The generous breast, the lib'ral hand, Compassion's balm, and mercy's band.

all,

2 Confide your trust in him alone, Who rules all things above, below; Send your petitions to his throne, For he alone can help you now.

76 Master Mason.

- 1 Our life, how short! a groan, a sigh; We live—and then begin to die: But oh! how great a merey this, That death's a portal into bliss.
- 2 My soul! death swallows up thy fears; The grave shall wipe away all tears; Why should we fear this parting pain; We die that we may live again.

77 Master Mason.

Unveil thy bosom, faithful tomb, Take this new treasure to thy trust, And give these sacred relics room To slumber in the silent dust.

78 Super Excellent Master.

1 When we, our wearied limbs to rest, Sat down by proud Euphrates stream, We wept, with doleful thoughts oppress'd, And Zion was our mournful theme.

in this try ing hour.

- 2 Our harps, that, when with joy we sung, Were wont their tuneful parts to bear, With silent strings, neglected hung, On willow trees that withered there.
- 3 How shall we tune our voice to sing, Or touch our harps with skillful hands? Shall hymns of joy, to God our King, Be sung by slaves in foreign lands?
- 4 O Salem, our once happy seat! When I of thee forgetful prove, Then let my trembling hand forget The tuneful strings with art to move.
- 5 If I to mention thee forbear, Eternal silence seize my tongue; Or if I sing one cheerful air, Till thy deliverance is my song.

OPENING, OR INITIATION.

80 Masonic Hymn.

- 1 Grant us, kind Heaven! what we request; In Masonry let us be blest: Direct us to that happy place, Where friendship smiles on every face:
- Where sceptered Reason from her throne, Surveys the Lodge, and makes us one; And Harmony's delightful sway, Forever sheds ambrosial day.
- 3 No prying eye can view us here, No fool or knave disturb our cheer; Our well-formed laws set mankind free, And give relief to misery.
- 4 Our Lodge the social Virtues grace, And Wisdom's rules we fondly trace; While Nature, open to our view, Points out the paths we should pursue.

81 Charity.

- 1 Offspring of heaven! mankind's best friend, Bright Charity, inspire our lay; On these terrestial shores descend, And quit the realms of cloudless day.
- 2 Come, then, all bounteons as thou art, And hide thee from our sight no more; Touch every soul, expand each heart, That breathes on freedom's chosen shore.

82 Relief.

- 1 Blest is the man whose tender care, Relieves the poor in their distress; Whose pity wipes the widow's tear, Whose hand supports the fatherless.
- 2 His heart contrives, for their relief, More than his willing hands can do: He, in the time of wasting grief, Shall find the Lord his pity too.
- 3 His soul shall live secure on earth, With secret blessings on his head; When drouth, and pestilence, and dearth, Around him multiply their dead.
- 4 Or, if he languish on his couch, God will pronounce his sins forgiven; Will save him with a healing touch, Or take his willing soul to heaven.

83 Closing.

- 1 Spirit of peace, all meek and mild, Inspire our hearts, our souls possess; Repel each passion, rude and wild, And bless us as we aim to bless.
- 2 Hear, now, the parting prayer we pour, And bind our hearts in love alone; Though we may meet on earth no more, May we at last surround thy throne.

84 Knight Templar.

- 1 To the Knight Templar's awful dome,
 Where glorious knights in arms are drest,
 Filled with surprise, I slowly come,
 With solemn jewels on my breast.
- 2 A pilgrim to this house I came, With sandal, staff, and scrip so white; Through rugged paths my feet were led; All this I bore to be a Knight.
- 3 With feeble arm I gently smote, At the Knight Templar's mercy gate; What I beheld, when it was op'ed, Was splendid, elegant, and great.
- 4 Twelve dazzling lights I quickly saw, All chosen for the cross to fight; In one of them I found a flaw, And speedily put out that light.
- 5 Unite your hearts, and join your hands In every solemn tie of love; United, each firm Templar stands The virtue of his cause to prove.
- 6 Until the world is lost in fire,
 By order of the Trinity,
 The amazing world shall still admire
 Our steadfast love and unity.

85 Hymn for Consecration.

- 1 Master Supreme! accept our praise; Still bless this consecrated band; Parent of Light! illume our ways, And guide us by thy sovereign hand.
- 2 May Faith, Hope, Charity, divine, Here hold their undivided reign; Friendship and Harmony combine To soothe our cares, and banish pain.
- 3 May Wisdom here disciples find, Beauty unfold her thousand charms; Science invigorate the mind, Expand the soul, that virtue warms.
- 3 May Pity dwell within each breast, Relief attend the suffering poor; Thousands by this, our Lodge, be blest, Till worth, distrest, shall want no more.

86 Closing.

Eternal are thy mercies, Lord; Eternal truth attends thy word; Thy praise shall sound from shore to shore, Till suns shall rise and set no more.

87 Royal Arch.

- 1 Almighty Father! heavenly King!
 Before whose sacred Name we bend,
 Accept the praises which we sing,
 And to our humble prayer attend.
- 2 Thou, who did'st Persia's king command A proclamation to extend, That Israel's host might quit his land, Their holy Temple to attend;
- 3 All hail! great Architect divine! Let heaven's eternal arches ring! This universal frame is thine; All hail! thou great, Eternal King!

1 Ye happy few, who here extend In peaceful lines, from east to west, With fervent zeal the Lodge defend, And lock its secrets in your breast.

Opening.

2 Since ye are met upon the Square, Bid love and Friendship jointly reign; Be peace and Harmony your care, They form an adamantine chain.

89 Anniversary Ode.

- 1 Hail! sacred art! by Heaven designed A gracious blessing for mankind; Peace, joy, and love, thon dost bestow, On us thy votaries below.
- 2 Bright wisdom's footsteps here we trace, From Solomon, the prince of peace, Whose righteous maxims still we hold More precious than rich Ophir's gold.
- 3 His heavenly proverbs to us tell, How we on earth should ever dwell, In harmony and social love, To emulate the blest above.
- 4 Now, having Wisdom for our guide, By its sweet precepts we'll abide; Nor from its path will ever stray, Till all shall meet in endless day.
- 5 Vain, empty grandeur shall not find Its dwelling in a Brother's mind; A Mason, who is true and wise, Its glittering pomp will e'er despise.
- 6 Candor and friendship, joy and peace, Within his breast shall have a place; Virtue and Wisdom thus combined, Shall decorate the Mason's mind.

91 Funeral Hymn.

HAMBURG. L. M.

- 1 Here let the sacred rites succeed In honor of departed friends; With solemn order now proceed, While living faith with sorrow blends.
- 2 Now let the hymn—the humble prayer, From hearts sincere, ascend on high; And mystic evergreen declare, That Hope within us cannot die.
- 3 The mortal frame may be concealed Within the marrow house of gloom; But God, in mercy, has revealed Immortal life beyond the tomb.
- 4 The friends we mourn we still may love; Then let our aspirations rise, -To that bright spirit-world above, Where virtue lives, love never dies.

92 Master Mason.

- 1 Blest is the man who stands in awe Of God, and loves his sacred law; His seed on earth shall be renowned, And with successive honors crowned.
- 2 Beset with threat'ning dangers round, Unmoved shall he maintain his ground; The sweet remembrance of the just Shall flourish, when he sleeps in dust.

93 Installation Ode.

- 1 Come all ye gentle springs, that move
 And animate the human mind,
 And by your energy improve
 The social bond by which we're joined.
 - 2 This happy Lodge, of care devoid, And haggard malice always free, Shall by your aid be still employed In social leve and harmony.
 - 3 Oh! let each heart with rapture glow; Be every nerve with rapture strung; May Love from every bosom flow, And kindly words from every tongue.

94 Opening. Red Cross.

- 1 "Let there be Light"—the first command
 That burst from heaven's exalted throne!
 Jehovah gave the stern decree,
 And forth immediate radiance shone.
- 2 But there's a light, a brighter light, Than sun or uature e'er could claim; 'Tis shed through all creation's space, And bears a great and glorious name.
- 3 Then let us search for this great Light,
 Which shines with such refulgence broad;
 Its name is Truth; and that alone
 Can bring our wandering souls to God.

95 Knight Templar.

- 1 The rising God forsakes the tomb; Up to his Father's court he flies; Cherubic legions guard him home, And shout him welcome to the skies.
- 2 Break off your tears, ye saints, and tell How high our great deliverer reigns; Sing how he spoiled the hosts of hell, And led the monster, Death, in chains.
- 3 Say, "live forever glorious King, Born to instruct, redeem, and save;" Then ask—"O Death! where is thy sting?" "And where's thy victory?" boasting grave!

96 Master Mason.

- 1 Death, like an ever-flowing stream,— Sweeps us away—our life's a dream— An empty tale—a morning flower— Cut down and withered in an hour.
- 2 Teach us, O Lord, how frail is man; And kindly lengthen out our span, Till, cleansed by grace, we all may be Prepared to die, and dwell with thee.

97 • Opening.

- 1 O Thou who see'st the sparrow's fall, And hear'st the raven's feeble cry, Whose tender care extends to all, To thee we raise the prayerful eye.
- 2 Father! while we as brothers meet,
 With Truth and Love our bosoms fill,
 And 'till we reach our heavenly seat,
 Help us to know and do thy will.

98 Closing.

- 1 Father, once more let grateful praise And humble prayer to thee ascend; Thou Guide and Guardian of our ways, Our first and last, and only Friend.
- 2 Hear, then, the parting prayers we pour, And bind our hearts in love alone; Though we may meet on earth no more, May all at last surround thy throne.

99 Masonic Hymn.

- 1 From East to West, o'er l\u00e9nd and sea, Where brothers meet and friends agree, Let incense rise from hearts sincere, The dearest offering gathered here.
- 2 Our trust reposed on God alone, Who ne'er will contrite hearts disown; Our faith shall mark that holy light, Whose beams our dearest joys unite.

100 Royal Arch Hymn .- F. G. TISDALL.

- 1 There is a word, no mortal tongue
 . May dare its mystic sounds combine;
 Nor saint hath breathed, nor prophet sung
 That holiest of the names divine!
- 2 Nor may the fingers of the Scribe Presume that hallowed word to write; Accursed alike, from Israel's tribe, Were he who dared that word indite!
- 3 Yet though nor lips, nor pen, may dare That name unspeakable impart; 'Tis ever breathed in Masons' prayer,— 'Tis ever written in his heart.

101 Opening Hymn.

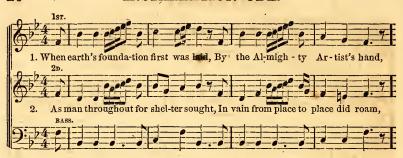

- 1 How blest the sacred tie, that binds In sweet communion kindred minds! How swift the heavenly course they run, Whose hearts, whose faith, whose hopes are one.
- 2 Together oft they seek the place Where Friendship smiles on every face: How high, how strong their raptures swell-There's none but kindred souls can tell.
- 3 Nor shall the glowing flame expire, When dimly burns frail nature's fire: Then shall they meet in realms above— A heaven of joy—a heaven of love.

102 Closing.

- 1 We offer, Lord, an humble prayer,
 And thank thee for thy grace bestowed,
 In leading us beneath thy care
 Thus far in wisdom's pleasant road.
- 2 Whatever to our lot may fall,—
 What toilsome duties to fulfil,—
 We do not know; but in them all,
 Be thou our strength and comfort still.
- 3 Be thou, O God, our constant friend Our hope, our comfort, and our stay; And may thy Spirit, Lord, descend, To bless and guide us day by day.

103 Opening.

- 1 O Thou! at whose great Name we bend, To whom our warmest vows we pay, God over all! in love descend, And bless the labors of this day.
- 2 Here, still, through all succeeding time, May Truth and Love its tribute bring, And still the anthem-note sublime, To Thee from children's children ring.

3 Hence illustrious rose our Art, And now in beauty piles appear, Which shall to endless, to endless time impart,

How worthy and how great we are. Hail! mysterious, hail, glorious Masonry! That makes us ever great and free. 4 Nor we less famed for every tie,

By which the human thought is bound; Love, truth, and friendship, and sweetest

Join all our hearts and hands around. Hail! mysterious, hail, glorious Masonry! That makes us ever great and free.

Hail! happy, blest, and sacred place! Where friendship brightens every face, Where mystie art adorns the chair, Resplendent with his noble square.

Come, brethren, cheerful join with me, To sing the praise of Masonry; The noble, faithful, and the brave, Whose art shall live beyond the grave.

"WHERE'ER IN THIS WIDE WORLD WE ROVE." (SHELLS OF OCEAN.) L. M. DOUBLE. Words by G. W. CHASE. 1sr. 1. Where'er in this wide world we rove, From North to South, from East to West, We still may 2. Tho' friends forsake, tho' riches fail, And all around seems dark and drear, There still is hare a brother's love, And find relief if sore distress'd, And find relief if sore distress'd. 'Mid Northern t the mystic hail Whose magic charm our heart can cheer, Whose magic charm our heart can cheer. Oh! happy cold or Southern heat,On ocean wave or Western wild,A Brother true we still may meet; By kindly they who thus can share A Brother's Charity and Love ; And Hoping, Loving, each prepare To dwell at Brother true we still may meet; By kindly words our days,our days beguil'd

107 Masonic Song .- GEO. P. MORRIS.

Our Order, like the Ark of Yore,
 Upon the raging seas was tost;
 Seenre amid the billows' roar
 It moved, and nothing has been lost.
 When elements discordant seek
 To wreck what God in mercy saves,
 The struggle is as vain and weak
 As that of the retiring waves.

2 The power who bade the waters cease,—
The pilot of the pilgrim band,—
He gave the gentle dove of peace,
The branch she bore them from the land.
In Him above we put our trust,
With heart and voice, with one accord,
Ascribing with the true and just,
All "Holiness unto the Lord."

108 Dedication of Masonic Hall.

(BRO. T. J. GREENWOOD, OF DOVER, N. H.)

1 "The Groves were God's first Temples," made
That man might early learn to praise,

That man might early learn to praise,
And bowing in the sylvan shade,
To Thee, O'God, his homage raise.
But Light advanced! New Temples sprung
Beneath the craftsman's skilful hand,
That grateful love might find a tongue
Where Wisdom, Strength, and Beauty stand.

2 Yet not where Sabbath bells alone
Invite the soul, our God we find,
But where ingenious toil is known,
He deigns to bless th' expanding mind.
This Fane, oh God! our hands have rear'd,
To aid us in our work of love;
And while we've toiled, Thy smile hath cheered,
Approving from Thy Throne above.

3 We own Thy Light! we plead Thy grace,
To crown our labors day by day,
That this may be a hallowed place,
To speed us on our pilgrim way.
Oh let us wear the triple crown
Of Faith, Hope, Charity divine,
That Thou our humble gift will own,
While Glory, Honor, Praise are Thine.

103 Opening.

1 Kind Father, God of love and power, Be with us at this quiet hour! Smile on our souls; our plans approve; Help us to live in peace and love. Let each discordant thought be gone, And love unite our hearts in one; Like brothers true, may we combine To forward objects so divine.

110 Opening.

1 Great God, behold before thy throne, A band of brothers lowly bend; Thy sacred Name we humbly own, And pray that thou wilt be our friend. A band of brothers may we live, A band of brothers may we die; To each may God, our Father, give A home of peace above the sky.

111 Opening.

1 Here, gracious God, beneath thy feet, Again we mystic brothers meet, Joined by the cord of mutual love, Bound to our common Friend above. May Wisdom, Zeal, and Love, inspire Our bosoms with their purest fire; While Faith on thine own word relies, And Hope looks joyful to the skies. 2 Grant us thy presence, God of grace, Now while, we meet before thy face, That we may feel, ere we depart, Thy love diffused through every heart. May Wisdom, Zeal, and Love, inspire Our bosoms with their purest fire; While Faith on thine own word relies, And Hope looks joyful to the skies.

112 Closing.

1 As from this place we go once more, Thy blessing, Father, we implore; Still may we keep the heavenly way, And strive to serve thee day by day. And 'till again we gather here, Help us to labor in thy fear; Thy Truth impart, thy love distil, That we may know and do thy will.

113 Song.—JAMES B. TAYLOR, K. T. Air—"Shells of Ocean."

1 In pensive mood, at close of day, I seek the peaceful, calin retreat, Where Truth and Innocence repay Those brethren dear in Lodge that meet. The precepts taught by Masons' Art, To guide and guard our course through life,

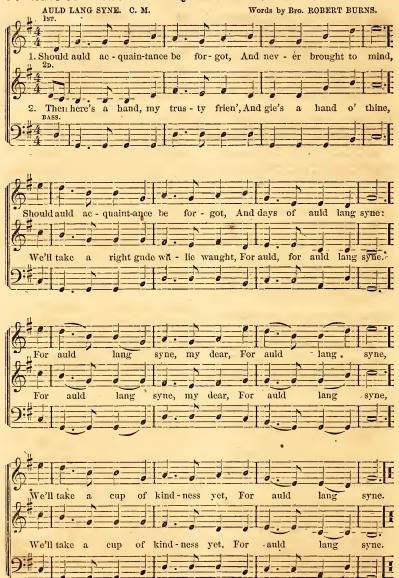

Are grateful to the Virtuous heart, Suppressing hate—subduing strife.

2 Where brethren meet in solemn form, Devoted to the Master's will, To shield from want, or gathering storm, Their every duty to fulfil:—

In mystic rites we there engage, And lessons pure and holy learn, From the unerring, sacred page, Where Love and Heavenly Truth do burn.

30 SHOULD AULD ACQUAINTANCE BE FORGOT.

115 Opening Song.-G. W. CHASE.

1 Come, Brothers of the plumb and square, 1 Old friends shall never be forgot, Come, join in cheerful song; Let every heart and voice prepare The glad notes to prolong. We're Brothers, by a mystic tie, We're Brothers true and Free, Then let the song ascend on high,-God speed Freemasonry.

2 In Love we meet, in peace we part; We walk by plummet's line; While Friendship dwells within each heart That owns the craft Divine. 'Mid all the toils and cares of earth, We steady keep our way; With Faith, and Hope, we wait the birth Of an Eternal day.

116 Closing Song.

1 We meet in love, we part in peace, Our council labors o'er; We'll ask, ere life's best days shall cease, To meet in time once more. CHORUS. 'Mid fairest scenes to memory dear, In change of joy and pain; We'll think of friends assembled here, And hope to meet again.

2 Though changes mark time's onward way In all we fondly claim, Fraternal hopes shall ne'er decay— Our landmarks still the same. CHORUS. 'Mid fairest scenes to memory dear, In change of joy and pain; We'll think of friends assembled here, And hope to meet again.

3 Our Faith unmoved, with Truth our guide, 2 Now let our ardent prayers arise, As seasons mark our clime; Through winter's chill, or summer's pride, We'll hail the Art Sublime. CHORUS. 'Mid fairest scenes to memory dear, In change of joy and pain; We'll think of friends assembled here,

4 When life shall find its silent close, With Hope's kind promise blest; In that Grand Lodge may all repose, Where joys immortal rest. CHORUS. 'Mid fairest scenes to memory dear, In change of joy and pain; — We'll think of friends assembled here,

And hope to meet again.

And hope to meet again.

117 Friendship.

Whose love was love sincere; And still, whatever be their lot, We'll make them welcome here. The kindness they have often shown, We long have borne in mind, And long, we hope, our friends have known, A welcome where to find.

2 It never shall be said, with truth, That now our hearts are cold: The friends who loved us in our youth, We'll love when they are old. And if in ills, which we withstand, They kind assistance need, We'll stretch them forth a helping hand, And be a friend indeed.

118 Closing.

Now we must close our labors here, Though sad it is to part; May Love, Relief, and Truth sincere, Unite each brother's heart. Now to our homes let's haste away, Still filled with love and light; And may each heart in kindness say, Good night, brother, good night.

119 Initiation, or Crafting.

1 O welcome, brother, to our band, Though strong its numbers now, And high its lofty pillars stand, And noble arches bow. Oh welcome — if thy heart be true, Thou'lt find with us a home; We're daily adding columns new Unto our glorious dome.

For blessings on his brow, And bear our offering to the skies, For him who joins us now. Oh welcome - if thy heart be true, Thou'lt find with us a home; We're daily adding columns new, Unto our glorious dome.

120 Closing.

1 Great Architect of Earth and Heaven, By time nor space confined, Enlarge our love to comprehend Our brethren, all mankind. With Faith our guide, and humble Hope, Warm Charity and Love, May all at last be raised to share Thy perfect light above.

122 Fellow Craft.

- May our united hearts expand
 With love's refreshing showers,
 Whose warm and kindling glow is felt,
 To cheer our saddest hours.
- 2 Before our treasured shrine we bow, In gratitude sublime; Imploring still God's saving grace, Through all of coming time.

123 Opening Hymn.

- Lo! what an entertaining sight, Are brethren who agree;
 Brethren, whose cheerful hearts unite In bonds of piety.
- 2 'Tis like the oil, divinely sweet, On Aaron's reverend head; The trickling drops perfumed his feet, And o'er his garments spread.
- 3 'Tis pleasant as the morning dews, That fell on Zion's hill; Where God his mildest glory shows, And makes his grace distil.

124 Encampment.

Let God—the Father and the Son And Spirit, be adored, Where there are works to make him known, Or saints to love the Lord.

125 Master Mason. Opening.

- 1 Almighty Father! gracious Lord! Kind Guardian of our days! Thy mercies let our hearts record, In songs of grateful praise.
- 2 Lord, when this mortal frame decays, And every weakness dies, Complete the wonders of thy grace, And raise us to the skies.

126 The Lord's Prayer.

- 1 Our Father, who in heaven art!
 All hallowed be thy Name;
 Thy kingdom come, thy will be done,
 Throughout this earthly frame,—
- 2 As cheerfully as 'tis by those Who dwell with Thee on high: Lord, let thy bounty, day by day, Our daily food supply.
- 3 As we forgive our enemies,
 Thy pardon, Lord, we crave;
 Into temptation lead us not,
 But us from evil save.
- 4 For kingdom, power, and glory, all Belong, O Lord, to thee; Thine from eternity they were, And thine shall ever be.

139

Royal Arch.

- How precious is the book divine, That unto us is given;
 Bright as a lamp its doctrines shine, To guide our souls to heaven.
- 2 It sweetly cheers our drooping hearts, In this dark vale of tears; Life, light, and joy it still imparts, And quells our rising fears.
- 3 This lamp, through all the tedious night
 Of life, shall guide our way;
 Till we behold the clearer light
 Of an eternal day.

140 Opening.

- 1 Lo! what an entertaining sight
 Those friendly brethren prove,
 Whose cheerful hearts in bands unite,
 Of harmony and love!
- 2 'Tis pleasant as the morning dews That fall on Zion's hill, Where God his radiant glory shows, And makes his grace distil.

141 Opening.

- Oh, influence sweet, from spheres above
 This rude and selfish life,
 Descend and dwell with us in love,
 Dispelling scenes of strife.
- 2 Let darkness spread no more its wings With passion's brooding powers, Where love and wisdom e'er should reign In this retreat of ours.
- 3 Oh, influence sweet, from spheres above, Surround, and make us good, And ever let us feel we have A loving Brotherhood.

142 Mark Master.

- 1 How sweet, how calm this Sabbath morn, 1
 How pure the air that breathes,
 And soft the sounds upon it borne,
 And light its vapor wreaths!
- 2 Let each unholy passion cease, Each evil thought be crushed, Each anxious care that mars our peace In Faith and Love be hushed.

143 Fellow Craft. Work.

- 1 O welcome, brother, to our band, Thotigh strong its numbers now, And high its lofty pillars stand, And noble arches bow.
- 2 O welcome if thy heart be true, Thou'it find with us a home; We're daily adding columns new Unto our glorious dome.
- 3 Now let our heartfelt prayers arise, For blessings on his brow, And bear our offering to the skies, For him who joins us now.

144 Master Mason. Opening.

- Come, Masters of the Art, unite, And may this meeting prove, To all th' assembled sons of light, A strengthened bond of love.
- 2 May Friendship and-Morality, With true fraternal love, Be found in every Mason's heart, And all his actions move.

145 Opening, or Closing.

- 1 To thee we look, thou Power supreme!

 Thou wilt our wants supply!

 Safe in thy presence shall we live,

 And in thy favor die.
- 2 From thee our vital breath we drew; Our childhood was thy care; And vigorous youth and feeble age Thy kind protection share.
- 3 Then be it ours, through gentle deeds
 Of pure and perfect love,
 To sow in human hearts the seeds
 Of flowers that bloom above.

146 Opening, or Closing.

- Sweet as the dew on herb and flower,
 That silently distils,
 At evening's soft and balmy hour,
 On Zion's fruitful hills.
- 2 So, with mild influence from above, Shall promised grace descend; Till universal peace and love O'er all the earth extend.

147 Super Excellent Master.

1 By Babel's streams we sit and weep;
Our tears for Zion flow;
Our harps on drooping willows sleep;
Our hearts are filled with woe.

(SQUARE.)

2 Our walls no more resound with praise; Our Temple, foes destroy; Judea's courts no more upraise Triumphant songs of joy.

(TRIANGLE.)
3 Here, mourning, toiling, captive bands,
Our feasts and Sabbaths cease;
Our tribes dispersed through distant lands,
And hopeless of release.

(CIRCLE.)

4 But should the ever-gracious Power, To us propitious be; Chaldeans shall our race restore, And Kings proclaim us free!

148 Closing. Royal Arch.

 Great God! our King! to thee we raise Our voice and all our powers;
 Unwearied songs of grateful praise Shall fill the circling hour. 2 Thy Name shall dwell upon our tongue
While suns shall set and rise,
And tune our everlasting song
When time and nature dies.

149 Anniversary Hymn.

- 1 To Him who rules, be homage paid,
 Where hearts with voice unite;
 To him we bring fraternal aid,
 Who guides in solemn rite.
- 2 Come, Brothers, bound by kindly ties, Your notes harmonious bring; While acts of generous sacrifice, In thoughts of love we sing.
- 3 As days and years roll silent by—
 As Time's sad changes rise,
 No doubt shall dim the trusting eye,
 Where rule the good and wise.
- 4 To Him who rules, be homage paid,
 Where hearts with voice unite;
 Till life shall cease, and time shall fade,
 We'll bring our solemn plight.

150 Encampment.

- 1 How glorious is the gift of Faith,
 That cheers the darksome tomb,
 And through the damp and gloomy grave
 Can shed a rich perfume!
- 2 Triumphant Faith! it lifts the soul
 Above desponding fear;
 Exults in hope of heaven, her home,
 And longs to enter there!

151 Funeral Hymn.

- 1 Another hand is beckoning us,
 Another call is given;
 And glows once more, with angel steps,
 The path that leads to heaven.
- 2 Dust, to its narrow house beneath! Soul, to its place on high! They that have seen thy look in death, No more may fear to die.
- 3 Lone are the paths, and sad the bowers,
 Whence thy meek smile is gone;
 But, oh! a brighter home than ours,
 In heaven, is now thine own.

152 - Master Mason.

- 1 The Lord unto thy prayer attend, In trouble's darksome hour: The name of Jacob's God defend, And shield thee by his power.
- 2 Should friends and kindred, near and dear, Leave thee to want, or die, May Heaven make thy life its care, And all thy need supply.

153 Funeral Hymn.

- As distant lands beyond the sea,
 When friends go thence, draw nigh;
 So heaven, when friends have thither gone,
 Draws nearer from the sky.
- 2 And as those lands the dearer grow, When friends are long away, So heaven itself, through loved ones dead, Grows dearer day by day.
- 3 Heaven is not far from those who see With the pure spirit's sight, But near, and in the very hearts Of those who see aright.

154 Master Mason.

- 1 Few are thy days, and full of woe, O man, of woman born! Thy doom is written, "Dust thou art, And shalt to dust return."
- 2 Determined are the days that fly Successive o'er thy head; The numbered hour is on the wing, Which lays thee with the dead.

155 Opening.

- Father of all! in every age, In every clime adored, By saint, by savage, or by sage, The universal Lord.
- 2 To thee, whose temple is all space, Whose altar, earth, sea, skies, One chorus let all beings raise, All nature's incense rise

156 Master Mason.

- 1 Teach me the measure of my days,
 Thou maker of my frame;
 I would survey life's narrow space,
 And learn how frail I am.
- 2 A span is all that we can boast, How short the fleeting time! Man is but vanity and dust, In all his flower and prime.

157 Anniversary Ode.

- 1 All hail! the great mysterious Art, Grand offering from above — Which fondly twines each genial heart In harmony and love.
- 2 Come, Brothers, join the festive board, Awake the tuneful lay; Unite in Friendship, Peace, and Love; 'Tis Masons' holyday.
- 3 Come, bring the wreath, the trio bind— Faith, Charity, and Love; To great St. John a splendid star In the Grand Lodge above.
- 4 With fervent Zeal and pure delight, We'll wake the joyful strain, Till in the great Grand Lodge we meet, Where joys immortal reign.

158 Opening Encampment.

sing.

1 Joy to the world, the Lord is come;
Let earth receive her King:
Let every heart prepare him room,
And heav'n and nature sing.

2 Joy to the earth,—the Saviour reigns; Let men their songs employ; While fields and floods, rocks, hills and plains, Repeat the sounding joy.

And heav'n and na - ture sing,

4 He rules the world with truth and grace, And makes the nations prove The glories of his righteousness, And wonders of his love. 159 Anniversary Ode.

 Jehovah, God! thy gracious power On every hand we see;
 O may the blessings of each hour Lead all our thoughts to thee.

And heav'n and na - ture sing.

2 From morn till noon, till latest eve, The hand of heaven we see; And all the blessings we receive Proceed direct from thee.

3 In all the varying scenes of time, On thee our hopes depend; Through every age, in every elime, Our Father and our Friend!

160 Royal Arch.

- 1 When orient Wisdom beamed serene, And pillar'd Strength arose; When Beauty tinged the glowing scene, And Faith her mansion chose;
- 2 Exulting bands the fabric viewed, Mysterious powers adored; And high the Triple Union stood, That gave the Mystic Word.
- 3 Pale Envy withered at the sight, And, frowning at the pile, Called Murder from the realms of night, To blast the glorious toil;
- 4 With ruffian outrage, joined in woe, They form the league abhorred, And wounded Science felt the blow That crushed the Mystic Word.
- 5 At length through time's expanded sphere, | 5 Oh! may we all in love abound, Fair Science spreads her way, And warmed by Truth's refulgence clear, Reflects the kindred ray:
- 6 A second fabric's towering height Proclaims the sign restored, From whose foundation, brought to light, Is drawn the Mystic Word.

161 Opening.

- 1 Within our temple, met again, With hearts and purpose strong, We'll raise our notes of grateful praise, With union in our song.
- 2 Around our altar's sacred shrine, May Love's pure incense rise, Bearing upon its mystic flame Our music to the skies.

162 God, the Creator.

- 1 Eternal Wisdom, thee we praise, Thee all thy creatures sing; While with thy name, rocks, hills, and seas. And heaven's high arches ring.
- 2 Almighty power and equal skill Shine through the worlds abroad; Our sonls with vast amazement fill, And speak the Builder - God.

163 Charity.

- 1 O Charity! thou heavenly grace, All tender, soft and kind; A friend to all the human race, To all that's good and kind.
- 2 The man of charity extends To all his liberal hand; His kindred, neighbors, foes and friends, His pity may command.
- 3 He aids the poor in their distress He hears when they complain; With tender heart delights to bless, And lessen all their pain.
- 4 The sick, the prisoner, poor and blind, And all the sons of grief, In him a benefactor find; He loves to give relief.
- 'And Charity pursue; Thus shall we be with glory crowned, And love as angels do.

164 The Good Samaritan.

- 1 Blest is the man whose generous heart Feels all another's pain; To whom the supplicating eye Is never raised in vain; -
- 2 Whose breast expands with gen'rous warmth, A brother's woes to feel. And bleeds in pity o'er the wound He wants the power to heal.
- 3 He spreads his kind supporting arms To every child of grief; His secret bounty largely flows, And brings unasked relief.
- 4 To gentle offices of love His feet are never slow; He views, through Mercy's melting eye. A Brother in a foe.
- 5 To him protection shall be shown: And mercy from above Descend on those, who thus fulfil The perfect law of love.

165 Knights Templar.

1 All hail! the great Immanuel's name! Let angels prostrate fall; Bring forth the royal diadem, And crown him Lord of all.

2 Let every kindred, every tribe, On this terrestial ball, To him all majesty ascribe, And crown him Lord of all.

3 Oh! that with yonder sacred throng, We at his feet may fall; And join the everlasting song, And crown him Lord of all. 166 The Book of the Law.

1 How precious is the book divine, By inspiration given;

Bright as a lamp its doctrines shine, To guide our souls to heaven.

2 It sweetly cheers our drooping hearts, In this dark vale of tears, Life, light, and joy it still imparts,

And quells our rising fears.

3 This lamp, through all the tedious night Of life, shall guide our way; Till we behold the clearer light Of an Eternal Day.

168 Opening.

1 While thee we seek, protecting Power! Be our vain wishes stilled; And may this consecrated hour, With better hopes be filled.

2 In all the varying scenes of time. On thee our hopes depend; Through every age, in every clime, Our Father and our Friend.

All Men are Equal. 169

1 All men are equal in their birth, Heirs of the earth and skies; All men are equal, when that earth Fades from their dying eyes.

2 All wait alike on him, whose power Upholds the life he gave; The Sage, within his star-lit tower, The savage in his cave.

3 Ye great! renounce your earthborn pride; 1 Through endless years, thou art the same. Ye low! your shame and fear; And, as ye worship, side by side, Your common claims revere.

170 . Opening, or Closing.

1 Jehovah, God! thy gracious power On every hand we see;

O may the blessings of each hour Lead all our thoughts to thee.

2 O may we all in love abound, And Charity pursue; Thus shall we be with glory crowned, And love as angels do.

171 Royal Arch. Opening.

Holy and reverend is thy Name, Oh thou eternal King!
"Thriee holy Lord," the angels cry, "Thrice holy," let us sing!

2 With sacred awe pronounce his Name, 1 Whom words nor thoughts can reach; A holy heart shall please him more Than noblest forms of speech.

172 Closing.

O thou eternal God! Ages to come shall know thy name, And tell thy works abroad.

- 3 But chief to hear fair virtne's voice, May all my thoughts incline; 'Tis reason's law, 'tis wisdom's choice, 'Tis nature's call and thine.
- 4 We from our sacred order's cause, Let nothing e'er divide; Grandeur, nor gold, nor vain applause, Nor friendship false misguide.
- 5 Teach me to feel a brother's grief, To do in all what's best; To suffering man give kind relief, And blessing to be blest.

174 Initiation.

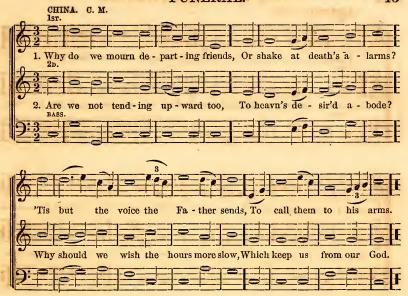

- 1 Spirit of power and might! behold Thy willing servant here; With thy protection him infold, And free his heart from fear.
- 2 Tho' darksome skies shall o'er him lower, And dangers fill the way; Support him with thy gracious power, And be his constant stay.

175 Opening, or Anniversary.

- 1 Behold! how pleasant and how good, For brethren, such as we Of the accepted brotherhood, To dwell in unity.
- 2 'Tis like the oil on Aaron's head, Which to his feet distils; Like Hermon's dew, so richly shed On Zion's sacred hills.
- 3 For there the Lord of light and love A blessing sent with power;
 Oh, may we all this blessing prove,
 E'en life forevermore.
- 4 On Friendship's altar, rising here, Our hands now plighted be,—
 To live in love with hearts sincere, In peace and unity.

176 Closing Encampment.

Let God, the Father and the Son And Spirit be adored, Where there are works to make him known, Or saints to love the Lord.

178

Closing.

- Now we must close our labors here, Though sad it is to part; May Love, Relief, and Truth sincere, Unite each brother's heart.
- 2 Now to our homes we haste away, Still filled with love and light; And may each heart in kindness say, Good night, brother, good night.

179

Opening.

- 1 Within our temple met again, With hearts and purpose strong, We'll raise our notes of grateful praise, With Union in our song.
- 2 Around our altar's sacred shrine, May Love's pure incense rise, Bearing upon its mystic flame Our music to the skies.

Master Mason.

Life is a span—a fleeting hour— How soon the vapor flies!

Man is a tender, transient flower,
That e'en in blooming—dies.

181 Funeral Hymn.

- 1 Slowly, in sadness and in tears,
 We leave his dwelling now;
 It came not once within our fears,
 He could so early go.
- 2 We loved to think of him as one To whom long years were given; Who much of good would yet have done, And late return to heaven.
- 3 Fair rose his sun of life few such Alas! it set at noon;
 His Master must have loved him much,
 To call him home so soon.
- 4 Slowly, in sadness and in tears, We'll pass his dwelling by; We mourn the shortness of his years, And bless his memory.

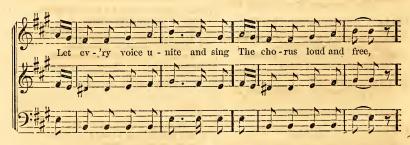

182

Master Mason.

Few are thy days, and full of woe, O man, of woman born! Thy doom is written, "dust thou art, And shall to dust return."

44 COME, LET US JOIN IN CHEERFUL SONG. FRENCH AIR. C. M. Words by G. W. CHASE. 1st. 1. Come, let us join in cheerful song, Our voi-ces sounding free; 2D. CHORUS. Then let us join in cheerful song, Our voi-ces sounding free; BASS. 1. Come, let us join in cheerful song, Our voi-ces sounding free;

2 Come great and small, come old and young, Come all ye Accepted Free; Come every nation, every tongue, And sing of Masonry. Let Jew nor Gentile e'er forget Our honors they may claim; We're Brothers, on the level met, Whate'er our land or name. Then let us join, &c.

3 Let trusting Faith, and holy Hope, And heaven-born Charity, In every heart have largest scope. And shine for Masonry: Let Justice circle, Virtue square; Let Friendship guide our feet, So that at last, like jewels rare, We all in heaven may meet. Then let us join, &c.

184 Opening Song .- G. W. CHASE.

1 Come, Brothers of the plumb and square, Come, join in cheerful song; Let every heart and voice prepare The glad notes to prolong. We're Brothers, by a mystic tie, We're Brothers true and Free, Then let the song ascend on high,-God speed Freemasonry. Then, Brothers of the plumb, &c.

² In Love we meet, in peace we part; We walk by plummet's line; While Friendship dwells within each heart That owns the craft Divine. 'Mid all the toils and cares of earth, We steady keep our way; With Faith, and Hope, we wait the birth Of an Eternal day. Then, Brothers of the plumb, &c.

Closing Song. 185

1 We met in love, we part in peace, Onr council labors o'er; We'll ask, ere life's best days shall cease, To meet in time once more. 'Mid fairest scenes to memory dear, In change of joy and pain: We'll think of friends assembled here, And hope to meet again. We met in love, &c.

2 Though changes mark time's onward way 2 Ascending to her native sky, In all we fondly claim, Fraternal hopes shall ne'er decay -Onr landmarks still the same. Our Faith unmoved, with Truth our guide, As seasons mark our clime; Through winter's chill, or summer's pride, We'll hail the Art Sublime. We met in love, &c.

186 Song of the World.

1 This world is not so bad a world As some would like to make it: Though whether good, or whether bad, Depends on how you take it; For if we scold and fret all day, From dewy morn till even, This world will ne'er afford to man A foretaste here of heaven. -This world is not, &c.

2 This world in truth's as good a world, As e'er was known to any Who have not seen another yet, And there are very many; And if the men, and women too, Have plenty of employment, They surely must be hard to please, Who cannot find enjoyment. This world is not, &c.

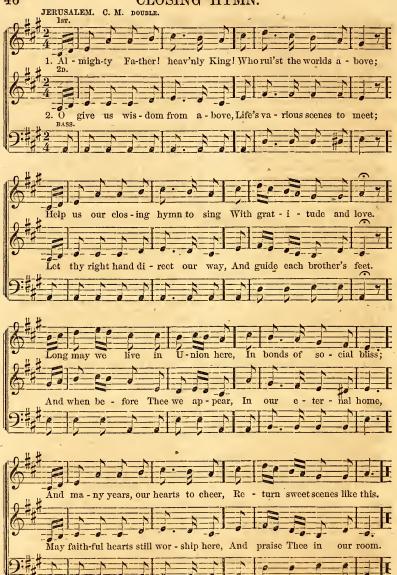

3 This world is quite a pleasant world, In rain or pleasant weather If people would but learn to live In harmony together; And cease to burst the kindling bond, By love and peace cemented, And learn that best of lessons yet, To always be contented. This world is not, &c.

4 Then were this world a pleasant world, And pleasant folks were in it, The day would pass most pleasantly, To those who thus begin it; And all the nameless grievances Brought on by borrowed troubles, Would prove, as certainly they are. A mass of empty bubbles. This world is not, &c.

1 Let Masonry, from pole to pole, Her sacred laws expand; Far as the mighty waters roll, To wash remotest land; That virtue has not left mankind, Her social maxims prove; For stamped upon the Mason's mind, Are unity and love. Let Masonry, &c.

Let Masonry increase; A glorious pillar raised on high, Integrity its base. Peace adds to olive boughs entwined An emblematic dove, As stamped upon the Mason's mind. Is unity and love. Let Masonry, &c.

189 Song for the twenty-fourth of June.

(BRO. C. MOORE, ED. OF MASONIC REVIEW.)

- 1 All hail! the twenty-fourth of June,
 Another year has flown,
 And on our altar glimmers yet
 The Light which long has shone.
 Our brethren! ye are welcome here—
 A truthful—noble band;
 We're one in mystic bonds to-day,
 We're one in heart and hand.
- 2 On this, another festive day,
 We meet as oft of yore,
 And tell of mystic labors done
 On mountain, vale, and shore:
 Of future work we yet may do,
 Ere we are gathered home,
 To hear from our Great Master's lips
 The welcome words—"well done."
- 3 How sad the thought on memory's page,
 That some who once were here,
 Have no place now but in our hearts—
 They've reached a higher sphere:
 But Hope points on to future years,
 When, all our works complete,
 The true, and tried, and loved of earth,
 Together all shall meet.
- 4 Then hail the twenty-fourth of June!
 Its memories all are dear;
 And oft on festive days like this,
 Through many a passing year,
 We'll meet and grasp each other's hands,
 Ere yet our work is done,
 And, round our altars, closer draw
 The bonds which make us one.

190 Brotherly Love.

- 1 How sweet, how heavenly is the sight,
 When those that love the Lord,
 In one another's peace delight,
 And thus fulfil his word!
 When each can feel his brother's sigh,
 And with him bear a part;
 When sorrow flows from eye to eye,
 And joy from heart to heart.
- 2 When, free from envy, scorn, and pride, Our wishes all above, Each can his brother's failings hide, And show a brother's love! Love is the golden chain that binds The happy souls above; And he's an heir of heaven that finds His bosom glow with love.

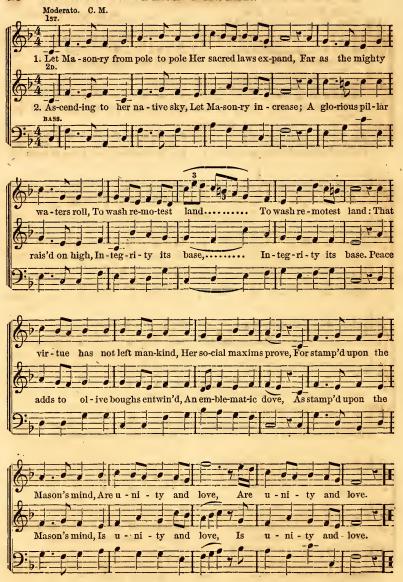

191 The American Freemason.

BY BRO. ROB. MORRIS.

- 1 Oh what a goodly heritage
 The Lord to us hath given!
 How blest the Brothers here that pledge
 Their Mason vows to heaven!
 I sing the mystic chain that binds
 These Western realms in one,—
 Such loving hearts, such liberal minds,
 No other land has known.
- 2 Four thousand Lights, in Mason's halls, Are gleaming on our eyes; Four thousand emblems on our walls Tell whence that gleaming is; And when the portals more. to pass The humble seeker in, The voice of prayer pervades the place, And proves the Light DIVINE.
- 3 On every hill our dead they lie,
 And green sprigs deck the knoll;
 Their fall was moisture to the eye,
 But triumph to the soul.
 Our orphans smile in every home,
 Our widow's hearts are glad;
 Our "Light" dispels the darkest gloom,
 And comfort finds the sad.
- 4 Thus link in link, from shore to shore,
 The mystic chain is bound;
 Oh, blended thus forevermore
 May Masons' hearts be found:
 And while the heavens, on pillars sure
 Of Strength and Wisdom stand,
 May Brotherhood like ours endure,
 Where Strength and Wisdom blend.

192 Opening Hymn.

- 1 O God! we lift our hearts to thee,
 And grateful voices raise;
 We thank thee for this festive night,—
 Accept our humble praise.
 Here may our souls delight to bless
 The God of truth and grace,
 Who crowns our labors with success,
 Among the rising race!
- 2 May each unholy passion cease, Each evil thought be crushed, Each anxious care that mars our peace In Faith and Love be hushed. Oh! may we all in Truth abound, And Charity pursue; Thus shall we be with glory crowned, And love as angels do.

AS MORNING BREEZE IN BALMY SPRING. 49

196

Opening.

- 1 Blest are the sons of peace, Whose hearts and hopes are one; Whose kind designs to serve and please, Through all their actions run.
- 2 Blest is this happy place, Where Zeal and friendship meet; Where Truth, and Love, and heav'nly grace, Make our communion sweet.
- 3 Thus on the heavenly hills

 May we be blest above;

 Where joy, like morning dew, distils,

 And all the air is love.

197 Royal Arch. Opening.

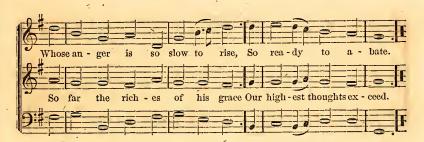

- 1 Thy Name, almighty Lord!
 Shall sound through distant lands;
 Great is thy grace, and sure thy Word;
 Thy Truth forever stands.
- 2 Far be thine honor spread, And long thy praise endure, Till morning light and evening shade Shall be exchanged no more.

198

Dedication, &c.

- 1 Blest be the tie that binds Our hearts in virtuous love: The fellowship of kindred minds, Is like to that above.
- 2 Before our Father's throne, We pour our ardent prayers; Our fears, our hopes, our aims are one, Our comforts and our cares.
- When we asunder part,
 It gives us inward pain:
 But we shall still be joined in heart,
 And hope to meet again.
- 4 This glorious hope revives
 Our courage by the way;
 While each in expectation lives,
 And longs to see the day.
- 5 From sorrow, toil and pain, And siu, we shall be free; And perfect love and friendship reign Through all eternity.

200 Opening, or Closing.

- 1 Great source of light and love, To thee our songs we raise! Oh in the temple, Lord, above, Hear and accept our praise!
- 2 May this fraternal band, of In Faith and Hope be blessed; In Charity thrice blessed stand, In purity be dressed.
- 3 May all the sons of peace
 Their every grace improve,
 'Till discord through the nations cease,
 And all the world be love.

201 Opening Encampment.

- Let songs of endless praise
 From every heart arise;
 Let all the lands their tribute raise,
 To God, who rules the skies.
- 2 His mercy and his love
 Are boundless as his name;
 And all eternity shall prove
 His Truth remains the same.

202 Royal Arch. Closing.

- 1 Companions, we have met,
 And passed a peaceful hour;
 These moments may we ne'er forget,
 But hope and pray for more.
- 2 Through this, and every night, Lord, grant us sweet repose; Now aid us; by thy holy light, This Royal Arch to close.

203 Closing.

- 1 Now brothers we must part,
 Where we have met in peace;
 Where harmony its joys impart,
 And strife and discord cease.
- 2 We on the Level meet, Upon the Square we part; May truth, and love, and friendship sweet, Pervade each brother's heart.
- 3 Here, Lord, before we part, 11clp us to bless thy name; Let every tongue, and every heart, Praise and adore the same.

205

Closing.

- Now brothers we must part,
 Where we have met in peace;
 Where harmony its joys impart,
 And strife and discord cease.
- 2 We on the Level meet, Upon the Square we part; May Truth, and love, and friendship sweet, Peryade each brother's heart.
- 3 Here, Lord, before we part,
 Help us to bless thy name;
 Let every tongue, and every heart,
 Praise and adore the same.

206 Royal Arch. Closing.

- 1 Companions, we have met
 And passed a peaceful hour;
 These moments may we ne'er forget,
 But hope and pray for more.
- 2 Through this, and every night, Lord, grant us sweet repose; Now aid us, by thy holy light, This Royal Arch to close.

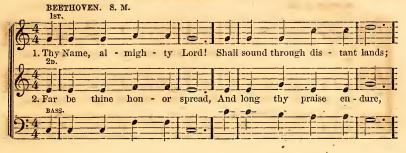

207 Funeral Hymn.

- 1 Come, brethren of the craft, Come shed a tear of grief For our beloved friend, bereft Of life—a sad relief.
- 2 Kind Heaven! let angels wing Their way to earth again, And waft a soul — the guest we bring, To bliss, e'er to remain.
- 3 Let us, the grave behold!
 And lift our thoughts above;
 And mourn our loss, as yet untold,
 And raise him still in love.

208 Encampment. Closing.

- Once more, before we part,
 O bless the Saviour's name;
 Let every tongue and every heart
 Praise and adore the same.
- 2 Lord, in thy grace we came; That blessing still impart; We met in Jesus' sacred name, In his dear name we part.

ROYAL ARCH. OPENING.

210 Knight Templar. Opening.

- 1 While my Redeemer's near, My Shepherd and my guide, I bid farewell to every fear; My wants are all supplied.
- 2 To ever-fragrant meads, Where rich abundance grows, His gracious hand indulgent leads, And guards my sweet repose.
- 3 Dear Shepherd! if I stray,
 My wandering feet restore;
 And guard me with a watchful eye,
 And let me rove no more.

211

Closing.

- Lord, keep us safe this night, Secure from all our fears; May angels guard us while we sleep, Till morning light appears.
- 2 Lord, when our days are past, And we from time remove, Oh may we in thy bosom rest, The bosom of thy love.

212

Closing.

- Lord, at this closing hour, Establish every heart
 Upon thy word of truth and power, To keep us when we part.
- 2 Peace to our brethren give; Fill all our hearts with love; In Faith and Friendship may we live, And seek our rest above.
- 3 Through changes bright or drear, We would thy will pursue, And toil like faithful servants here, Till we thy glory view.

213

Closing.

- 1 Great God! impart thy power
 To every waiting heart;
 Diffuse around a gracious shower,
 And bless us e'er we part.
- 2 Bless all who in this place, Have heard with earnest mind; Give every brother here the grace, The way of life to find.

215 Dedication, or Consecration.

- 1 Great source of light and love, To Thee our songs we raise! O! in thy temple, Lord, above, Hear and accept our praise!
- 2 Shine on this festive day, Suceeed its hoped design, And may our Charity display A love resembling thine.
- 3 May this fraternal band, Now Consecrated—blest, In Union all distinguished stand, In Purity be drest.
- 4 May all the sons of peace,
 Their every grace improve;
 Till discord through the nations cease,
 And all the world be love.

216

Opening.

- 1 Kind Father! hear our prayer,— We bow before thy throne; O may we find acceptance there, And peace before unknown.
- 2 Within these walls may Peace And Harmony be found; May Faith and Charity increase, And Hope and Love abound.

217

Closing.

- 1 Now, brothers, we must part,
 Where we have met in peace,
 Where harmony its joys impart,
 And strife and discord cease.
- 2 We on the Level meet, Upon the Square we part; May Truth and Love, and Friendship sweet Pervade each brother's heart.
- 3 Here, Lord, before we part, Help us to bless thy name; Let every tongue, and every heart, Praise and adore the same.

218 Royal Arch. Closing.

Thy Name, Almighty Lord, Shall sound through distant lands; Great is thy power, and sure thy Word; Thy Truth forever stands.

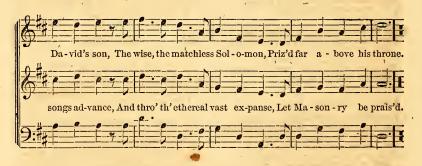

219 - Closing.

- 1 Lord, keep us safe this night, Secure from all our fears; May angels guard us while we sleep, Till morning light appears.
- 2 Lord, when our days are past, And we from time remove, Oh may we find in heaven a rest, In mansions of thy love.

We help the poor in time of need,
The naked clothe, the hungry feed,
'Tis our foundation stone:
We build upon the noblest plan,
For friendship rivets man to man,
And makes us all as one.

Still louder, Fame! thy trumpet blow; Let all the distant regions know Free-Masonry is this: Almighty Wisdom gave it birth, And Heaven has fixed it here on earth. A type of future bliss!

222 Social Song.

- 1 Convened we're met my jovial souls, Then fill again the flowing bowls, Let concord be the toast; With glass in hand, let each agree To sing in praise of Masonry, What mortal more can boast.
- 2 Here dove-eyed peace, celestial maid, Stands ready waiting us to aid, And guard our mystic door! Here's charity, from heaven sent, To bring her freeborn sons content, And comfort to the poor.
- 3 See, in the East effulgent shine, Bright wisdom with his rays divine, Hark! hark the solemn sound; While thus we live in mutual love, We taste what angels do above, Here happiness is found.
- 4 The fruit of Eden's tree we taste,
 Its oalmy joys are our repast,
 Here freedom cheers the heart;
 The indigent, opprest with grief,
 Gains from his brother's hand relief,
 Each to his want impart.
- 5 The great and good, with us combine To trace our mysteries divine, And find the pleasing light; With pleasure we pursue the plan, While friendship rivets man to man, How pleasing is the sight.
- 6 Till Heaven sends its summons forth,
 From east to west, from south to north,
 Her chosen sons to call;
 While time runs its continual round,
 Shall fame with golden trumpet sound,
 Masons shall never fall.

223 Masonic Ode.

- 1 Hail, Mystic Light! whose holy flame
 Can cheer the weak, the fierce can tame,
 And raise the trembling soul!
 Hail, sacred source of human skill!
 Hail, great director of the will!
 Star of the mental pole!
- 2 Hail, Masonry! thou first, thou last, Of all the scope by mind embraced; Thou teacher, friend, and guide; Around thine altar now we stand, In union strong, a loving band; Thus will we e'er abide.

224 Anniversary, or Installation.

- 1 When darkness veiled the hopes of man, Then light with radiant beams began To cheer his clouded way; In graceful form, to soothe his woes, The Beauty to his vision rose, In bright and gentle ray.
- 2 Immortal Order stood confessed, From furthest East to distant West, In columns just and true; The faithful Plumb and Level there, Uniting with the mystic Square, The Temple brought to view.
- 3 Descending then from heaven, Most High, Came Charity with tearful eye To dwell with feeble man; Hope whispered peace in brighter skies, On which a trusting Faith reiles. And earth's best joys began.
- 4 Abroad was seen the boon of Heaven, Fraternal Love was kindly given, And touched each kindred heart; The Sons of Light with transport then, In kindness to their fellow men, Unveiled the Mystic Art.
- 5 Let grateful peans loudly raise O'er earth's domains, to azure skies, As time shall onward move; A brother's joy and we shall be, Undying bonds to mark the Free, To wake a brother's Love.

225 Masonic Song.

- 1 Divine Urania, virgin pure!
 Enthroned in the Ölympian bower,
 I here invoke thy lays!
 Celestial muse! awake the lyre,
 With heaven-born sweet seraphic fire,
 Free-Masonry to praise.
- 2 The stately structures that arise, And brush the concave of the skies, Still ornament thy shrine; Th' aspiring dome, those works of ours, "The solemn temples—cloud capt towers," Coufess the Art divine.
- 3 With Prudence all our actions are, By Bible, Compass, and by Square, In love and truth combined; While Justice and Benevolence, With Fortitude and Temperance, Adorn and grace the mind!

- 2 Like fruitful showers of rain, That water all-the plain, Descending from the neighboring hills; Such streams of pleasure roll Through every friendly soul, Where love, like heavenly dew, distils.
- 3 'Tis like the ointment, shed
 On Aaron's sacred head,
 Divinely rich, divinely sweet!
 The oil through all the room
 Diffused a choice perfume,
 Ran through his robes, and blest his feet.

227 Opening.

- 1 Oh God! thy love we praise;
 How bright its glories blaze!
 Oh! may we live and love as one;
 Onr doubts and fears depart,
 In each and every heart
 The holy will of God be done.
- 2 Thanks, grateful thanks, we raise,
 To him who crowns our days
 With blessings numberless and free;
 In one united band
 Of brothers, hand in hand,
 Live we in love and Unity

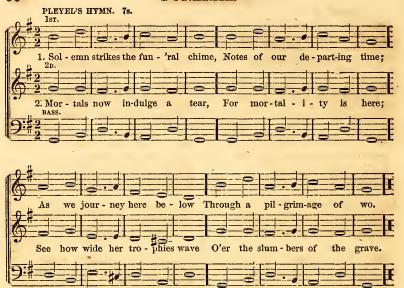

229 Installation.

- Ye boundless realms of joy, Exalt your Maker's fame; His praise your song employ Above the starry frame; Your voices raise, Ye cherubim And seraphim, To sing his praise.
- 2 United zeal be shown, His wondrous fame to raise, Whose glorious name alone Deserves our endless praise. Earth's utmost ends, His power obey; His glorious sway The sky transcends.

230 Anniversary.

- Give thanks to God most high,
 The universal Lord;
 The sovereign King of kings:
 And be his grace adored.
 Thy mercy, Lord, Shall still endure,
 And ever sure Abides thy word.
- 2 God is our sun and shield, Our light, and our defence; With gifts his hands are filled; We draw our blessings thence: He shall bestow On Jacob's race Peculiar grace, And glory too.

- 3 Here another guest we bring! Scraphs, of celestial wing, To our funeral altar come, Waft our friend and brother home.
- 4 Lord of all below, above, Fill our souls with Truth and Love; As dissolves our earthly tie, Take us to thy Lodge on high!

232 Closing, on any Degree.

- 1 Lord of glory! King of power! In this lone and silent hour, Bid our feverish passions cease; Calm us with thy promised peace.
- 2 Sweetly may we all agree, In fraternal sympathy; Kindly for each other care; Every Brother do his share.
- 3 Sweetly may our spirits move, To the harmony of love; When our work of life is past, Oh! receive us all at last.

- 233 Knights Templar. Closing.
- 1 For a season called to part, Let us now ourselves commend, To the gracious eye and heart Of our ever-present friend.
- 2 Saviour! hear our humble prayer;
 Tender Shepherd of thy sheep!
 Let thy mercy and thy care
 All our souls in safety keep.
- 3 In thy strength may we be strong; Sweeten every cross and pain; Grant, that if we live, ere long, We may meet in peace again.

234 Most Excellent Master.

- 1 Suppliant, lo! we humbly bend, Father, for thy blessing now; Thou canst teach us, guide, defend; We are weak, but mighty theu
- 2 Shed abroad, in every mind, Light celestial from above; Charity for all our kind, Trusting faith and holy love

235

Opening.

- 1 Met in Friendship's kindly name, We around our altar stand, Owning each religion's claim, Bowing at her strict command.
- 2 Here our heartfelt prayers unite, For each Brother whom we love, Blest with that pure Holy Light, Here reflected from above.

236 Opening, or Closing.

- When the morning paints the skies, When the stars of evening rise, We thy praises will record, Sovereign Ruler, Mighty Lord.
- 2 O how blest, how excellent, 'Tis when heart and tongue consent, Grateful heart and joyful tongue, Hymning thee in cheerful song.

237

Closing.

1 Lord, to thee our souls would raise Grateful, cheerful songs of praise; And, when every blessing's flown, Love thee for THYELF alone.

238 Hymn for Installation.

- 1 Unto thee, Great God, belong Mystic rites, and sacred song; Lowly bending at thy shrine, Hail, thou Majesty divine!
- 2 Glorious Architect, above, Source of Light, and source of Love; Here thy light and love prevail, Hail! Almighty Master, hail!
- 3 Still to us, O God! dispense
 Thy divine benevolence;
 Teach the tender tear to flow,
 Melting at a brother's woe.
- 4 Heavenly Father, grant that we, Blest with boundless charity, To th' admiring world may prove, Happy they who dwell in Love.
- 5 Join, oh Earth; and as you roll, East to West, from pole to pole, Lift to Him your grateful lays, Join the universal praise.

239

Opening.

- 1 Lord! subdue our selfish will; Each to each our tempers suit, By thy modulating skill, Heart to heart, as lute to lute.
- 2 Sweetly on our spirits move; Gently touch the trembling strings Make the harmony of Love Music for the King of kings!

240 Knights Templar.

- 1 Angels! roll the rock away! Death! yield up thy mighty prey! See! he rises from the tomb, Rises with immortal bloom.
- 2 'Tis the Saviour seraphs, raise Your triumphant shouts of praise; Let the earth's remotest bound, Hear the joy-inspiring sound.
- 3 Praise him, all ye heavenly choirs, Praise, and sweep your golden lyres Praise him in the noblest songs, Praise him from ten thousand tongues.

241 Master Mason.

- 1 Hear my prayer. Jehovah, hear! Listen to my humble cries: See the day of trouble near, Heavy on my soul it lies.
- 2 Hide not, then, thy gracious face, When the storm around me falls. Hear me, O thou God of grace, In the time thy servant calls.

242 Royal Arch. Closing.

- 1 Lord, before thy throne we bend, Now to thee our eyes ascend: Servants to our Master true, Lo! we yield thee homage due.
- 2 Low before thee, Lord, we bow, We are weak — but mighty thou: Sore distressed, yet suppliant still, Here we wait thy holy will.
- 3 Leave us not beneath the power Of temptation's darkest hour; Heavenly Father, yet be nigh, Lord of life and victory!

thy glo-ries own-Thou art

244

Low

Royal Arch.

1 Joy! the sacred Law is found, Now the temple stands complete, Gladly let us gather round, Where the Poutiff holds his seat.

we

- 2 Joy! the secret vault is found; Full the sunbeam falls within, Pointing darkly under ground To the treasure we would win.
- 3 This shall be the corner stone,
 Which the builders threw away,
 But was found the only one
 Fitted for the arch's stay.

245 Closing.

- 1 Brothers, ere to-night we part, Join each voice and every heart; Grateful songs to God we'll raise. Hymning forth our songs of praise.
- 2 Brothers, we may meet no more, Yet there is a happier shore; Where, released from toil and pain, Brothers, we shall meet again.

246

Opening.

God, and

- 1 Lord, we come before thee now; At thy feet we humbly bow; Fill our hearts with thy rich grace; Tune our lips to sing thy praise.
- 2 Comfort those who weep and mourn; Let the time of joy return; Those who are cast down, lift up: Make them strong in Faith and Hope.
- 3 Grant that all may seek and find Thee, a God supremely kind: Heal the sick, the captive free, Let us all rejoice in thee.

247 Closing. - G. W. CHASE.

- 1 Heavenly Parent! cre we part, Send thy blessing to each heart; Make us loving, true, and kind; Make us one in heart and mind.
- 2 May we for each other care; Each his Brother's burden bear: Fill our souls with Love divine; Keep us, Lord, forever thine.

- 3 Whilst in yonder regions bright, The Sun by day, the Moon by night; And the stars that gild the sky, Blazon forth thy praise on high.
- 4 Join, oh Earth; and as you roll From East fo West, from pole to pole, Lift to Him your grateful lays, Join the universal praise.
- 5 Still to us, oh God, dispense Thy divine benevolence; Teach the tender tear to flow, Melting at a Brother's woe.

249 Opening, or Closing.

- 1 Softly now the light of day Fades upon our sight away; Free from care, from labor free, Lord, we would commune with thee-
- 2 Soon for us the light of day Shall forever pass away; Then, from care and sorrow free, Take us, Lord, to dwell with thee.

250 Hymn for Dedication.

- 1 Lord, what offering shall we bring At thine Altar, when we bow; Hearts, the pure unsulfied spring, Whence the kind affections flow.
- 2 Willing hands to lead the blind, Bind the wound, or feed the poor; Love, embracing all mankind, Charity, with liberal store.
- 3 Teach us, oh thou heavenly King, Thus to show our grateful mind; Thus th' accepted offering bring,— Love to Thee and all mankind.

251 Closing.

- 1 When shall we all meet again? Where shall we all meet again? When the dreams of life are fled, When its wasted lamps are dead:
- 2 When in cold oblivion's shade, Beauty, wealth, and fame are laid, Where immortal spirits reign, There may we all meet again.

253

Opening.

- 1 Softly fades the twilight ray Of another closing day; Gently as life's setting sun, When the Christian's course is run.
- 2 Night her solemn mantle spreads O'er the earth, as daylight fades; All things tell of calm repose, Like the holy Sabbath's close.
- 3 Peace is on the world abroad; 'Tis the holy peace of God,—Symbol of the peace within, When the spirit rests from sin.

254 Opening.

- Suppliant, lo! we humbly bend, Father, for thy blessing now: Thou canst teach us, guide, defend; We are weak, but mighty thou.
- 2 Shed abroad, in every mind, Light celestial from above; Charity for all our kind, Trusting faith and holy love.

255 Opening, or Closing.

- 1 Holy Spirit, from on high, Bend o'er us a pitying eye; Life and peace to us impart; Dwell thyself in every heart.
- 2 May we constant grow in grace, And with vigor run the race, Trained in wisdom, led by love, Till we reach our rest above.

256 Opening.

- Holy Lord, lend now thine ear, While our grateful song we raise; May devotion, pure, sincere, Mingle with our notes of praise.
- Help us at this sacred hour;
 Send the cares of earth away;
 May we feel thy Spirit's power
 While we chant our solemn lay.
- 3 Fill our hearts with holy fear, While we feel thy presence nigh; Let contrition's gentle tear Moisten every brother's eye.

258 Opening, or Closing.

- 1 Father! glory be to thee,
 Source of all the good we see;
 Glory for the blessed light,
 Rising on the ancient night;
 Glory for the hopes that come,
 Steaming through the dreary tomb,
 Glory for the counsel given,
 Guiding us in peace to heaven.
- 2 Holy, holy, holy Lord!
 Be thy glorious name adored;
 Lord! thy mercies never fail;
 Hail! celestial goodness, hail!
 While on earth ordained to stay,
 Guide our footsteps in thy way;
 Then on high we'll joyful raise
 Songs of everlasting praise.

259 Closing.

Thou from whom we never part,
Thou whose love is everywhere,
Thou who seest every heart,
Listen to our evening prayer.
Heavenly Father, through the night
Keep us safe from every ill;
Cheerful, at the morning light,
May we wake to do thy will.

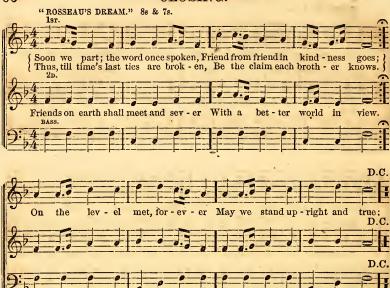

260 Hymn, For Various Occosions

1 Father of the human race,
Wise, beneficent, and kind,
Spread o'er nature's anple face,
Flows thy goodness unconfined:
Musing in the silent grove,
Or the busy walks of men,
Still we trace thy wondrous love,
Claiming large returns again.

2 Lord, what offerings shall we bring
At thine altars, when we bow?
Hearts, the pure unsullied-spring
Whence the kind affections flow;
Soft compassion's feeling soul,
By the melting eye expressed;
Sympathy, at whose control
Sorrow leaves the wounded breast:

3 Willing hands to lead the blind,
Heal the wounded, feed the poor:
Love, embracing all our kind;
Charity, with liberal store:
Teach us, O thou heavenly King,
Thus to show our grateful mind,
Thus th' accepted offering bring,—
Love to thee and all mankind.

262 Funeral Hymn.

- Cease, ye mourners; cease to languish
 O'er the graves of those ye love;
 Pain and death, and night and anguish,
 Enter not the world above.
 While in darkness ye are straying,
 Lonely in the deep ning shade,
 Glory's brightest beams are playing
 Round th' Immortal spirit's head.
- 2 Cease, ye mourners; cease to languish O'er the graves of those ye love; Far removed from pain and anguish, They are chanting hymns above. Light and grace at once deriving From the hand of God on high, In His glorious presence shining, They shall never, never die.

263 Closing.

Lord, may angels watch above us, ~ Keep us all from error free; May they guard, and guide, and love us, Till from earth we be set free. May our footsteps never falter In the path the good have trod; May we worship at the altar Of the great and living God.

264 Encampment.

- 1 Gently, Lord! Oh! gently lead us,
 Through this pilgrimage of tears;
 Through the changes thou'st decreed us,
 Till our last great change appears:
 When temptation's darts assail us,
 When in devious paths we stray,
 Let thy goodness never fail us,
 Lead us in thy perfect way.
- 2 In the hour of pain and anguish, In the hour when death draws near, Suffer not our hearts to languish, Suffer not our souls to fear; And, when mortal life is ended, Bid us on thy bosom rest, Till, by angel bands attended, We awake among the blest.

265 Closing.

Now, in gratitude abounding, May our hearts find sweet employ; Every tuneful chord resonnding With the notes of grateful joy: May the tear of human sorrow Still through skies of mercy fall; Grant, oh Father, that the morrow May to fresh rejoicing call.

267 Fellow Craft. Work

- 1 Brothers, faithful and deserving, Now the second rank you fill, Purchased by your faultless serving, Leading to a higher still.
- 2 Thus from rank to rank ascending, Mounts the Mason's path of love; Bright its earthly course, and ending In the glorious Lodge above.

268 Opening. 1

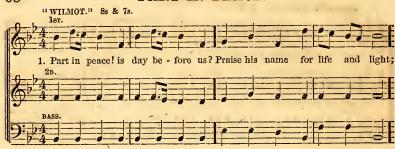

- 1 Here all worldly cares forgetting, Every stormy passion stilled, Angels bless us with their presence, And our souls with peace are filled.
- 2 Vainly break life's bitter surges 'Gaiust the walls that gird us in; Only in the faintest murmurs, Comes to us their angry din.
- 3 Here, while heart to heart respondeth, Through the pulse's rhythmic beat, Soul with soul, in fullest measure, Blendeth in communion sweet.

269 Closing.

- 1 Now we part! what sad emotion Fills each Brother's kindly heart, As amid the world's commotion Each retires to take a part.
- 2 Let us, round this sacred altar, All our solemn vows renew; Never waver, never falter, Each be steadfast, firm, and true.

270 Charity.

- 1 Meek and lowly, pure and holy, Chief among the blessed three, Turning sadness into gladness, Heaven-born art thou, Charity!
- 2 Hoping ever, failing never, Though deceived, believing still; Long abiding, all confiding To thy Heavenly Father's will.
- 3 Never weary of well doing, Never fearful of the end; Claiming all mankind as Brothers, Thou dost all alike befriend.

- 2 Part in peace! with deep thanksgiving, Rendering, as we homeward tread, Gracious service to the living, Tranquil mem'ry to the dead.
- 3 Part in peace! such are the praises God, our Maker, loveth best; Such the worship that upraises Human hearts to heavenly rest.

- 1 Guide me, O thou great Jehovah! Pilgrim through this barren land: I am weak, but thou art mighty-Hold me in thy powerful hand.
- 2 Open now the crystal fountain, Whence the healing streams do flow: Let the fiery, cloudy pillar, Lead me all my journey through.
- 3 Feed me with the heavenly manna. In this barren wilderness; Be my sword, and shield, and banner; Be my robe of righteousness.

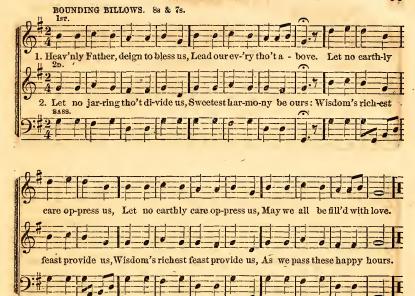

4 When I tread the verge of Jordan, Bid my anxious fears subside; O'er its troubled waters bear me: Land me safe on Canaan's side.

Closing.

- 1 Lo! the day of rest declineth, Gather fast the shades of night; Yet the sun, that ever shineth, Fills our souls with heavenly light.
- Encampment. Opening, or Closing. 2 While, thine ear of love addressing, Thus our parting hymn we sing, Father, with thine evening blessing, Rest we safe beneath thy wing.

274 Closing.

- Part in peace! with deep thanksgiving, Rendering, as we homeward tread, Gracious service to the living, Tranquil memory to the dead.
- 2 Part in peace! such are the praises God, our Maker, loveth best; Such the worship that upraises Human hearts to heavenly rest.

276 Closing.

- 1 Soon we part—let kind affection
 Be in all our acts displayed;
 Show by word, and deed, and action,
 Truth, and love, and friendly aid.
- 2 Soon will our Grand Master call us From this present bond of love; And, if worthy, will install us In the great Grand Lodge above.
- 3 Let us then, in bonds fraternal, Ever, ever onward move; Let our ties be the cternal Chain of Brotherhood and Love.

277 The Kindred Few.

- 1 If misfortune should o'ertake us,
 May we find a home with those
 Who may chide but not forsake us,
 Who will soothe our wants and woes.
- 2 Cast our lots with those who love us, Whose hearts tested, still prove true: Oh, may angel forms above us Ever guard the kindred few.

278

Closing.

- 1 Father, hear the prayer we offer; Not alone for peace we cry, But for grace, that we may ever Live our lives courageously.
- 2 Not within the fresh, green pastures, Will we ask that we may lie; But the steep and rugged pathway That we tread rejoicingly.
- 3 Be our strength in every weakness, In our doubt be thou our guide; Through each peril, through each danger, Draw us nearer to thy side.

279 Closing.

- 1 Lo! the day of rest declineth, Gather fast the shades of night; Yet the sun, that ever shineth, Fills our souls with heavenly light.
- 2 While, thine ear of love addressing, Thus our parting hymn we sing, Father, with thine evening blessing, Best we safe beneath thy wing.

281 Closing Hymn.

- 1 Now our festive joys are ending, And we all again must part; Ere we go, our voices blending, Give the tribute of the heart: Offer thanks, with grateful feeling, For our Father's love and grace, For the truths, like plants of healing, For the wounds of all our race.
- 2 Let us each, the lessons heeding
 Of this holy festal time,
 Strive by earnest prayer and reading,
 To possess the Truth sublime;—
 Truth, that kindles like the shining
 Of the stars when eve sets in;
 Truth far better for divining
 Than the rods and charts of men.
- 3 Now farewell! but ere retreating,
 Let us here, in union strong,
 Vow we will not live defeating
 All that prompts to turn from wrong;
 Then at last, on high ascending,
 Shall our anthems joyous rise;
 With angelic voices blending
 Far above you azure skies.

282 Opening.

- 1 When the light of day is wiuging,
 To this place we oft repair;
 Here we all unite in singing,
 Here devoutly join in prayer:
 While in harmony our voices
 Are ascending to our God,
 Every grateful heart rejoices
 Thus to spread his praise abroad.
- 2 In the duties now before us,
 Let us faithfully engage;
 May the light of Truth shine o'er us,
 Brightly from the sacred page:
 Father! thus in pure devotion,
 Every thought inspired by love,
 Gratitude in each emotion,
 Would we lift our souls above.

283 Closing.

Lo! the day at last declineth,
Gather fast the shades of night;
Yet the sun that ever shineth
Fills our souls with heavenly light.
While, thine ear of love addressing,
Thus our parting hymn we sing,
Father, with thine evening blessing,
Rest we safe beneath thy wing.

284 - Opening.

- 1 Heavenly Father, gently bless us,
 Lead our every thought above;
 Let no earthly care oppress us,
 May we all be filled with love.
 Let no jarring thought divide us,
 Sweetest harmony be ours;
 Wisdom's richest feast provide us,
 As we pass these happy hours.
- 2 Father! hear the prayer we offer;
 For repose we do not cry,
 But for grace, that we may ever
 Live our lives courageously.
 Be our strength in every weakness,
 In our doubt be thou our guide;
- In our doubt be thou our guide;
 Through each peril, through each danger,
 Draw us nearer to thy side.

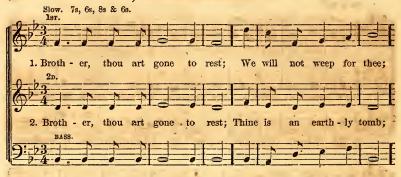

285 Funeral Hymn.

- 1 Cease, ye mourners; cease to languish
 O'er the graves of those you love;
 Pain, and night, and death, and anguish,
 Enter not the world above.
 While in darkness ye are straying,
 Lonely in the deepening shade,
 Glory's brightest beams are playing
 Round th' immortal spirit's head.
- 2 Cease, ye mourners; cease to languish O'er the graves of those you love; Far removed from pain and anguish, They are chanting hymns above. Light and grace at once deriving, From the land of God on high, In His glorious presence shining, They shall never, never die.

286 Royal Arch. Closing.

- 1 Humbly at thine altar kneeling,
 Hear us, Father, hear, we pray;
 Thou whose eye doth watch us sleeping,
 Safely keep us through life's day.
 Guide us, Heavenly Father, guide us;
 Cleanse our thoughts from every stain;
 Let the grace of thy pure spirit
 Be our soul's delight and aim.
- 2 When our day of life is over, May we dwell with Thee above; May we join with seraph's hymning Praise to thee — thou God of Love. There, with angel harps and voices, May we swell the ceaseless song, Ever happy, ever holy, Thou our God, and Heaven our home.

72 "BROTHER, THOU ART GONE TO REST."

Brother, thou art gone to rest,—
Thy toils and cares are o'er;
And sorrow, pain, and suffering, now
Shall ne'er distress thee more.

Brother, thou art gone to rest;
Thy sins are all forgiven;
And saints in light have welcomed thee
To share the joys of heaven.

Brother, thou art gone to rest;
And this shall be our prayer,—
That when we reach our journey's end,
Thy glory we may share.

38 Charity.

"Then constant Faith and holy Hope shall die,

One lost in certainty, and one in joy; Whilst thou, more happy power, fair Char-

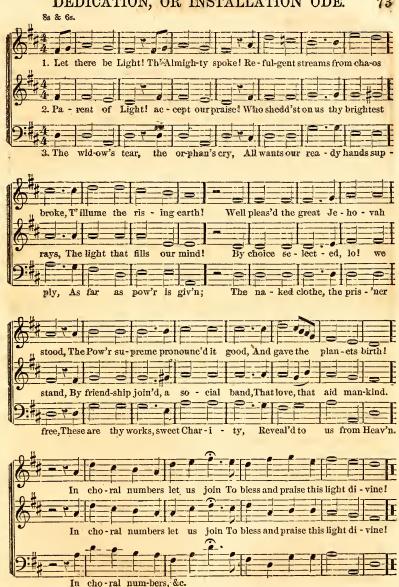

Triumphant sister, greatest of the three, Thy office and thy nature still the same, Lasting thy lamp, and unconsumed thy flame,

Shall still survive -

Shalt stand before the host of heaven confessed,

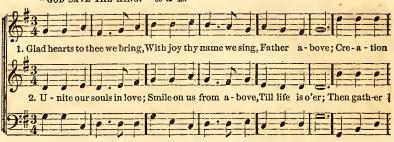

Forever blessing, and forever blessed."

289 Closing.—G. W. CHASE.
Brothers, as we part this night,
May each devoutly pray,—
We all, among the "Sons of Light,"
May meet in endless day.

"GOD SAVE THE KING." 6s & 4s.

292

Mark Master.

- 1 Mark Masters all appear; Before the Chief O'erseer, In concert move; Let him your work inspect, For the Chief Architect; If there be no defect, He will approve.
- 2 You who have passed the square, For your reward prepare; Join heart and hand; Each with his mark in view, March with the just and true, Wages to you are due, At your command.
- 3 Hiram, the widow's son, Sent unto Solomon, Our great keystone; On it appears the name, Which raises high the fame Of all to whom the same Is truly known.

4 Now to the westward move,
Where, full of strength and love,
Hiram doth stand;
But if imposters are
Mixed with the worthy there,
Caution them to beware
Of the right hand.

Ceremonies.

5 Now to the praise of those
Who triumphed o'er the foes
Of Masons' art:
To the praiseworthy three,
Who founded this degree;
May all their virtues be
Deep in our hearts.

293

Closing.

God of our Fathers, hear, And to our cry be near, Jehovah, God! While we before thee bow, Forgive in mercy now, Thy servants here, O Thou Eternal God.

294 Knights Templar.

- 1 God bless the worthy band, Who grace this happy land With vallant Knights; May the united Three Of the blest Trinity, Cement the Unity Of all great lights.
- 2 No Turk or Jew we'll fight, But in Religion's right We'll breathe our last; Entered, passed, raised, and arched, And then like princes marched, And though with rigor searched, Glorious we've passed.
- 3 Then Knights, clasp hand in hand; In one united band
 We circle round;
 May we e'er live in love;
 May none unfaithful prove;
 And finally, above
 May all be found.

295 Anniversary Ode.

- 1 E'er this vast world was made, Or its foundation laid, Our Art begun; Cherub and Cherubim, Seraph and Seraphim, Joined in one glorious hymn Before the throne.
- 2 God their Grand Master was; Fixed their unerring laws; By his decree: Faith, Hope, and Charity, Friendship, and Unity, Truth, Love, and Secrecy, All laws divine.
- 3 Oli may our constant theme,
 To Heaven's Great King, Supreme!
 Be grateful Love:
 May we whene'er we meet,
 Chant Hallelujah's sweet,
 And three times three repeat
 Jehoyah's praise.

 Three times.

296 Closing.

When our last labor's o'er, And scenes of life no more Charm our frail sight; Then, in God's holy care, May each protection share, Bliss find unending there, In perfect light.

297 Installation, or Dedication.

- 1 Thou! who art God alone, Accept before thy throne Our fervent prayer! To fill with light and grace, This house, thy dwelling-place, And bless thy chosen race, O God! draw near.
- 2 As through the universe, All nature's works diverse, Thy praise accord; Let Faith upon us shine, And Charity combine, With Hope, to make us thine, Jehoyah, Lord.
- 3 Spirit of Truth and Love, Descending from above, Our hearts inflame, Till Masonry's control Shall build in one the whole A Temple of the soul To thy great name.

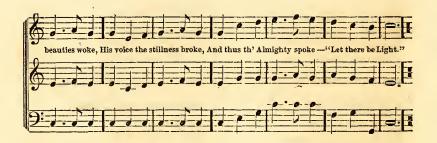

298 Laying Foundation Stone.

- 1 Let Masons' fame resound Through all the nations round, From pole to pole: See what felicity, Harmless simplicity, Like electricity, Runs through the whole.
- 2 When in the Lodge we're met, And in due order set, Happy are we: Faith, Hope, and Charity, Love and Sincerity, Friendship and Unity, Are ever free.
- 3 Long may our Craft be free, And may they ever be Great, as of yore: For many ages past Masonry has stood fast, And may its glory last Till time's no more.

299 Doxology.

To God—the Father, Son, And Spirit—three in one, All praise be given! Crown him in every song; To him your hearts belong; Let all his praise prolong—On earth—in heaven.

- 2 Swift from yon orb of day Fled those dark shades away At his dread word; Then sang the stars on high, And through the arching sky Swelled Heaven's loud minstrelsy, Praise ye the Lord.
- 3 Almighty power, supreme, Send down thy brightest beam To every heart; Illume us with thy grace, Show us thy glorious face, And Heaven's own*righteousness To each impart.

301 Closing.

To Him who rules on high,— Whose love is ever nigh,— All praise be given; Let every heart adore, Till on that blissful shore We sing forevermore Secure in heaven.

302

Encampment.

- 1 Thou whose Almighty Word Chaos and darkness heard, And took their flight— Hear us, we humbly pray, And where the gospel day Sheds not its glorious ray, Let there be light.
- 2 Thou who didst come to bring, On thy redeeming wing, Healing and sight,— Health to the sick in mind, Sight to the inly blind,— Oh! now to all mankind Let there be light.
- 3 Spirit of truth and love, Life-giving, holy Dove, Speed forth thy flight; Move on the water's face, Bearing the lamp of grace; And, in earth's darkest place, Lct there be light.

303 Past Master.

- 1 Come, and with generous will, Past Master, bring your skill Our work to prove; Calm each invading storm, Each erring thought reform, With Truth each bosom warm, Inspired by love.
- 2 Firm as our columns stand, Be each approved command, Where Brothers dwell; Let notes of gladness roll Over each trusting soul; Far as from pole to pole Let anthems swell.

304 Invocation.

- 1 Let there be light! said God; And o'er the blooming sod Broke forth the Morn! Glad nature smiled in mirth, While beauty filled the earth, And flowers were born!
- 2 Let there be light within; Then darkness, woe, and sin, Your night is riven: Then in pale sorrow's eye, The starting tear shall dry; O speed it, Heaven.

305 Knights Templar.

- 1 The laws of Christian light,
 These are our weapons bright,
 Our mighty shield;
 Christ is our leader high,
 And the broad plains which lie
 Beneath the blessed sky
 Our battle-field.
- 2 On, then, in God's great name; Let each pure spirit's flame Burn bright and clear: Stand firmly in your lot, Cry ye aloud, "Doubt not"! Be every fcar forgot; Christ leads us here.
- 3 So shall earth's distant lands,
 In happy, holy bands,
 One brotherhood,
 Together rise and sing,
 And joyful offerings bring,
 And heaven's eternal King
 Pronounce it good.

306 Closing.

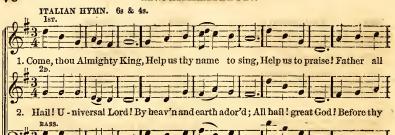

When our last labor's o'er, And scenes of life no more Charm our frail sight; Then, in God's holy care, May each protection share, Bliss find unending there, In perfect light.

307 Invocation. Encampment.

- 1 Come, thou incarnate Word, Come, thou our glorious Lord, Our prayer attend; Come, and thy servants bless, Come, give thy cause success; Spirit of holiness, On us descend.
- 2 Come, holy Comforter, Thy sacred witness bear, In this glad hour: Thou who Almighty art, Now rule in every heart, And ne'er from us depart, Spirit of power.
- 3 To Thee, great One in Three, The highest praises be, Hence evermore; Thy sovereign majesty May we in glory see, And to eternity Love and adore.

308 Anniversary, or Installation.

- 1 Praise ye Jehovah's Name;
 Praise through his courts proclaim;
 Rise and adore;
 High o'er the heavens above,
 Sound his great acts of love:
 While his rich grace we prove,
 Vast as his power.
- 2 Now let our voices raise Triumphant sounds of praise, Wide as his fame; There let the harps be found, Organs with solemn sound, Roll your deep notes around— Filled with his name.
- 3 While his high praise ye sing, Strike every sounding string; Sweet the accord!
 He vital breath bestows—
 Let every breath that flows,
 His noblest fame disclose:
 Praise ye the Lord.

310

Invocation.

- 1 Hail, universal Lord!
 By Heaven and earth adored,
 All hail, great God!
 From heaven, thy dwelling-place,
 Send down thy saving grace:
 Remember now our race,
 O Lord, our God.
- 2 God of our Fathers, hear, And to our cry be near, Jehovah, God! The heaven's eternal bow; Forgive in mercy now, Thy suppliants here, O thou Jehovah, God.
- 3 To thee our hearts now draw, On them write Thou thy law, Our Father, God! When in this lodge we're met, And at thine altar set, O, de not us forget, Our Father, God.

- 311 Encampment. Installation.
- 1 Glory to God on high!
 Let earth and skies reply,
 Praise ye his name!
 His love and grace adore,
 Who all our sorrows bore,
 Sing ye forevermore,
 Worthy the Lamb!
- 2 Join, all ye ransomed race, Our Saviour, God, to bless; Praise ye his name! To him our songs we bring, Hail him our gracious King, And, without ceasing, sing Worthy the Lamb!
- 3 Hail! Sovereign Prince of Peace!
 And may we never cease
 Praising his name;
 To him our songs we bring,
 Hail him our gracious King,
 And, without ceasing, sing
 Worthy the Lamb!

312 Installation Ode.

- I Hail! Masonry divine!
 Glory of ages shine,
 Long may'st thou reign;
 Where'er thy lodges stand,
 May they have great command,
 And always grace the land;
 Thou Art divine!
- 2 Great fabrics still arise, And grace the azure skies, Great are thy schemes: Thy noble orders are Matchless beyond compare, No art with thee can share; Thou art divine!
- 3 Hiram, the Architect, Did all the Craft direct How they should build; Sol'mon, great Israel's king, Did mighty blessings bring, And left us room to sing, Hail! royal Art!

313 Most Excellent Master. Opening.

- 1 See from the Orient rise, Bright beams to bless our eyes, All hearts to cheer;
 Let all with one consent, Impelled by true intent, Become Most Excellent, In love sincere.
- 2 Bring songs of joyous sound; Bring holy thoughts profound; With hearts sincere: 'Long be the Cap-stone found Grateful to all around, And notes of joy resound In accents clear.

314 Past Master.

- 1 Come, and with generous will, Past Master, bring your skill Our work to prove; Calm each invading storm, Each erring thought reform, With Truth each bosom warm, Inspired by love.
- 2 Firm as our columns stand, Be each approved command, Where Brothers dwell: Let notes of gladness roll Over each trusting soul; Far as from pole to pole Let anthems swell.

315 Closing.

Spirit of Truth and Love,
Descending from above,
Our hearts inflame,
Till Masonry's control
Shall build in one the whole,
A Temple of the soul
To thy great Name.

316 Installation, or Anniversary Ode.

BY S. D. W. BROWN.

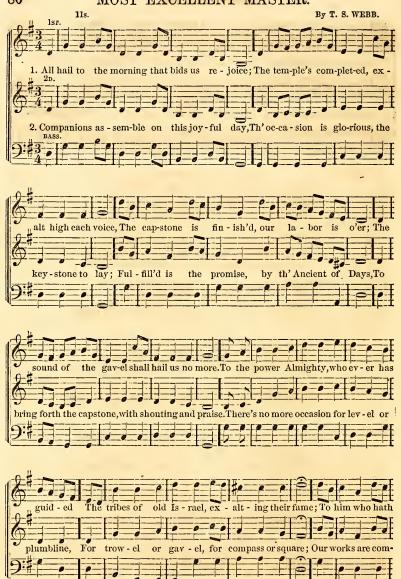

1 Hail! brother Masons, hail!
Let friendship long prevail,
And bind us fast;
May harmony and peace
Our happiness increase,
And friendship never cease,

While life doth last.

- 2 Sincerity and love,
 Descendants from above,
 Our minds employ;
 Morality our pride,
 And truth our constant guide,
 With us are close allied,
 And form our joy.
- 3 We on the level meet,
 And every brother greet,
 Skilled in our art;
 And when our labor's past,
 Each brother's hand we'll grasp,
 Then on the square at last,
 Friendly we'll part.
- 4 May Wisdom be our care, And Virtue form the square By which we live; That we at last may join The Heavenly Lodge sublime, Where we shall perfect shine With God above.

317 God Bless our Native Land.

- 1 God bless our native land!
 Firm may she ever stand,
 Through storm and night;
 When the wild tempests rave,
 Ruler of wind and wave,
 Do thou our country save,
 By thy great might.
- 2 For her our prayer shall rise
 To God above the skies;
 On him we wait;
 Thou who hast heard each sigh,
 Watching each weeping eye,
 Be thou forever nigh;
 God save the State!

318

Most Excellent Master.

- 1 All hail to the morning that bids us rejoice; The temple's completed, exalt high each voice: The capstone is finished, our labor is o'er; The sound of the gavel shall hail us no more.
- 2 To the power Almighty, who ever has guided The tribes of old Israel, exalting their fame; To him who hath governed our hearts undivided, Let's send forth our voices to praise his great name.
- 3 Companions assemble on this joyful day,
 Th' occasion is glorious, the keystone to lay;
 Fulfilled is the promise, by the Ancient of Days,
 To bring forth the capstone, with shouting and praise.

Ceremonies.

- 4 There's no more occasion for level or plumbline, For trowel or gavel, for compass or square; Our works are completed, the ark safely seated, And we shall be greeted as workmen most rare.
- 5 Now those that are worthy, our toils who have shared, And proved themselves faithful, shall meet their reward. Their virtue and knowledge, industry and skill, Have our approbation, have gained our good will.
- 6 We accept and receive them, Most Excellent Masters, Invested with honors, and power to preside, Among worthy craftsmen, wherever assembled, The knowledge of Masons to spread far and wide.

Ceremonies.

- 7 ALMIGHTY JEHOVAH, descend now and fill This Lodge with thy glory, our hearts with good will: Preside at our meetings, assist us to find True pleasure in teaching good will to mankind.
- 8 Thy wisdom inspired the great institution,
 Thy strength shall support it till nature expire;
 And when the creation shall fall into ruin,
 Its beauty shall rise through the midst of the fire.

Masonic Song.

- 1 When the sun from the East salutes mortal eyes, And the sky-lark melodiously bids us arise; With our hearts full of joy we the summons obey, And haste to our work at the dawn of the day.
- 2 On the Trestle our Master draws angles and lines, There with freedom and fervency forms his designs; Not a picture on earth is so lovely to view, All his lines are so perfect, his angles so true.
- 3 In the West see the Wardens submissively stand, The Master to aid, and obey his command; The intent of his signal we perfectly know, And we ne'er take offence when he gives us a blow.
- 4 In the Lodge, sloth and dullness we always avoid; Fellow-Crafts and Apprentices all are employed: Perfect ashlers some furnish, some make the rough plain, All are pleased with their work, and are pleased with their gain.

321

Opening, or Work.

Come, Craftsmen, assembled our pleasure to share, Who walk by the plumb, and who work by the square; While traveling in Love, on the Level of Time, Sweet Hope shall light on to a far better clime

323

Installation Ode.

- 1 Behold! in the East our new Master appear, Come, brothers, we'll greet him with hearts all sincere; We'll serve him with freedom, with fervor and zeal, And aid him his duties and trust to fulfil.
- 2 In the West, see the Warden, with Level in hand, The Master to aid, and obey his command; We'll aid him with freedom, with fervor and zeal, And help him his duties and trust to fulfil.
- 3 In the South, see the Warden by Plumb stand upright, Who watches the sun, and takes note of his flight. We'll aid him with freedom, with fervor and zeal, And help him his duties and trust to fulfil.

Faith, Hope, and Charity. Faith.

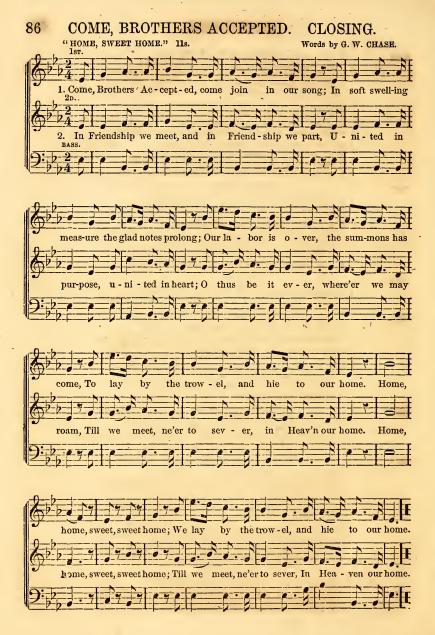

1 There's a vision once seen never passeth from sight, For it fixeth the eye, fills the soul with delight; It clears all obstructions, admits of no shade, Is a light to the mind—is a beam not to fade.

Hope.

2 There's a glow so scraphic, to gladden the earth, We feel, while it lingers, its heavenly birth; It blesses and cheers, soothes and comforts the world, Embracing the globe, with its bright folds unfurled.

Charity.

3 There's a joy so absorbing, a rapture so calm, It lives while there's impulse the heart's blood to warm Nor quenched till the spirit shall part from the clay, It illumes with its glory life's dreariest day.

826

Fellow Craft. Work.

- 1 Come, Craftsmen, assembled our pleasure to share, Who walk by the Plumb, and who work by the Square; While traveling in love, on the Level of time, Sweet Hope shall light on to a far better clime.
- 2 We'll seek in our labors the Spirit Divine, Our temple to bless, and our hearts to refine; And thus to our altar a tribute we'll bring, While, joined in true Friendship, our anthem we sing.
- 3 See Order and Beauty rise gently to view, Each brother a column, so perfect and true! When Order shall cease, and when temples decay, May each, fairer columns, immortal survey.

327

Masonic Song.

- 1 Oh! think not that life is the time for repose, For the spirit to slumber, the eyelids to close; Its hour is of actions, for heart and for hand, No idle delay shall our progress withstand.
- 2 True joy will be found as the soul struggles on, And life's wreath of glory unfading be won; And wisdom shall shed o'er the spirit a ray, Where beauty and freshness shall ne'er fade away.

328

Closing.

- 1 Farewell, till again we shall welcome the time Which brings us once more to our fame-cherished shrine; And though from each other we distant may roam, Again may all meet in this, our dear loved home: Home, home, sweet, sweet home, May every dear brother find joy and peace at home.
- 2 And when our last parting on earth shall draw nigh, And we shall be called to the Grand Lodge on high, May each be prepared, when the summons shall come, To meet our Grand Master in heaven our home: Home, home, sweet, sweet home, May every dear brother in Heaven find a home.

The Mason's Home.

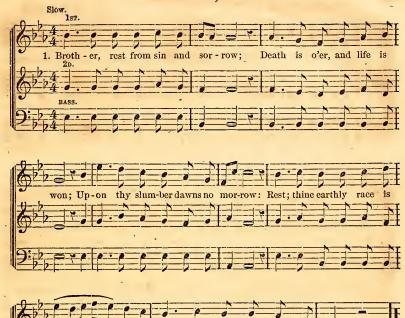

- 1 Should the chances of life ever tempt me to roam, In a Lodge of Freemasons I'll still find a home; There the sweet smile of Friendship still welcomes each guest, And Brotherly Love gives that welcome a zest.
- 2 When absent from Lodge, pleasure tempts me in vain; I sigh for the moments of meeting again; For Friendship and Harmony truly are there, Where we meet on the level, and part on the square.
- 3 There the soul-binding Union surely is known, Which unites both the peasant and king on the throne, There the rich and the poor on the level do meet, And, as brothers, each other most cordially greet.
- 4 On the quicksands of life should a brother be thrown, It is then that the friendship of brothers is known; For the heart points the hand his distress to remove, For our motto is "Kindness and Brotherly Love."
- 5 When the Master of all, from his star-studded throne, Shall issue his mandate to summon us home, May each brother be found to be duly prepared, In the Grand Lodge above us to meet his reward.

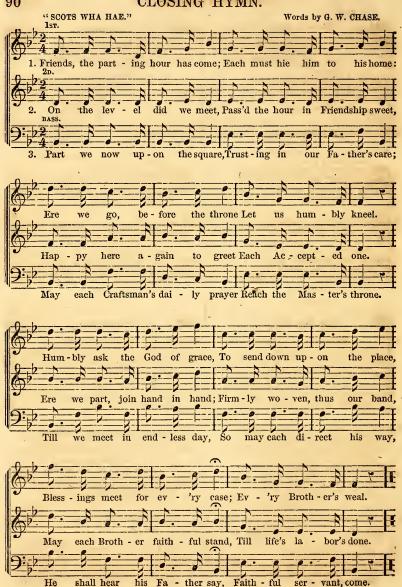

- 2 In the West see the Warden, with Level in hand, The Master to aid, and obey his command. We'll aid him with freedom, with fervor and zeal, And help him his duties and trust to fulfil.
- 3 In the South, see the Warden, by Plumb stand upright, Who watches the sun, and takes note of his flight, We'll aid him with freedom, with fervor and zeal, And help him his duties and trust to fulfil.

- 2 Brother, rest; the night is waning; Endless day is round thee poured; Then enter thou the rest remaining For the people of the Lord. For, for the people of the Lord.
- 3 Fare thee well; though woe is blending
 With the tones of earthly love,
 Then triumph high and joy unending
 Wait thee in the realms above.
 They wait thee in the realms above.
 - 332 We have met in Peace together.
- We have met in peace together, In this loved retreat again;
 Our constant friends have led us hither, Here to join in tuneful strain;
 Here, here to join in tuneful strain.

- 2 We have met, and time is flying, We shall part, and his swift wing, Still sweeping o'er the dead and dying, Will the changeful seasons bring. Will, will the changeful seasons bring.
- 3 Let us, while our hearts are lightest,
 Look to Him who marks our years;
 Rely on Him whose smile is brightest,
 And whose grace will calm our fears.
 Whose grace, whose grace will calm our fears.
- 4 He will aid us, should existence
 With its sorrows sting the breast;
 While gleaming in the onward distance
 Faith will mark the land of rest,
 Our Faith will mark the land of rest.

334 Masonic Song.

- 1 Friends and Brothers, swell the song, Every voice the strain prolong, Join in chorus loud and strong; On to victory:
 Lift our banners, let them wave, Onward still, the wretched save, Smooth their pathway to the grave;
 Be their friend indeed.
- 2 Give the aching bosom rest,
 Carry joy to every breast,
 Make the poor and needy blest;
 Grant them kind relief:
 Raise the glorious watchword high,
 "Love! Relief! and Charity"!
 Let the echo reach the sky,
 Swelling joyfully.
- 3 God of mercy! hear us plead,
 Help us while we intercede;
 Oh, how many bosoms bleed,—
 Heal them speedily:
 Hasten then the happy day,
 When, beneath thy gentle ray,
 All the world shall own thy sway;
 Reign triumphantly.

335 Bear Him Home.

- 1 Bear him home, his bed is made
 In the stillness of the shade;
 Bear the Brother to his home;
 Bear, oh, bear him home.
 Home, where al. his toils are o'er,
 Home, where journeying is no more to roam;
 Bear him home no more to roam;
 Bear the Brother home.
- 2 Lay him down—his bed is here—See, the dead are resting near;
 Lay the wanderer gently down;
 Lay him gently down.
 Lay him down; let nature spread Starry curtains o'er his head;
 Gently lay our Brother down;
 Gently lay him down.
- 3 Ah, not yet for us the bed
 Where the faithful pilgrim's laid:
 Through life's weariness and woe,
 Still our footsteps go.
 Let us go, and on our way,
 Faithful journey, faithful pray;
 Boldly, Brother pilgrims, go!
 Boldly let us go!

336 Opening.

- 1 Brethren all, where'er you be, Sons of Light, ye Masons Free, Honor, Truth, and Virtue be Pride of Masonry! Fervent zeal, with heart and hand, Love-cemented, mystic band, Firm, undaunted make us stand, Glorious Masonry.
- 2 Masons all, from pole to pole, Love may guide, and truth control, Sorrows come;—what can condole Griefs like Masonry! Kindly smiling we have met, Welcome each, and ne'er forget Absent ones whom we regret, Friends in Masonry.
- 3 Craftsmen all, may love impart
 Warmth into each honest heart;
 Oft consult that faithful chart,
 Guide of Masonry.
 When the spirit hence hath fled,
 Angel guards their pinions spread,
 Joyful crown each Mason's head,
 Heavenly Masonry.

337 Patriotic Ode.

- 1 Clime! beneath whose genial sun,
 Kings were quelled, and freedom won:
 Where the dust of Washington
 Sleeps in glory's bed,—
 Heroes from thy sylvan shade
 Changed the plow for battle blade,—
 Holy men for thee have prayed,
 Patriot martyrs bled.
- 2 Crownless Judah mourns in gloom; Greece lies slumbering in the tomb; Rome hath shorn her eagle-plume, Lost her conquering name. Youthful Nation of the West, Rise! with truer greatness blest, Sainted bands from realms of rest Watch thy brightening flame.
- 3 Empire of the brave and free!
 Stretch thy sway from sea to sea;
 Who shall bid thee bend the knee
 To a tyrant's throne?
 Knowledge is thine armor bright;
 Liberty thy beacon-light;
 God himself thy shield of might,
 Bow to him alone.

92 "THERE IS AN HOUR OF PEACEFUL REST."

- 2 There is a home for weary souls, By sin and sorrow driven; When tossed on life's tempestuous shoals, Where storms arise, and ocean rolls, And all is drear,—'tis heaven.
- 3 There Faith lifts up the tearless eye,
 The heart no longer riven;
 And views the tempest passing by,
 The evening shadows quickly fly,
 And all serene in heaven.
- 4 There fragrant flowers, immortal bloom, And joys supreme are given; There rays divine disperse the gloom; Beyond the dark and narrow tomb Appears the dawn of heaven.

339 Opening.

- 1 Blest is the hour when cares depart,
 And earthly scenes are far!
 When tears of woe forget to start,
 And gently dawns npon the heart
 Devotion's holy star.
- 2 Blest is the place, when Brothers bend, And fervent prayers arise; Where kindred hearts in union blend, And all the sou's affections tend Beyond the veiling skies.

340 Hymn.

- 1 This world is poor from shore to shore, A baseless fabric given; Its lofty domes and brilliant ore, Its gems and crowns are vain and poor;— There's nothing rich but heaven.
- 2 Empires decay, and nations die,
 Our hopes to winds are given;
 The vernal blooms in ruin lie,
 Death reigns o'er all beneath the sky;—
 There's nothing sure but heaven.
- 3 Creation's mighty fabric, all, Shall be to atoms riven; The skies consume, the planets fall, Convulsions rock this earthly ball;— There's nothing firm but heaven.

341 Opening.

- 1 Sing hallelujah to the Lord! Sing with a cheerful voice; Exalt the Lord with one accord, Exalt the Lord with one accord, And in his name rejoice.
- 2 May we to all eternity Join in th' angelic lays, And sing in perfect harmony, And sing in perfect harmony, Our great Creator's praise.

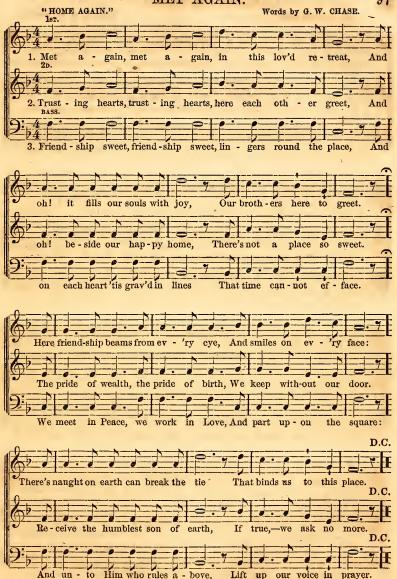

DO THEY MISS ME AT LODGE.

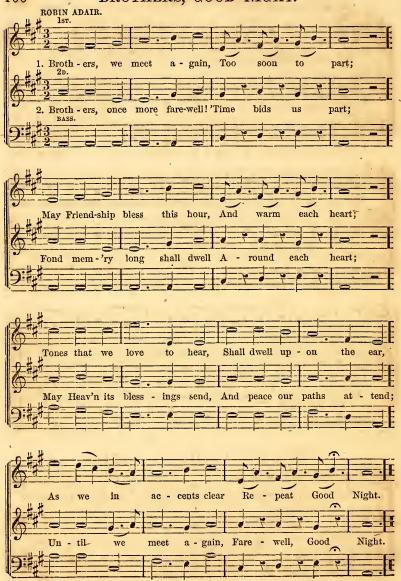

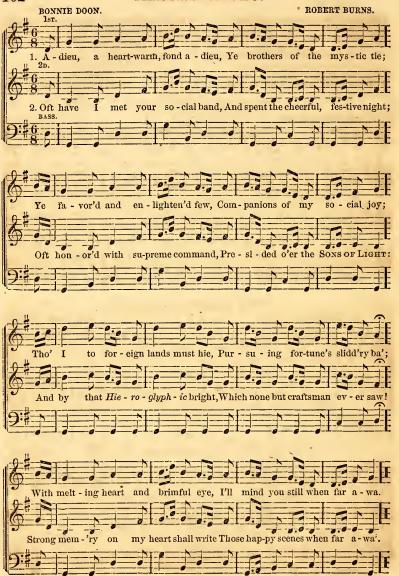

COME, LET US HAVE.—CATCH.

- 3 May freedom, harmony and love,
 Unite us in the grand design,
 Beneath th' Omniscient Eye above,
 The glorious Architect divine!
 That you may keep th' unerring line,
 Still rising by the plummet's law,
 Till order bright completely shine,
 Shall be my prayer when far awa'.
- 4 And you, farewell! whose merits claim,
 Justly, that highest badge to wear,
 Heaven bless your honored, noble name,
 To Masonry and Scotia dear!
 A last request permit me here;
 When yearly ye assemble a',
 One round, I ask it with a tear,
 To him, the Bard that's far awa'.

Be ye firm, and be enduring,
God speed the right;
Always in the right pursuing
God speed the right;
When all obstacles impede thee,
Trust in heaven for strength to aid thee,
God speed the right.

When life's conflicts all are over,

God speed the right;
May we ne'er prove faithless, never,
God speed the right;
When all earthly ties are sundered,

When our days on earth are numbered, God speed the right.

The faithful, worthy brother,
Whose heart can feel for grief,
Whose bosom with compassion
Steps forth to its relief;
Whose soul is ever ready,
Around him to diffuse
The principles of Masons,
And guard them from abuse;
These are thy sons whose pleasure,
At every Lodge, will be
T' improve themselves, by lectures,
In glorious Masonry.
EHORUS—Hail! glorious Masonry! &c.

King Solomon, our patron,
Transmitted this command—
"The faithful and praiseworthy
True light must understand;
And my descendants, also,
Who're seated in the East,

Have not fulfilled their duty,
Till light has reached the West."
Therefore our highest pleasure,
At every Lodge, should be
To improve ourselves, by lectures,
In glorious Masonry!
CHORUS—Hail! glorious Masonry! &c.

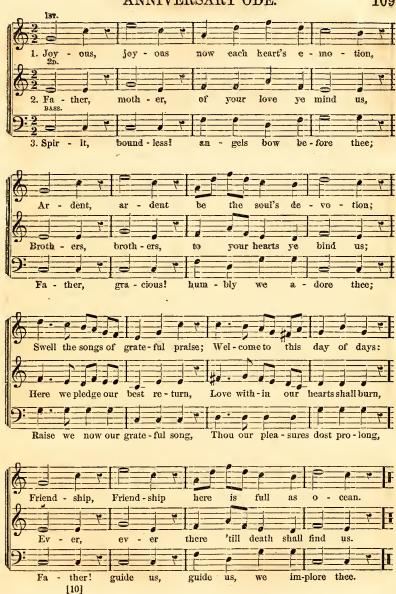

My duty and my station,
As Master in the chair,
Obliges me to summon
Each brother to prepare;
That all may be enabled,
By slow, though sure degrees,
To answer in rotation,
With honor and with ease.
Such are thy sons, whose pleasure,
At every Lodge, will be
T' improve themselves by lectures
In glorious Masomy!
CHORUS—Hail! glorious Masonry! &c.

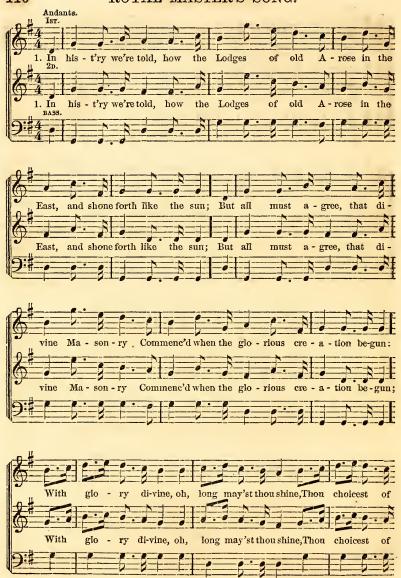

MASONIC CANON.

- 2 The wisest of men was a Mason, we know, From him our chief honors and dignities flow; He founded the temple, the pillars he raised, And Solomon still in our songs shall be praised. CHORUS — Then join, brother Masons, &c.
- 3 With square and with compass, with level and line, We constantly work to complete our design; By prudence we steer, and the passions subdue, What we learn in our youth, in our age we renew. CHORUS—Then join, brother Masons, &c.
- 4 On freedom and friendship our order began, To deal squarely with all is the chief of our plan; The sneer then of fools we esteem as a feather, Since virtue's the cement that joins us together. CHORUS—Then join, brother Masons, &c.
- 5 Till the ocean be dry, and hard rocks melt away, Till the globe shall dissolve, and no sun cheer the day; So long shall the Masons their Order maintain, And the arrows of slander be shot forth in vain. CHORUS—Then join, brother Masons, &c.

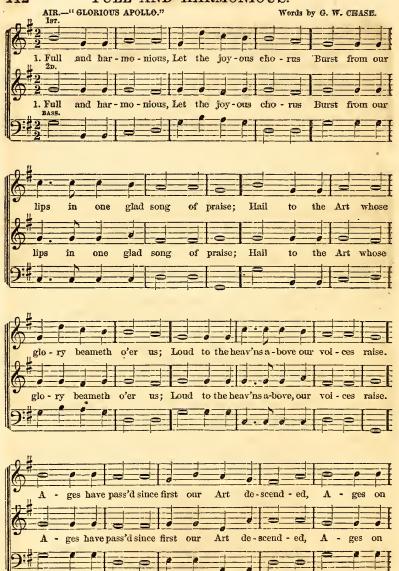

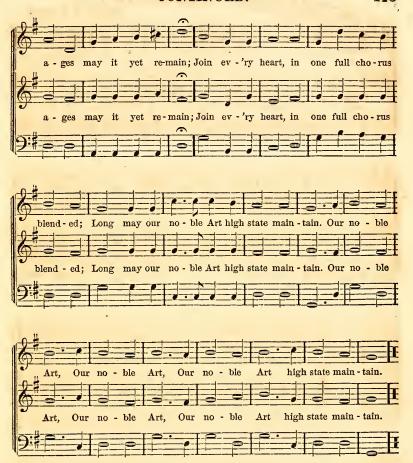

- 2 Judea's great king, whose high praises we sing, With wisdom contrived while the Temple he planned; The mysterious art then took place in each heart, And Hiram and Solomon went hand in hand: While each royal name was recorded in fame, Their works earth and heaven did jointly approve; Then charge bumpers high, and with shouts rend the sky, To Masonry, Friendship, and Brotherly Love. CHORUS—Then charge bumpers high, &c.
- 3 Then Masons were true, and the craft daily grew;
 They lived within compass, and worked by the square;
 In Friendship they dwelt, no ambition they felt;
 Their deeds were upright, and their consciences clear;
 On this noble plan Free-masons began;
 To help one another they mutually strove.
 Then charge bumpers high, and with shouts rend the sky,
 To Masonry, Friendship, and Brotherly Love.
 CHORUS—Then charge bumpers high, &c.
- 4 These maxims pursue, and your passions subdue,
 And imitate those worthy Masons of yore;
 Fix a Lodge in each breast, be fair Virtue your guest,
 Let Wisdom preside, and let Trath tile the door;
 So shall we arise to an immortal prize,
 In that blissful Lodge which no time can remove;
 Then charge bumpers high, and with shouts rend the sky,
 To Masonry, Friendship, and Brotherly Love,
 CHOBUS—Then charge bumpers high, &e

Loud let us sing, with heart and voice united, Praise to the Architect of heaven and earth; Him by whose word the stars above were lighted, By whose Almighty breath our souls had birth. Trusting his goodness, in his Word confiding, Here to our altar grateful thanks we bring: Firm in our purpose, in true Faith abiding, Joining in chorus loud, our Art we sing, Our Art we sing, In chorus loud, our Art we sing, In chorus loud, our Art we sing.

363 Hail! Hail the Mystic Tie.

(BY BRO. S. WOODWORTH.)

Hail! hail the mystic tie, Glorious orb of Masonry; Like the orient beams of morn, The bright empurpled East adorn, To add effulgence to the day, And drive the mists of night away. Glorious source of light divine, Friendship, peace, and virtue's shrine, Songsof gratitude we raise; Dedicate to thee our praise.

CHORUS.
Brothers, join the festive throng,
Social mirth inspires our song,
While in Harmony we meet,
And Masons all as Brothers greet.

See! see the darkness fly
Before the sun of Masonry;
Formed by heaven's almighty hand,
Its base as firm as earth shall stand,
Diffusing Light from East to West,
And nations with its beams be blest.
Arching ages round shall roll,
Time the fate of man coutrol,
Still resplendent light shall stand,
Its summit reared by Virtue's hand.
Brothers join, &c.

Hail! hail, thou heavenly guest,
Sanctioned by the high behest,
Let Truth and Friendship be our guide,
Beneath whose compass we confide:
Our actions Squared by virtue's laws,
To magnify our first great cause.
Then, when life's meridian's past,
The tie of Friendship still shall last,
Its sacred Unity endure,
Till endless ages be no more.
Brothers join, &c.

Patriotic Ode.

Hail, Columbia, happy land!
Hail, ye heroes! heaven-born band;
Who fought and bled in freedom's cause,
Who fought and bled in freedom's cause,
And when the storm of war had gone,
Enjoyed the peace your valor won;
Let Independence be your boast.
Ever mindful what it cost,
Ever grateful for the prize,
Let its altar reach the skies.

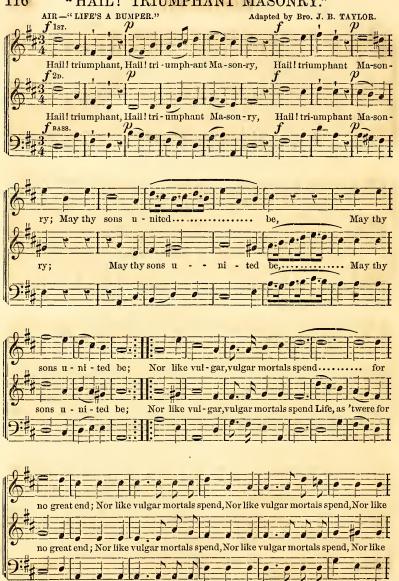

CHORUS.
Firm, united let us be,
Rallying round our liberty,
As a band of Brothers joined,
Peace and safety we shall find.

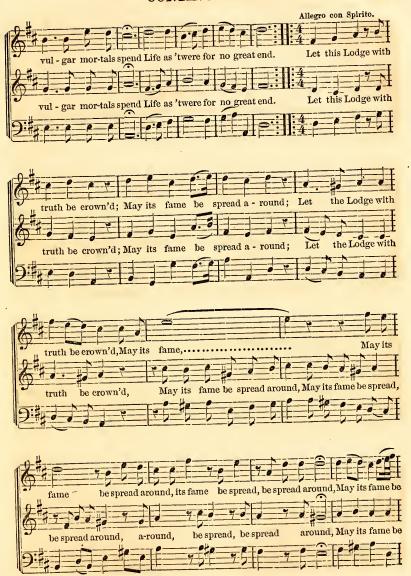

Heroes, Patriots, rise once more, Guard your rights, defend your shore; Let no rude foe with impious hand, Let no rude foe with impious hand, Invade the shrine, where sacred lies Of toil and blood the well-earned prize; While offering peace, sincere and just, Place in heaven your manly trust, Truth and Justice shall prevail, Every wicked scheme shall fail.

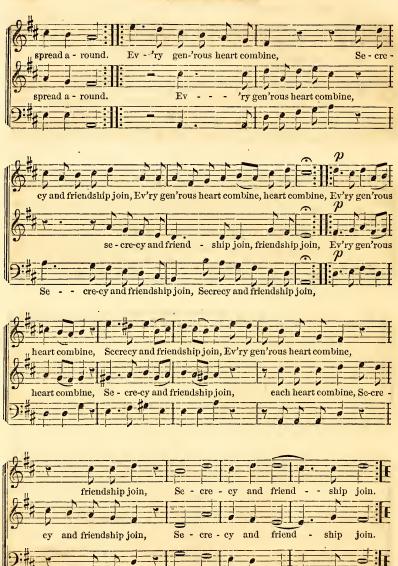

Firm, united, &c.

Sound again the trump of fame!
Let our Washington's great name
Ring thro' the world with loud applause;
Ring thro' the world with loud applause,
Let every elime to freedom dear,
All listen with a joyful ear;
With equal skill, with steady power,
He rules in the fearful hour;
Guides in horrid war, with ease,
And in times of honest peace.
Firm, united, &c.

"HAIL! TRIUMPHANT MASONRY."

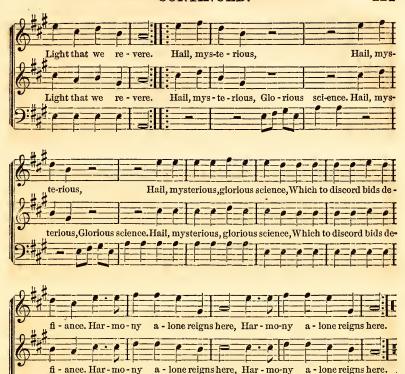

120 HAIL! MYSTERIOUS, GLORIOUS SCIENCE.

368 Here is Health for Lads and Lasses.

Here is health for lads and lasses, Sparkling in our crystal glasses; O, how cheerly it flows! Health, that gushes from the fountain; Health, that rushes down the mountain; Health, that blushes in the rose.

Drink, and hear the voice of duty;
Drink, and wear the robe of beauty!
Beauty blossoms where water flows.
In the sweeping, weeping willow,
On the sleeping maiden's pillow,
And the bosom of the rose.

369 Here's a Health to all good Lasses.

Here's a health to all good Lasses, Pledge it merrily, fill your glasses, Let the bumper toast go round. May they live a life of pleasure, Without mixture, without measure, For with them true joys are found.

Here's a health to all good lasses, &c.

3 'Tis this, and 'tis that, They cannot tell what, Why so many great men in the nation, Should aprons put on, To make themselves one With a Free and an Accepted Mason.

4 Great kings, dukes and lords, Have laid by their swords, Our mystery to put a good grace on; And thought themselves famed, To have themselves named With a Free and an Accepted Mason.

5 We're true and sincere, And just to the fair, They'll trust us on any occasion; No mortal can more The ladies adore, Than a Frée and an Accepted Mason.

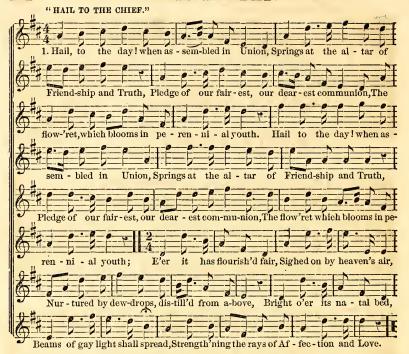

6 Then join hand in hand, By each brother firm stand,
Let's be merry, and put a bright face on;
What mortal can boast So noble a toast,
As a Free and an Accepted Mason? } Chorus, three times.

Of your Hearts to take Care.

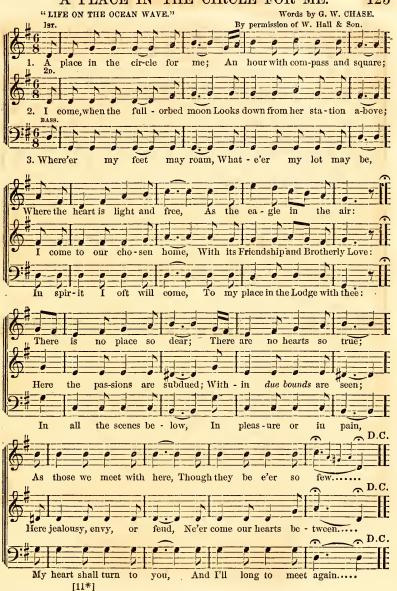

- 1 Of your hearts to take care, now ladies prepare, Be silent; I'll tell you the reason: Sly Cupid, they say, as the most certain way To conquer the fair, is made Mason.
- 2 The music you hear will ravish your ear; Your eye will be pleased past expression: But think on the smart that follows the dart, When thrown by the hand of a Mason.
- 3 The nymph may pretend her heart to defend; But let her from me take a lesson: She's surely undone, though her heart were of stone, It will melt at one glance of a Mason.
- 4 By the apron and glove, Cupid reigns god of love; His empire to deny sure is treason: Then don't be ashamed, nor fear to be blamed, If you should fall in love with a Mason.

372 When Quite a Young Spark.

- When quite a young spark, I was quite in the dark, And wanted to alter my station;
 I went to a friend, who proved in the end A Free and an Accepted Mason.
- 2 At the door then he knocked, which quickly unlocked, When he bid me to put a good face on, And not be afraid, for I should be made A Free and an Accepted Mason.
- 3 My wishes were crowned, and a Master I found,
 Who made me a most solemn oration;
 Then showed me the light, and gave me the right
 Sign, token, and word of a Mason.
- 4 How great my amaze, when I first saw the blaze!
 And how struck with the mystic occasion!
 Astonished I found, though free, I was bound
 To a Free and an Accepted Mason.
- 5 When clothed in white, I took great delight In the work of this noble vocation: And knowledge I gained, when the Lodge he explained, Of a Free and an Accepted Mason.
- 6 I was bound it appears for seven long years, Which to me is of trifling duration: With freedom I serve, and strain every nerve, To acquit myself like a Mason.
- 7 With hearty good will, let's show our best skill; To our Master pay due veneration; Who taught us the Art we ne'er will impart, Unless to an Accepted Mason.

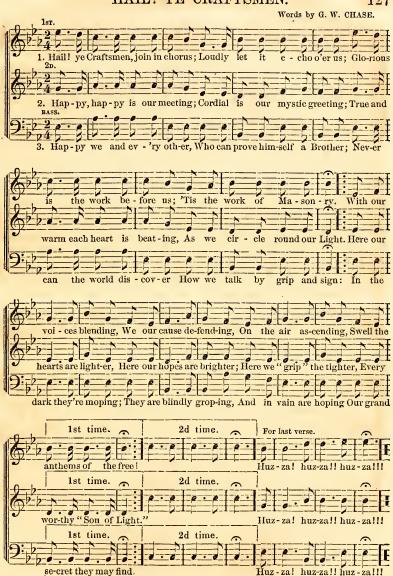

- 2 Hail to the Craft! whose light, broadly beaming, Streams from the loveliest Star of the sky; O'er sorrow's vale ever cheerfully gleaming, Guiding to yonder bright temple on high; Still may that holy ray, Type of immortal day, Light the lone path of the pilgrim along; Till the Grand Master's 'hest, Bid all his labors rest, Attuning his harp to the mystical song.
- 3 Long may each Mason be firm in his duty,
 The grand and the useful in harmony join;
 Long in his Temple may Wisdom and Beauty,
 Stars of the high arch of Masonry shine;
 Here may we often meet, Each brother true to greet,
 Time strewing flowers o'er the swift-rolling year;
 Here may fair Union rise, Here join the good and wise,
 Charity, Friendship, and Truth to revere.
- 4 Now to Creation's Great Builder ascending,
 Lond let the chorus of Gratitude swell;
 Here, as before him we humbly are bending,
 O! may He deign in his Temple to dwell;
 Here may the social fire Of love to heaven aspire,
 Long from this Altar rise incense of praise,
 To the Eternal One, Our ceaseless shining sun,
 Master of all—Holy,—"Ancient of Days!"

All hail! blest Craft, long may thy glories shine
Through all the world, and prove the Art divine;
From East to West may all mankind,
Thy dictates mild fulfil,
And every brother hold it wise
To be a good Mason still.

- 2 Good night! good night!
 Now to all a kind good night!
 Angel like, while earth is sleeping,
 Stars above their watch are keeping,
 As the star of Bethlehem bright.
 Good night! good night! good night!
- 3 Good night! good night!
 Now to all a kind good night!
 Slumber sweetly till the morning,
 Till the sun the world adorning
 Rise in all his glorious might.
 Good night! good night! good night!

- 3 While sweet Philomel, the weary traveler cheering With evening song, her notes prolong, Oh come, come away.

 In answering songs of sympathy, We'll sing in tuneful harmony Of Faith, Hope, Charity, Oh come, come away.
- 4 The bright day is gone, the moon and stars appearing, With silver light illume the night,
 Oh come, come away.
 Come join your prayers with ours,
 Address kind heaven our peaceful home to bless
 With health and happiness,
 Oh come, come away.

134 THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER.

On the shore dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes;
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses;
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected, now shines in the stream—
'Tis the star spangled banner, O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave

And where is that band, who so vauntingly swore
That the havec of war and the battle's confusion,
A home and a country shall leave us no more;
'Their blood has washed out their foul footstep's pollution'
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight, or the gloom of the grave;
And the star spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

O thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved home and the war's desolation;
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation:
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto—"In God is our trust,"—
And the star spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

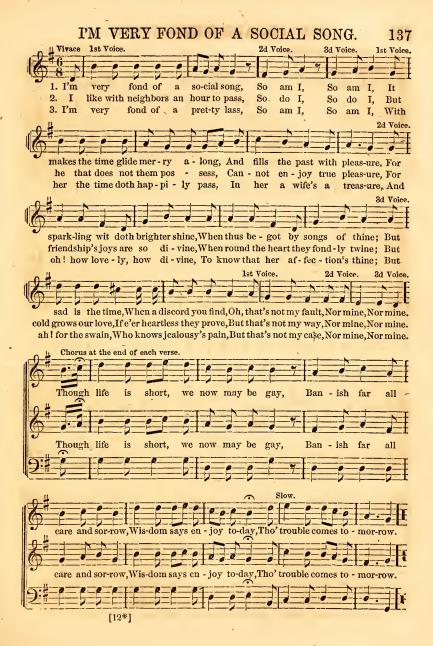

"HOW GREAT IS THE PLEASURE."—CATCH.

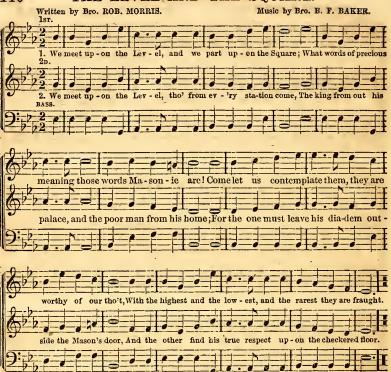

- 3 Sorry to part, though down the West The evening sun descends; Sorry to leave each welcome guest,
 - Sorry to part with friends. Sorry to hear the gavel's sound, That tells a "closing" nigh; Sorry we circle the "Lights," around; Sorry we say "Good byc."
- 14 Sorry we halt around the door, Thy flight deplore, O Time;
 - Sooner we think than e'er before Did peal the signal chime.
 - "Happy to meet again," we part, Each wending home his way; Hoping at last, with each true heart, To meet in endless day.

^{* &}quot;Happy to meet; sorry to part; happy to meet again." - Old Masonic Toast.

- 3 We part upon the square, for the world must have its due, We mingle with the multitude, a cold, unfriendly crew; But the influence of our gatherings in memory is green, And we long upon the level to renew the happy scene.
- 4 There's a world where all are equal; we are hurrying to it fast, We shall meet upon the level there, when the gates of death are past: We shall stand before the Orient, and our Master will be there, To try the blocks we offer by His own uncring square.
- 5 We shall meet upon the level there; but never thence depart; There's a mansion—'tis all ready for each trusting, faithful heart; There's a mansion and a welcome, and a multitude is there,— Who have met upon the level, and been tried upon the square.
- 6 Let us meet upon the level, then, while laboring patient here, Let us meet, and let us labor, though the labor be severe; Already in the western sky the signs bid us prepare To gather up our working tools, and part upon the square.
- 7 Hands round, ye faithful Masons, form the bright fraternal chain; We part upon the square below to meet in heaven again. Oh! what words of precious meaning those words Masonic are, We meet upon the level and we part upon the square.

PLEYEL'S HYMN.

An Hour with You.

(BY BRO. ROB. MORRIS.) Music,—Auld Lang Syne.

 An hour with you, an hour with you, No care, or doubt, or strife,—
 Is worth a weary year of woe,
 In all that sweetens life;
 One hour with you, and you, and you, Bright links in mystic chain;
 Oh may we oft these joys renew, And often meet again.

2 Your eyes with love's own language free, Your hand grips strong and true, Your tongues, your hearts, do welcome me, To spend an hour with you.

One hour with you, &c.

I come, when Eastern skies are bright,
To work my Mason's due;
To labor, is my chief delight,

And spend an hour with you. One hour with you, &c.

4 I go when evening gilds the West, I breathe the fond adieu; And hope again, by fortune blest, To spend an hour with you. One hour with you, &c.

394 High XII.-BY ROB. MORRIS.

1 Here's Columns II. and Pillars V.
Support and grace our Halls of Truth,
But none such sparkling pleasures give,
As the Column that adorns the S.
"High Xii." the J. W. calls,
His Column grants the festive hour,
And through our antiquated Halls
Rich streams of social gladness pour.

2 'Tis then, all toil and care forgot,
The BOND indissoluble seems;
'Tis then the world's a happy spot,
And hope unmixed with sadness gleams:
HIGH XII.; I've shared the festive hour,
With those who realize the bliss,
And felt that life contains no more
Than sparkles in the joys of this.

What memories hover round the time!
What forms rise up to call it blest!
Departed friends—why should it dim
Our joy to know that they're at rest!
HIGH XII.; how they rejoiced to hear!
Quickly each implement laid down,
Glad to exchange for toil and care,
And heavy Cross, a heavenly Crown,

4 Then Comrades all, by 3 × 3,
Linked in the golden chain of truth,
A hearty welcome pledge with me
To the Column that adorns the S.
HIGH XII.: and never be the hour
Less free, less brotherly than now!
HIGH XII.; a rich libation pour
To joys that none but Masons know!

395 The Emblems of the Craft. R. MORRIS.

1 Who wears the SQUARE upon his breast, Does in the eye of God attest,
And in the face of man,
That all his actions will compare
With the Divine, th' unerring Square,
That squares great Virtue's plan.—
That he erects his edifice
By this design, and this, and this!*

2 Who wears the LEVEL, says that pride Does not within his soul abide, Nor foolish vanity,— That man has but a common doom,

And from his cradle to his tomb
One common destiny.
And he erects his edifice

By this design, and this, and this!

Who wears the G, ah, type divine!
Abhors the atmosphere of sin.

And trusts in God alone;
His father, Maker, friend he knows;—
He vows, and pays to God his vows
Before th' Eternal Throne.
And he erects his edifice
By this design, and this, and this!

4 Who wears the Plumb, behold how true
His words, his walk! and could we view
The chambers of his soul;
Each thought enshrined, so pure, so good,
By the stern line of rectitude,
Points truly to the goal.
And he erects his ediffice

5 Thus life and beauty come to view, In each design our fathers drew, So glorious, so sublime! Each breathes an odor from the bloom Of gardens bright, beyond the tomb,— Beyond the flight of time.

By this design, and this, and this!

And bids us build on this, and this, The walls of God's own edifice.

396 Funeral Hymn.—BY ROB. MORRIS.
1 Wreathe the mourning badge around—Brothers pause! a funeral sound!
Where the parted had his home,
Meet and bear him to the tomb.

2 How his life-path has been trod, Brothers, leave we unto God! Friendship's mantle, love and faith, Lend sweet fragrance e'en to death.

3 Here, amidst the things that sleep, Let him rest—his grave is deep; Death has triumphed, loving hands Cannot raise him from his bands.

4 Dust to dust, the dark decree—Saul to God, the soul is free:
Leave him with the lowly slain—Brothers, we shall meet again.

397 Masonic Ode. 7s. 6 lines. BY REV. C. BABCOCK.

1 On thy bosom, mighty Lord, Gently may we fall asleep; Trusting in thy sacred word, Keep us, Oh! our Father, keep: From the terrors of the grave, Save us, Judah's Lion, save!

2 As we pass the vale of death, Round us throw the arm of love; When we yield this fleeting breath, Bear us to thy Lodge above, In the "house not made with hands," Compassed round with angel bands.

3 In the resurrection morn,
Raise us with thine own right hand;
Freed from envy and from scorn,
Bring us to the better land—
Where from labor brethren cease,
Share refreshment—dwell in peace.

398 Death of a Brother. C. M.

- 1 As, bowed by sudden storms, the rose Sinks on the garden's breast, Down to the grave our brother goes, In silence there to rest.
- 2 No more with us his tuneful voice The mystic hymn shall swell; No more his cheerful heart rejoice, When peals the Sabbath bell.
- 3 But far away, in clondless sphere, Amid a sinless throng, He's joining, with celestial ear, The everlasting song.
- 4 No more we'll mourn our absent friend, But lift our earnest prayer, That when our work of life shall end, We all may join him there.

399 Ode. C. P. M.

BY BRO. A. NICHOLS, JR.

1 Great Architect, supreme, divine,
Whose wisdom planned the great design,
And gave to nature birth;
Whose word with light adorned the skies,
Gave matter form, bade order rise,
And blessed the new born earth.

2 O bless this love-cemented band, Formed and supported by thy hand, For Charity's employ; To shield the wretched from despair, To spread through scenes of grief and care, Reviving rays of joy.

3 The liberal arts by Thee designed,
To polish, comfort, aid mankind,
We labor to improve;
While we adore Jehovah's name,
Pour on our hearts the melting flame,
And mould our hearts to love.

400 Death of a Companion. S. M.

1 Companion! thou hast gone!
Rest from thy loved employ,—
The glorious victory thou hast won,
Enter thy Master's joy.

2 The pains of death are past; Labor and sorrow cease; Life's pilgrimage is closed at last, The soul is found in peace.

3 Companion true, well done! Praise be thy new employ; And while eternal ages run, Rest in thy Master's joy.

4 May we, who linger here,
E'er true and faithful be;
Devoted in our humble sphere,
Devoted, Lord, to Thee.

Templar's Hymn. 7s. BY H. G. BARROWS.

1 To thy shrine, departed Lord, Come we, trusting in thy word; In thy service, richly blest, Here, we pray thee let us rest.

2 Strong in Faith, in Hope, and Love, Lift we now our thoughts above; To thy service, pure and free, Let us consecrated be.

3 Let thy light upon us shine, Fill our hearts with love divine; On thy arm we trust our all, Keep us, that we never fall.

402 Laying Corner Stone. 7s. 6 lines (BY BRO. ROB. MORRIS.)

1 Round the spot — Moriah's hill — Mason's meet with cheerful will; Him who stood as King that day, We as cheerfully obey. Lord, we love thy glorious Name, Give the grace thou gavest him.

2 Round the spot thus chosen well, Brothers, with fraternal hail, Gather in your mystic ring, Mystic words, and joyful sing. Lord, our hearts, our souls are thine, On our labors deign to shine.

3 Round the spot may Plenty reign,—
Peace, with spirit all benign;
Unity, the golden three—
Here their influence ever be.
Lord, these jewels of Thy store,
Send them bounteous, flowing o'er.

4 Round the spot where now we stand, Soon will stand another band; We to other worlds must go, Called by Him we trust below. Lord, thy spirit grant, that they All thy counsel may obey.

Huneral Ceremonies.

No Freemason can be interred with the formalities of the Order, unless it be at his own request, or that of some of his family, (apprentices, foreigners and transient brethren excepted;) nor unless he has been advanced to the degree of Master Mason. From this rule there can be no exception. Fellow Crafts and Entered Apprentices are not entitled to Masonic Burial; nor to attend the Masonic processions on such occasions. (In some jurisdictions a Masonic Funeral Procession cannot be formed without a Dispensation from the constitutional authorities; in others, it is left with the Masters of the Subordinate Lodges.)

THE FUNERAL SERVICE.

The brethren being assembled at the Lodge room, or some other convenient place, the presiding officer opens the Lodge in the third degree, with the usual forms; and, having stated the purpose of the meeting, the service begins:—

MASTER. What man is he that liveth and shall not see death? Shall he deliver his soul from the hand of the grave?

RESPONSE. Man walketh in a vain shadow; he heapeth up riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

MASTER. When he dieth he shall carry nothing away; his glory shall not descend after him.

RESPONSE. Naked he came into the world, and naked he must return.

MASTER. The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord!

The Master then, taking the roll in his hand, says: -

Let us live and die like the righteous, that our last end may be like his!

RESPONSE. God is our God for ever and ever; he will be our guide even unto death!

The Master then records the name and age of the deceased upon the roll, and says : -

Almighty Father! in thy hands we leave, with humble submission, the soul of our deceased Brother.

The Brethren answer three times, giving the Grand Honors each time.

The will of God is accomplished! So mote it be. Amen.

Marshal.

The Master then deposits the roll in the archives, and repeats the following

PRAYER.

Most Glorious God! author of all good, and giver of all mercy! pour down thy blessing upon us, and strengthen our solemn engagements with the ties of sincere affection! May the present instance of mortality remind us of our approaching fate, and draw our attention toward Thee, the only refuge in time of need! that, when the awful moment shall arrive, that, when we are about to quit this transitory scene, the enlivening prospect of thy mercy may dispel the gloom of death; and, after our departure hence in peace, and in thy favor, may we be received into thine everlasting kingdom, to enjoy, in union with the souls of our departed friends, the just reward of a pious and virtuous life. Amen.

A procession is then formed, which moves to the house of the deceased, and from thence to the place of interment

SERVICE AT THE GRAVE.

BRETHREN: - The solemn notes that betoken the dissolution of this earthly tabernacle, have again alarmed our outer door, and another spirit has been summoned to the land where our fathers have gone before us. Again we are called to assemble among the habitations of the dead, to behold the "narrow house appointed for all living." Here, around us, in that peace which the world cannot give, sleep the unnumbered dead. The gentle breeze fans their verdant covering - they heed it not; the sunshing and the storm pass over them, and they are not disturbed; stones and lettered monuments symbolize the affection of surviving friends, yet no sound proceeds from them, save that silent but thrilling admonition - "seek ye the narrow path and the strait gate that lead unto eternal life." We are again called upon to consider the uncertainty of human life; the immutable certainty of death, and the vanity of all human pursuits. Decrepitude and decay are written upon every living thing. The cradle and the coffin stand in juxtaposition to each other; and it is a melancholy truth, that so soon as we begin to live, that moment also we begin to die. It is passing strange, that, notwithstanding the daily mementos of mortality that cross our path; notwithstanding the funeral bell so often tolls in our ears, and the "mournful processions" go about our streets, that we will not more seriously consider our approaching fate. We go on from design to design, add hope to hope, and lay out plans for the employment of many years, until we are suddenly alarmed at the approach of the Messenger of Death, at a moment when we least expect him, and which we probably conclude to be the meridian of our existence.

What, then, are all the externals of human dignity, the power of wealth, the dreams of ambition, the pride of intellect, or the charms of beauty, when Nature has paid her just debt? Fix your eyes on the last sad scene, and view life stript of its ornaments, and exposed in its natural meanness, and you must be persuaded of the utter emptiness of these delusions. In the grave all fallacies are detected, all ranks are levelled, and all distinctions are done away.

While we drop the sympathetic tear over the grave of our deceased brother, let us cast around his foibles, whatever they may have been, the broad mantle of Masonic charity, nor withhold from his memory the commendation that his virtues claim at our hands. Perfection on earth has never yet been attained; the wisest as well as the best of men have gone astray. Suffer, then, the apologies of human nature to plead for him who can no longer extenuate for himself.

Our present meeting and proceedings will have been vain and useless, if they fail to excite our serious reflections, and strengthen our resolutions of amendment. Be then persuaded, my brethren, by the uncertainty of human life, and the unsubstantial nature of all its pursuits, and no longer postpone the all-important concern of preparing for eternity. Let us each embrace the present moment, and while time and opportunity offer prepare for that great change, when the pleasures of the world shall be as poison to our lips, and happy reflections of a well spent life afford the only consolation. Thus shall our hopes be not frustrated, nor we hurried, unprepared, into the presence of that all-wise and powerful Judge, to whom the secrets of every heart are known. Let us resolve to maintain, with greater assiduity, the dignified character of our profession. May our faith be evinced in a correct moral walk and deportment; may our hope be bright as the glorious mysteries that will be revealed hereafter; and our charity boundless as the wants of our fellow creatures. And having faithfully discharged the great duties which we owe to God, to our neighbor, and ourselves; when at last it shall please the Grand Master of the universe to summon us into his eternal presence, may the trestleboard of our whole lives pass such inspection that it may be given unto each of us to "eat of the hidden manna," and to receive the "white stone with a new name written," that will insure perpetual and unspeakable happiness at his right hand.

The Master then presenting the Apron, continues:

The lamb-skin, or white apron, is the emblem of innocence, and the badge of a Mason. It is more ancient than the golden fleece or Roman eagle; more honorable than the star and garter, when worthily worn.

The Master then deposits it in the grave:

This emblem I now deposit in the grave of our deceased brother. By it we are reminded of the universal dominion of Death. The arm of Friendship cannot interpose to prevent his coming; the wealth of the world cannot purchase our release; nor will the innocence of youth, or the charms of beauty, propitiate his purpose. The mattock, the coffin, and the melancholy grave, admonish us of our mortality, and that, sooner or later, these frail bodies must moulder in their parent dust.

The Master, holding the evergreen, continues:

This evergreen, which once marked the temporary resting-place of the illustrious dead, is an emblem of our faith in the immortality of the soul. By this, we are reminded that we have an immortal part within us, that shall survive the grave, and which shall never, never die. By it we are admonished, that, though like our brother, whose remains lie before us, we shall soon be clothed in the habiliments of Death, and deposited in the silent tomb, yet, through the merits of a divine and ascended Saviour, we may confidently hope that our souls will bloom in eternal spring.

The brethren then move in procession round the place of interment, and severally drop the sprig of evergreen into the grave; after which, the public Grand Honors are given. (See Mackey's Lexicon.) The Master then continues:

From time immemorial, it has been the custom among the fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons, at the request of a brother, to accompany his corpse to the place of interment, and there to deposit his remains with the usual formalities.

In conformity to this usage, and at the request of our deceased brother, whose memory we revere, and whose loss we now deplore, we have assembled in the character of Masons, to offer up to his memory, before the world, the last tribute of our affection; thereby demonstrating the sincerity of our past esteem for him, and our steady attachment to the principles of the Order.

The great Creator having been pleased, out of his infinite mercy, to remove our brother from the cares and troubles of this transitory existence to a state of endless duration, thus severing another link from the fraternal chain that binds us together; may we, who survive him, be more strongly cemented in the ties of union and friendship; that, during the short space allotted us here, we may wisely and usefully employ our time; and, in the reciprocal intercourse of kind and friendly acts, mutually promote the welfare and happiness of each other. Unto the grave we have consigned the body of our deceased brother; earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust; there to remain until the trump shall sound on the resurrection morn. We can cheerfully leave him in the hands of a Being who has done all things well; who is glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders.

To those of his immediate relatives and friends, who are most heart-stricken at the loss we have all sustained, we have but little of this world's consolation to offer. We can sincerely, deeply, and most affectionately sympathize with them in their afflictive bereavement. But in the beautiful spirit of the Christian's theology, we dare to say, that He, who "tempers the wind to the shorn lamb," looks down with infinite compassion upon the widow and fatherless, in the hour of their desolation; and that the same benevolent Saviour, who wept while on earth, will fold the arms of his love and protection around those who put their trust in Him.

Then let us improve this solemn warning, that at last, when the "sheeted dead" are stirring, when the "great white throne" is set, we shall receive from the omniscient Judge, the thrilling invitation, "Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world."

RESPONSE. So mote it be. Amen.

PRAYER.

Almighty and most merciful Father, we adore thee as the God of time and of eternity. As it has pleased thee to take from the light of our abode, one dear to our hearts, we beseech thee to bless and sanctify unto us this dispensation of thy Providence. Inspire our hearts with wisdom from on high, that we may glorify thee in all our ways. May we realize that thine All-seeing Eye is upon us, and be influenced by the spirit of truth and love to perfect obedience—that we may enjoy the divine approbation here below. And when our toils on earth shall have ceased, may be raised to the enjoyment of fadeless light and immortal life in that kingdom where faith and hope shall end—and love and joy prevail through eternal ages. And thine, O righteous Father, shall be the glory forever. Amen.

BURIAL SERVICE

OF THE

Orders of Masonic Knighthood.*

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

1. No Sir Knight can be buried with the funcral honors of Knighthood, unless he be a Knight Templar in regular standing.

2. It shall be the duty of the E. Commander to convene the Sir Knights of the Commandery, upon notice of the death of a Sir Knight who may be entitled to receive funeral honors, upon request made when living, or by his family after his decease, for the purpose of attending the funeral ceremonies.

3. Sir Knights, on such occasions, will attend in full uniform, pursuant to the regulations; their sword-hilts and the banner of the Commandery being suitably dressed in mourning.

4. On the coffin of the deceased Sir Knight will be placed his hat and sword; and, if an officer, his jewel, trimmed with crape.

5. The E. Commander will preside during the services, and, assisted by the Prelate, lead in the ceremonies, pursuant to the Ritual. If Grand Officers or Past Grand Officers be present, they will be allotted a place in the procession according to their rank; and if the Grand Prelate, or a Past Grand Prelate be present, he will take the place of the Prelate.

- 6. The Sir Knights will assemble at their Asylum, and march to the residence of the deceased in the usual order of processions; the line being headed by the Warder, and the Officers being in the rear, according to rank; that is, the E. Commander last; the Prelate being preceded by the Holy Writings, carried on a cushion, and the arms and hat of the deceased borne in the rear of the E. Commander. On arriving at the house, the lines are opened, and the E. Commander passes to the front and receives the body, placing the hat and sword on the coffin, as above directed.
- 7. The procession is then formed as before; the body, with the mourners and citizens present, being in the rear of the Sir Knights, and in front of the officers. If the services are performed at a church or place of public worship, the procession, on arriving, will enter in reversed order, the E. Commander and Prelate with the other officers preceding the body and mourners.
- 8. When the public or religious services are concluded, the face of the deceased will be uncovered, and the Sir Knights (or a detachment of them,) will form the "cross of steel," over the body, the E. Commander, with the Prelate, being at the head of the coffin, and the other officers at the foot.
- 9. When more convenient or desirable, the part of the service before going to the grave, as here indicated, may be performed at the house of the deceased, or be deferred till at the grave.

THE FUNERAL SERVICE OF KNIGHTHOOD WILL BE CONDUCTED ACCORDING TO THE FOLLOWING

Ritual:

E. COMMANDER. Sir Knights: In the solemn rites of our Order we have often been reminded of the great truth, that we were born to die. Mortality has been brought to view, that we might more earnestly seek an immortality beyond this fleeting life, where death can come no more for ever. The sad and mournful funeral knell has betokened that another spirit has winged its flight to a new state of existence. An alarm has come to the door of our Asylum, and the messenger was Death, and none presumed to say to the awful presence:—"Who dare approach?" A pilgrim warrior has been summoned, and "there is no discharge in that war." A burning taper of life, in our Commandery, has been extinguished, and none, save the High and Holy One, can relight it. All that remains of our beloved Companion Sir Knight lies mute before us, and the light of the eye, and the breathing of the lips, in their language of fraternal greeting, have ceased for us, forever, on this side of the grave. His sword, vowed only to be drawn in the cause of truth, justice, and rational liberty, reposes still in its scabbard, and our arms can no more shield him from wrong or oppression.

This beautiful Burial Service was prepared by M. E. Jno. L. Lewis, Jr., at the request of the Grand Commandery of New York.

The Sir Knights here return arms.

It is meet at such a time that we should be silent, and let the words of the Infinite and Undying speak, that we may gather consolation from His revelations, and impress upon our minds lessons of wisdom and instruction, and the meetness of preparation for the last great change which must pass upon us all.

Let us be reverently attentive while Sir Knight, our Prelate, reads to us a lesson from the Holy Scriptures.

PRELATE. Help, Lord! for the faithful fail from among the children of men.

RESPONSE. Help us, oh Lord!

PRELATE. The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles.

RESPONSE. Hear us, oh Lord!

PRELATE. The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.

RESPONSE. Be nigh unto us, oh Lord!

PRELATE. The Lord redeemeth the souls of his servants; and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate.

RESPONSE. Redeem us, oh Lord!

PRELATE. For I will not trust in my bow, neither shall my sword save me.

RESPONSE. Redeem us, oh Lord!

PRELATE. But God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave; for he shall receive me.

RESPONSE. Redeem us, oh Lord!

PRELATE. Wilt thou show wonders to the dead? shall the dead arise and praise thee? Shall thy loving kindness be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulness in destruction?

RESPONSE. Save us, oh Lord!

PRELATE. We spend our years as a tale that is told. The days of our years are threescore years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength, labor, and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away. So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

RESPONSE. Teach us, oh Lord!

PRELATE. For he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust. As for man, his days are as grass; as a flower of the field he flourisheth. For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone; and the place thereof shall know it no more. But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting, upon them that fear him.

RESPONSE. Show mercy, oh Lord!

PRELATE. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed; in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump; for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written,— Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?

RESPONSE. O death, where is thy sting! O grave, where is thy victory!

PRELATE. The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

RESPONSE. Thanks be to God!

E. COMMANDER. Shall the memory of our departed brother fade from among men?

RESPONSE. It is cherished in our soul forever!

E. COMMANDER. Shall no record be left of his virtues and worth?

RESPONSE. It is inscribed upon our hearts; it is written in our archives; the heart may cease to throb, and the archives may moulder and decay; but the tablets of the Recording Angel on high can never perish.

The Recorder here opens the Book of Records of the Commandery, on which a page is set apart, suitably inscribed, and says:

Thus it is written

The Sir Knights uncover, and bow their heads.

E. COMMANDER. He was a true and courteous knight, and has fallen in life's struggle full knightly with his armor on, prepared for knightly deeds.

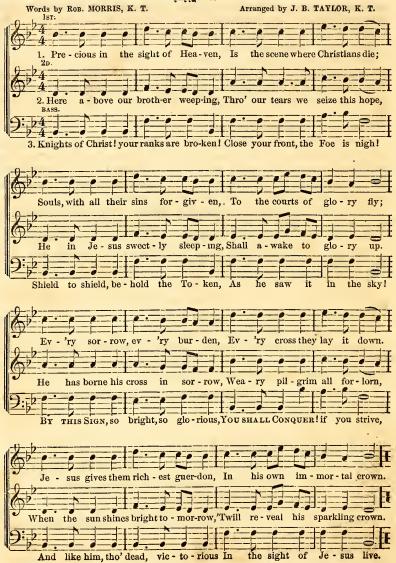

. PRELATE. Rest to his ashes, and peace to his soul!

RESPONSE. Rest to his ashes, and peace to his soul!

PRELATE. Sovereign Ruler of the Universe! into thy hands we devoutly and submissively commit the departed spirit.

RESPONSE. Thy will be done, oh God!

THE FOLLOWING TOUTH WILL BE SUNG.

The following PRAYER will then be made by the Prelate; (or an extemporaneous Prayer may be made by him, or by any Clergyman present, as may be preferred.)

FATHER OF LIGHTS! in this dark and trying hour of calamity and sorrow, we humbly lift our hearts to Thee. Give us, we pray, that light which cometh down from above. Thou hast mercifully said, in Thy holy word, that the bruised reed Thou wouldst not break; remember in mercy, oh Lord, before Thee. [Be Thou, at this hour, the Father of the fatherless, and the widow's God. Administer to them the consolations which they so sorely need.] Cause us to look away from these sad scenes of frail mortality, to the hopes which lie beyond the grave, and bind us yet closer together in the ties of brotherly love and affection. While we see how frail is man, and how uncertain the continuance of our lives upon the earth, and are reminded of our own mortality, lead us by Thy grace and spirit to turn our thoughts to those things which make for our everlasting peace; and give us a frame of mind to make a proper improvement of all the admonitions of Thy providence, and fix our thoughts more devotedly on Thee, the only sure refuge in time of need. And at last, when our earthly pilgrimage shall be ended, "when the silver cord shall be loosed, and the golden bowl be broken," oh wilt Thou, in that moment of mortal extremity, be indeed Immanuel - Christ with us; may "the lamp of Thy love" dispel the gloom of the dark valley, and we be enabled, by the commendations of Thy Son, to gain admission into the blessed Asylum above; and, in Thy glorious presence, amidst its ineffable mysteries, enjoy a union with the spirits of the departed, perfect as is the happiness of heaven, and durable as the eternity of God. Amen!

RESPONSE. Amen, and Amen and Amen!

The procession will then form, and march to the place of interment in the same order as before.

On arriving at the place, while forming in order, a suitable Dirge, or the following Hymn may be sung:

4 Sadly now we leave his form, In the tomb to moulder still; Hoping in th' eternal morn, Christ his promise will fulfil. 5 One last look—one parting sigh;
Ah, too sad for words to tell;
Yet! though tears now dim each eye,
Hope we still, and sigh, farewell!

On reaching the grave, the Sir Knights will form a triangle around it, the base being at the foot, the E. Commander and Prelate being at the head of the grave, and the friends and relatives at the foot, and the services will thus proceed:

PRELATE. Sir Knights: There is one sacred spot upon the earth where the foot-falls of our march are unheeded; our trumpets quicken no pulse, and incite no fear; the rustling of our banners and the gleam of our swords awaken no emotion—it is the silent city of the dead, where we now stand. Awe rests upon every heart, and the stern warrior's eyes are bedewed with feelings which never shame his manhood. It needs no siege, nor assault, nor beleaguering host, to enter its walls; we fear no sortie, and listen for no battle-shout. No Warder's challenge greets the ear, nor do we wait awhile with patience for permission to enter.

Hither must we all come at last; and the stoutest heart and the manliest form that surrounds me will then be led a captive, without title or rank, in the chains of mortality and the habiliments of slavery, to the King of Terrors.

But if he has been faithful to the Captain of his salvation, a true soldier of the Cross; if he has offered suitable gifts at the shrine of his departed Lord, and bears the signet of the Lion of the tribe of Judah, then may he claim to be of that princely house, and to be admitted to audience with the Sovereign Master of Heaven and Earth. Then will he be stripped of the chains of earthly captivity, and clothed in a white garment, glistening as the sun, and be seated with princes and rulers, and partake of a libation, not of death and sorrow, but of that wine which is drank forever new in the Father's kingdom above.

We cannot come here without subdued hearts and softened affections. Often, as the challenge comes which takes from our side some loved associate, some cherished companion in arms, and often as the trumpet sounds its wailing notes to summon us to the death-bed, and to the brink of the sepulchre, we cannot contemplate "the last of earth" unmoved. Each successive death-note snaps some fibre which binds us to this lower existence, and makes us pause and reflect upon that dark and gloomy chamber where we must all terminate our pilgrimage. Well will it be for our peace then, if we can wash our hands, not only in token of sincerity, but of every guilty stain, and give honest and satisfactory answers to the questions required.

The sad and solemn scene, now before us, stirs up these recollections with a force and vivid power which we have hitherto unfelt. He who now slumbers in that last, long, unbroken sleep of death, was our brother. With him have we walked the pilgrimage of life, and kept watch and ward together in its vicissitudes and trials. He is now removed beyond the effect of our praise or censure. That we loved him, our presence here evinces, and we remember him in scenes to which the world was not witness, and where the better feelings of humanity were exhibited without disguise. That he had faults and foibles, is but to repeat what his mortality demonstrates—that he had a human nature not divine. Over those errors, whatever they may have been, we cast, while living, the mantle of charity; it should, with much more reason, enshroud him in death. We, who have been taught to extend the point of charity, even to a foe, when fallen, cannot be severe or merciless toward a loved brother.

The memory of his virtues lingers in our remembrance, and reflects its shining lustre beyond the portals of the tomb. The earthern vase, which has contained precious odors, will lose none of its fragrance though the clay be broken and shattered. So be it with our brother's memory.

The Junior Warden then removes the sword and hat from the coffin, which last will then be lowered into the grave, while the Prelate repeats as follows:

PRELATE. "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth, and believeth in me, shall never die." To the earth we commit the mortal remains of our deceased brother, as we have already commended his soul to his Creator, with humble submission to Divine Providence. (Here cast some earth on the coffin.) Earth to earth; (here cast again.) ashes to ashes; (here cast more earth.) dust to dust; till the morn of the resurrection, when, like our arisen and ascended Redeemer, he will break the bands of death, and abide the judgment of the great day. Till then, friend, brother, Sir Knight, farewell! Light be the ashes upon thee, and "may the sunshine of Heaven beam bright on thy waking!"

RESPONSE. Amen, and Amen and Amen!

The Junior Warden then presents the sword to the E. Commander, who says:

E. COMMANDER. Our departed brother Sir Knight was taught, while living, that this sword, in his hands, as a true and courteous Knight, was endowed with three most estimable qualities: its hilt with fortitude undaunted; its blade with justice impartial; and its point with mercy unrestrained. To this lesson, with its deep emblematical significance, we trust he gave wise heed. He could never grasp it without being reminded of the lively significance of the attributes it inculcated. He has borne the pangs of dissolving nature — may we trust that it was with the same fortitude that he sustained the trials of this passing existence; to his name and memory be justice done, as we hope to receive the like meed ourselves; and may that mercy, unrestrained, which is the glorious attribute of the Son of God, interpose in his hehalf to blunt the sword of divine justice, and admit him to the blessed companionship of saints and angels in the realms of light and life eternal!

RESPONSE. Amen, and Amen, and Amen!

The Senior Warden then presents a Cross to the Prelate, who says:

PRELATE. This symbol of faith—the Christian's hope, and the Christian's trust—we again place upon the breast of our brother, there to remain till the last trumpet shall sound, and earth and sea yield up their dead. Though it may, in the past history of our race, have been perverted at times into an ensign of oppression, and crime, and wrong; though it may have been made the emblem of fraud, and superstition, and moral darkness, yet its significance still remains as the badge of a Christian warrior. It calls to mind Gethsemane and its sorrowful garden; the judgment-hall of Pilate, and the pitiless crown of thorns; Golgotha and Calvary, and their untold agonies, that fallen man might live and inherit everlasting life. If an inspired Apostle was not ashamed of the Cross, neither should we be; if he gloried in the significance of the truths it shadowed forth, so ought we to rejoice in it as the speaking witness of our reliance beyond the grave. May this hope of the living have been the anchor to the soul of our departed brother—the token to admit him to that peaceful haven "where the wicked cease from troubling, and the weary are at rest."

RESPONSE. Amen, and Amen, and Amen!

The Prelate then casts the Cross into the grave, and continues:

PRELATE. The orders of Christian Knighthood were instituted in a dark period of the world's history, but their mission was high and holy. To succor and protect the sorrowing and destitute, the innocent and oppressed, was their vow and their life-long labor and duty. For long, long years, they well and nobly performed their vows, and did their devoirs. In those rude ages the steel blade was oftener the arbiter of justice, than the judgments of judicial tribunals, or the decrees of magistrates. So long as the Templars adhered to their vows of poverty, they were virtuous and innocent, and their language was, in truth, "Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have, give I unto thee." But, with the accession of wealth and civil power, they were tempted and fell from their high estate, and their possessions attracted the cupidity, and their prowess incurred the hatred of the despots of those times. When the martyred De Molay had perished, and the Order was proscribed, they united with the fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons, and returned to their primitive simplicity of manners; and a rough habit, coarse diet, and severe duty, was all that was offered to their votaries.

In our land we have perpetuated only the distinctive rites, with the appellations and regulations of the defenders of the Holy Sepulchre—the early champions and soldiers of the Cross—and this as a guerdon of merit, not a badge of rank. The sword, in our hands, is more as a symbol of the duties we are vowed to fulfil, than as an instrument of assault or defence. We claim to exercise practical virtues in the holy bonds of our confraternity, in humble imitation of those renowned knights of the olden time; for there is still, in this refined age, innocence to be guarded, widowed hearts to be relieved of their burdens, and orphanage to be protected from the chill blasts of a wintry world. And to be true and courteous is not limited to any age or clime.

Our brother, whose cold and lifeless remains have just been committed to the earth, was one of our fraternal band, bound by the same ties and pledged to the same duties. To his bereaved and mourning friends and relatives, we have but little of worldly consolation to offer, but we do tender to them our heart-felt sympathies. And if the solemn and interesting ceremonies, in which we have been engaged, have not pointed to them a higher hope and a better consolation, then all our condolences would be in vain.

Sir Knight companions, let us pray:

Almighty and most merciful God! we adore Thee as the Sovereign Ruler of all events, both in time and for eternity. As it hath pleased thee to take from our ranks one dear to our hearts, we beseech thee to bless and sanctify unto us this dispensation of Thy providence. Inspire our hearts with wisdom from on high, that we may glorify Thee in all our ways. May we have Thy divine assistance, oh, most merciful God! to redeem our misspent time; and in the discharge of the important duties Thou hast assigned us in our moral warfare here below, may we be guided by faith and humility, courage and constancy, to perform our allotted pilgrimage acceptable in Thy sight, without asking a remission of years from Thee. And when our career on earth is finished, and the sepulchre appointed for all the living receives our mortal bodies, may our souls, disengaged from their cumbrous dust, flourish and bloom in eternal day, and enjoy that rest which Thou hast prepared for Thy good and faithful servants in Thy blessed Asylum of peace beyond the vails of earth. All which we ask through the mediation of our Redeemer, King of kings, and Lord of lords. Amen!

RESPONSE. Amen, and Amen, and Amen!

E. COMMANDER. Attention, Sir Knights:

The lines are then formed, and the Cross of steel made over the grave, and the following HYMN is sung:

When the matin-notes are ringing, Cheerfully from mount and dell, Strength for warfare still is springing From Thy name, Emanuel.

When some deed of empire sharing, Deeds like those traditions tell, Prompts each Knight to noble daring, 'Tis for Thee, Emanuel.

When the storm-clouds darkly lower On our pathway dark and fell, Knights heroic will not cower, Cheered by Thee, Emanuel.

When death's fearful damps are stealing, And is breathed the last "Farewell!", All the brighter world revealing, Thou shalt come, Emanuel!

The Sir Knights may then escort the friends of the deceased to their home, or return to their Asylum, as may be expedient.
